SIMMONS BEDS Built for Sleep

No matter how simple or how elaborately furnished the bedrooms of your home may be—there is a Simmons Bed of a design and finish that will harmonize with it. Artistic beauty, refinement of design and elegance of finish characterize every number. Simmons steel beds, in either "twin" or "double" widths, are masterpieces of beauty, and unlike beds of wood, they cannot warp, become loose jointed or noisy. They are strong, correctly proportioned, serviceable, thoroughly sanitary and 100% comfortable. Let us show you these new designs.

ANNUAL SCHOOL MEETING ON MONDAY

Meeting of New Building and New Grounds Discussed—New Teachers Selected

The annual school meeting, Monday morning opened with record attendance of about 60 rate-payers. Last year about 12 men gathered to do business for a district with a valuation of over $60,000. Generally before that some one had to rustle up enough rate-payers to make a quorum.

W. D. Keith was elected chairman and business was pushed along quite expeditiously up to the point of discussion on repairing the old school house and building an annex or a new building and new grounds.

When the minutes of last meeting were read and approved, the Secretary presented the Financial Report as follows:

Cash Received
Sal from Sec. Cameron	47.55
A County drafts	185.96
2 Garden grants	20.40

Bank balance 4.87

Grand total $4,404.75

On hand 75.00

Mr. W. D. Keith explained that he had been elected auditor at the last meeting but later on had been appointed by the Trustees Board as their Secretary. He therefore tendered his resignation as Auditor, which was accepted.

Meantime, in order to have the books audited Vernon Nodden, had been selected by the Trustees as Auditor, subject to the approval of the annual meeting. The appointment was confirmed and his report being ready was read and approved, as was also that of the Secretary.

W. D. Keith was re-elected trustee for another year term, the other members of the board being E. C. Morgan, chairman and C. E. Ridout. A. W. Kyle was elected auditor.

The secretary estimated that $4,100 would be required for teacher's salaries and at least $900 more for current account. Therefore $5,000 was ordered assessed on the District this year, with the usual 10 per cent tax.

The minutes of the special meeting, June 7 were read and also a report of the committee appointed at that meeting. A motion was passed by that committee as follows:

"That sufficient accommodation for the children requiring extra rooms be secured elsewhere for the present, and that no money be spent on the present building other than that required for cleaning and putting into fit condition for occupation for a time all to be done with the view of erecting a new building subsequently."

After a good deal of discussion this report was adopted.

Last year the war veterans were granted the privilege of building on the garden lot. Objection was taken to this as the district might wish to erect the school house there. A motion finally passed the understanding that war veterans would be given a chance on any new grounds acquired.

After much speech-making pro and con the following motion was passed:

"That the Trustees be instructed to consider the whole question of a new school building, location, plans and cost, employing an architect and such assistance as may be necessary, calling a special meeting and submitting a report when requested in Writing by 15 rate-payers of the district."

The school board has selected Miss Winifred Clark of St. Stephen as principal for the next year. She has had eight years experience, more than 4½ being in high school work. She holds 1st class superior in N. B. with certificates of physical training and school gardening, 1st class in Alberta and high school in Maine. At McAdam, where 6 teachers are employed she very successfully taught as principal for 2½ years, spent one year west, taught French and Mathematics at Bluehill Me., and was also principal at Flagstaff, Me. Last year she taught French and Mathematics in Calais Academy. She had arranged to take a special course at Toronto University during holidays, but finding that Latin was not on the list she had already begun work at another college looking toward a B. A. degree. Graduating from St. Stephen high as Valedictorian of her class she spent the next year at grade XII work, being to young to attend Normal. She comes highly recommended by inspectors, school supt. and trustees and writes "I wanted the extra study on some subjects to help me in my this fall" and "am already planning to increase the interest of the Hartland pupils, that their ambition and enthusiasm may be aroused." We aim to make Hartland a real educational centre for the surrounding parishes and would like to see 15 or 20 good students come in, in order that the interest in the work may be kept to the very highest standard.—The Secretary.

HARTLAND POOL YIELDS 25 POUNDER

Many Big Fish are Being Landed From the River Every Day.

During the past week or ten days the fame of Hartland Salmon pool has been greatly augmented. Nearly a score of very fine fish have been landed, and many more, including of course, the very largest got away. In the present low state of the river, however, a much larger fish than that however, a much larger fish than that landed on Saturday by George Boyer could not readily make its way up the stream without doing itself grievous bodily harm on the rocks of the river bottom. This particular fish weighed close to twenty-five pounds and was forty three inches in length. The guide with the monster landed it in less than three hours. This is the first season that George has landed.

The veteran fisherman, Peter Boyer, has landed at least three salmon, one of which weighed 16.12 pounds, while Roy Clark has landed two, one of which weighed 21.14 lbs.

Every day sees a line-up of placid anglers along the shore who are meeting with greater or less success. The fame of the Hartland pool is spreading. A well known druggist of Fredericton was here a few days ago and booked a beauty with almost his first cast. The local sportsmen who try their luck within a stones throw of the Post Office get more and bigger salmon than those who travel all the way up to the Miramichi.

It was noted that fishing continued all day Sunday which is illegal, and if continued will likely result in trouble for some one.

SPIRITUAL CONFERENCE OF METHODISTS IN OCTOBER

Plans are being made by the Methodists of the Woodstock District, comprising the circuits of Woodstock, Jacksonville, Lindsay, Centerville, Andover, Canterbury, Debec, Florenceville and Hartland to hold a Spiritual Conference at Hartland on Wednesday, October 19, at which 100 lay delegates from the various churches are expected to attend.

A program for the morning, afternoon and evening is being arranged and addresses will be given by the lay delegates and prominent speakers from outside the district. The musical program will be under the direction of the Rev. Chas. Flemington, Andover.

RUM RUNNERS BUSY ON MAINE BORDER

Big Smuggling Operation in Progress on Friday

Houlton, Me. July 11—Another thrilling chapter has been written in the crusade against rum-runners now being written in Aroostook county.

Early Friday morning officers at Monticello attempted to stop a car carrying contraband. The car did not obey orders and 21 revolver shots were exchanged, the men in the car starting the fusillade which was answered by the officers. No one was injured. Other officers stopped the car and a battle with clubs ensued. One of the occupants of the car escaped by flight into the woods; the other was captured. A second car closely following the first, turned and escaped after an exciting chase by the officers to Canadian territory. The officers brought to Houlton their captures, a Hudson speedster, 1920 model, 275 quarts of Canadian whiskey and one prisoner who gave the name of Bill Lisotte and his residence as Arcadia, a small place above Carleton Place. These are the main facts of a very sensational affair.

All night Thursday until 2 o'clock Friday morning a number of officers awaited rum runners at Lowell hill, at the entrance to Monticello village. It is not disclosed if they had information of the coming of liquor cars or if they were merely waiting developments, but there they were when the car came at about 2 o'clock in the morning, hastening along at a swift pace.

In the official party were Deputy Sheriff James Ross of Monticello, Deputy George Graves and his son and Passmore of Monticello, customs house representative. Two of the officers were stationed at the top and two at the bottom of the hill.

As the car approached the officers at the bottom of the hill called upon the driver to stop. The response was a volley of bullets from an automatic revolver. The officers returned the bullets as the car went by and 21 shots were exchanged but with no fatalities and no one wounded.

The car, however, was stopped by the deputies at the top of the hill who leaped aboard the running board and were met by clubs in the hands of the two occupants of the car. A sharp struggle ensued which was ended when one of the men was overcome the other leaping from the car and escaping by flight in the woods, pursued at the time being useless.

The man who was captured refused to answer questions beyond giving his name of Bill Lisotte. He was considerably injured by the clubbing he received and was taken into a neighboring house where his wounds were washed.

A search of the car disclosed 275 quarts of Canadian whiskey which was taken to Houlton.

Things happened rapidly for hardly had the first car been sighted when another was soon coming rapidly behind the first. The second car was halted at the sound of the shots. The car had just come down an incline and was backed rapidly up the hill and away from the advancing deputies. The driver turned at the top of the hill before the deputies giving chase in their car could overtake him.

Then a dizzy race ensued. The cars were travelling, according to the deputies 60 miles an hour clip and the fugitive smugglers succeeded in holding their own until they reached the Bloomfield road, leading into Canada, and about six miles from where the chase started.

After the fugitives reached Canadian soil the officers relinquished the pursuit.
