The Farmer's Corner.

Hints for Work.

Leaves from the Woods furnish excellent litter. It is the safest bedding for brood sows, and for the lambing pens, as the weak young animals are not entangled in it as in straw. Leaves should be raked up in heaps in the woods, or stacked, for drawing home at leisure.

Swamps that have been cleared may be burned over now, where necessary. The fire should be begun on the side away from the house, and it may be kept under control and safe. When setting fire to a clearing, notify the neighbors, else you may be liable for damages to their property.

Rubbish of All Kinds, not adapted to the compost heap, should be burned. No weeds in seed should go into a compost. Few seeds are killed by any heat that can be produced by fermenting manure.

Repairing of Buildings is to be attended to: with glazed doors tightened, roofs made whole, and ventilators put where needed. It is a good time for painting out-buildings. A mixture of boiled and raw linseed oil, and mineral paint of a dark red color, is cheap, serviceable, and attractive.

The Barn-yard should be cleaned up and a heap made of all the manure in it. This will ferment, and be the nucleus for a large pile of well-decomposed material in spring. A quantity of warm, moist dung will soon start a heat in a new pile, and will act as a leaven to spread the fermentation, which may be kept up through the coldest weather.

Live Stock needs special care just now. The weather is changeable, and protection from sudden storms is imperative. Good food, plenty of pure water, cleanliness, dry bedding, and abundance of pure air, will promote comfort and health.

Working Horses.—New grain is not wholesome for horses, especially new corn. Let horses that are still at pasture have some dry food at least once a day to prepare them for the regular winter feeding.

Milking Cows are now taken up from grass, well fed, and permitted to take on some fat, which will enable them to stand the coming cold weather with comfort. A cow in full milk ought to eat, at each meal, half a bushel of moistened cut clover, hay, or corn-fodder and 2 quarts of mixed corn and oat meal and midlings or bran, besides a picking of dry hay at noon. A safe rule is to feed a cow all that she will eat up clean.

Sheep.—As soon as the teeth begin to fall, the animal—whatever it may be—past a profitable age. The sheep go down hill fast. Weed out the flocks, and keep only thrifty sheep over winter.

The Lambs should be protected from cold storms, if older sheep have to rough it. As long as the skin is dry, a sheep can stand a great deal of exposure, but lambs can not. These should now be separated, and penned by themselves.

Fattening Pigs ought to be pushed rapidly now. The profit is in selling pork early, thus saving a month of the most expensive feeding, when half the food goes to keeping up warmth in the body instead of into fat. With corn at present rates, pork though low, is still profitable.

Young Pigs.—Leaves are the best bedding. A stove in the pigsty, and a warm blanket for the sow, may save a litter in cold weather. In arranging a pigsty this should be considered.

Sundry Matters.—Wood cut and split now will be dry in a month. Dry wood, neatly piled under shelter, is a family peace preserver. Clean up and burn all rubbish; bones, old barrel hoops, boots, etc., should be thus disposed of. Put empty barrels and boxes, etc., in neat piles, in neat piles and cover them. Get ready for the winter and the snow by leaving nothing "lying about loose." Clean out the cellars, drains and gutters. Get up timber by making posts and rails in stormy weather. Be careful of lights. The safest oil is kerosene which will not take fire and explode if the lamp is upset. Avoid the low priced oils, and use only the best, which give the most light for the money, and are cheapest as well as safest. Keep insured, and then be careful.—American Agriculturist.

Sure Cures.—Fellows' Dyspepsia Bitters are a sure cure for Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Jaundice, Bilious Complaints, Bad Breath, Sick Head-Ache, Heartburn, Acid Stomach, Diarrhea and all diseases, having their origin from Costiveness or Bad Digestion. Price 25 cents.

For the Little Folks.

Can You.

Can you make a rose or lily, just one?
Or catch a beam of the golden sun?
Can you count the rain-drops as they fall?
Or the leaves that flutter from tree-tops tall?
Can you run like the brook and never tire?
Can you climb like the vine beyond the spire?
Can you fly like a bird, or weave a nest,
Or make but one feather on robin's breast?

Can you build a cell like the bee, or spin
Like the spider, a web so fine and thin?
Can you lift a shadow from off the ground?
Or see the wind, or measure a sound?
Can you blow a bubble that will not burst?
Can you talk with echo and not speak first?

Oh, my dear little boy! you are clever and strong,
And you are so busy the whole day long,
Trying as hard as a little boy can
To do big things like a "grown-up" man!
Look at me, darling! I tell you to be true,
There are some things you never can do.

The Child's Pocket Etiquette.

Ten Commandments.

The following article, by George Francis Train, was originally published in The Revolution about three years since. It is too precious to be forgotten, and we hope our young readers will commit it to memory and practice its precepts:

1. Always say, Yes, sir. No, sir. Yes, papa. No, papa. Thank you. No, thank you. Good-night. Good-morning. Never say How, or Which, for What. Use no slang terms. Remember that good spelling, reading, writing and grammar are the base of all true education.

2. Clean faces, clean clothes, clean shoes, and clean finger-nails indicate good breeding. Never leave your clothes about the room. Have a place for everything and everything in its place.

3. Rap before entering a room, and never leave it with your back to the company. Never enter a private room or public place with your cap on.

4. Always offer your seat to a lady or old gentleman. Let your companions enter the carriage or room first.

5. At table eat with your fork; sit up straight; never use your toothpick, (although Europeans do), and when leaving ask to be excused.

6. Never put your feet on cushions, chairs or table.

7. Never overlook any one when reading or writing, nor talk or read aloud while others are reading. When conversing listen attentively, and do not interrupt or reply till the other is finished.

8. Never talk or whisper also at church or other public gathering; and especially in a private room where any one is singing or playing the piano.

9. Loud coughing, hawking, yawning, sneezing, blowing, is ill-mannered. In every case cover your mouth with your handkerchief, (which never examine—nothing is more vulgar, except spitting on the floor.)

10. Treat all with respect, especially the poor. Be careful to injure no one's feelings by unkind remarks. Never tell tales, ridicule the lame or the colored, mangle the unfortunate, or be cruel to insects, birds, or animals.

GRAY'S HEADQUARTERS.—"Why do we say in the Lord's Prayer, 'Who art in Heaven,' since God is everywhere?" asked a clergyman of some children.

For a while no one answered; at last seeing a little drummer-boy who looked as if he could give an answer, the clergyman said:

"Well, little soldier, what say you?"

"Because it's headquarters," replied the drummer.

For public speakers or singers, Gray's Syrup of Red Spruce Gum will be found invaluable in preventing that dryness of the mouth and throat complained of by those who have used the ordinary cough lozenges or troches. John Andrew, Esq., Professor of Elocution, Montreal, remarks that it has been of essential use to himself, and that he has on many occasions induced public singers to use it, who have invariably expressed themselves delighted with its effect upon the voice. nov. 20.

MANUFACTURER OF STEAM ENGINES & BOILERS.

GANG AND ROTARY SAW MILLS.
Gang Edgers, Shingle Machines, and General Machinery.

SOLE MANUFACTURER OF
POND'S WISCONSIN
Patent Rotary Saw Carriage.

This invention pronounced the "Pond's Rotary Saw Mills" is destined to sweep all rivals from the field. Interlocking hook and lever dogs are used, by which the logs are dogged and canted automatically. The Head Blocks are fitted with sliding racks, which move forward and back, and by this means, long sweeping logs can be sprung straight, and tapering logs can be cut to the greatest possible advantage. When the log is sawed, the head blocks are run back by friction ready to receive another log as the carriage is returning. The whole of this work is performed by a man who rides on the carriage.

This mill has shown itself in actual competition, capable of rivaling one of the best Gang in New Brunswick, and cutting ready for edging a log per minute.

The Right to Manufacture and Sell this mill in the Dominion of Canada, has been purchased by the subscriber, and he is prepared to furnish the same to any person who may be desirous of communicating with him.
