A donation to the Rev. Mr. Steeves took place at the temperance hall, Lower French Village, on Thursday evening. There was a large attendance and a sum of $42 was raised. Rev. Mr. Steeves has been holding special services at Kingsport for the past three weeks and has been meeting with great success.

St. Dunstan's Total Abstinence Society has now a membership of over seventy, and has elected the following officers for the current term: John Toomey, president; J. Val. Magee, 1st vice-president; Chas. McGinn, 2d vice-president; Peter Hughes, recording secretary; John Cain, financial secretary; A. Chasman, treasurer; Chas. Campbell, sergeant-at-arms.

Judge Van Wart was holding court at St. John Thursday, when notified of C. S. Ingraham's serious illness, and he immediately adjourned the court, returning to the evening train. He was soon at the bedside of his friend, who was able to recognize him. Judge Van Wart was very visibly affected by the sad circumstance, and deeply feels the loss of his life-long friend.

Major W. D. Gordon, of the R. R. C. I. has been gazetted to the brevet rank of lieutenant colonel and is receiving the congratulations of his friends. Col. Gordon has been a resident of this city since the establishment of the R. R. C. I. in 1884, and is deservedly popular with all classes of the citizens. He is an excellent officer and everybody will be glad to hear of his promotion in rank.

The Boston Courant of March 19th has the following reference to a young man formerly a resident of Fredericton and secretary in the R. R. C. I.: "Speaking of enterprising young men, the case of Medley Coniff, this city, does credit to his race. Mr. Coniff owns a large number of shares in the Bay State Gas Co., shares in the Sugar Trust Co., and a large number of mining stocks. He is a quiet, unassuming gentleman, but evidently has an eye to business. Such men are a credit to the city."

An interesting contention.

There is likely to be considerable difficulty over the application of the bicycling and boating club for the lease of land on the bank of the river opposite the Parliament buildings, for the erection of their proposed new building. It is stated that J. H. Inches, Postmaster Hilyard and others object to the erection at that point, and are looking up authorities to sustain their contention, and certify them in attempting the removal of D. G. George's office and lumber shed from the same locality. The club feel confident that if they can secure a lease from the city council, no obstacle which their opponents can put in their way will prevent the erection of the building where they desire it. The matter will come before the City Council Tuesday evening, and considerable interest attaches to its outcome. Members of the club claim that they have eight of the ten aldermen favorable to giving them the lease. There is likelihood anyway of a legal fight over the question.

Robbery at Oak Hall.

Another robbery was committed Tuesday night, Oak Hall, the general mercantile establishment of C. H. Thomas & Co., being the scene of the depredation. Entrance was gained through a cellar window in the front, and the loss to the firm probably runs up to $100. The cash register containing $11 was broken into and rifled, and the robbers helped themselves to coats, hats, pants, collars, neckties, jewelry and a $25 watch, the property of Herbert Logan, one of the clerks. They took all they could conveniently carry and left by the back door. There is no clue to the identity of the burglars.

VERY SUDDEN DEATH.

Or C. S. Ingraham, a Well Known and Popular Citizen of Fredericton.

The sudden death of C. Sidney Ingraham, for many years a prominent and popular resident of Fredericton, will be heard with sincere and heartfelt regret wherever the deceased was known. Mr. Ingraham was taken by a severe cold early last week which continued to him to his room at the Queen hotel, but fatal results were not feared until Thursday morning of this week, when he was suddenly taken very ill. Dr. Partridge was called and he found congestion of the lungs developing very rapidly. Everything possible was done to stay the progress of the disease, but without avail, and Thursday afternoon all hopes of the patient's recovery were abandoned. Mr. Ingraham's brother, Chas. B. Ingraham, of Woodstock, and his sister, Mrs. Chas. A. McKenney of the same town, arrived Thursday evening, and were with the deceased in his last moments. His suffering during Thursday was very severe, and he was conscious only at intervals, but his passing away was like falling into a gentle sleep. Two hours before his death messenger arrived, Mr. Ingraham was able to recognize his immediate friends, but could not speak to them. He died at 9:20 the same evening.

Mr. Ingraham was a native of Bear Island, Quebec, and was familiarly called, among his friends, "the old man." In his younger days he taught school successfully in this city; later he presided with firmness and ability over the civil court of the city, and afterwards for several years, he was the trusted confidential clerk and book-keeper with J. A. & W. Vanwart, firm and Judge Vanwart's appointment to the bench. Mr. Ingraham has been employed winding up the Judge's business in concert with A. R. Slipp. For many years Mr. Ingraham, or the "Judge," as he was familiarly called, was a well known figure around the Queen hotel where he boarded, and with every inmate of the hotel he was friendly and kind. He was a member of the highest esteem, he was held in the highest esteem. Mr. and Mrs. Edwards especially, are very much prostrated by the awfully sudden death of their old friend and patron, and ever since the sad event occurred, the flag at the Queen has floated at half mast in respect to his memory.

Mr. Ingraham was a man of most kindly and generous nature, and among his friends, warm in his attachment to his friends, and a bright, intelligent and genial companion. To his parents and his other near relatives, he proved faithful and generous in a most practical way. He had little thought for himself, but was ever ready to do a kindly act to others. He was never married, but the attention he would have shared with members of his own household, had he possessed such, was measured out with no stinted hand to those nearest and dearest to him.

The deceased was a member of the Masonic order and a prominent and attentive member of the Baptist church. It is understood he carried considerable life insurance—one policy in the Royal Arcanum for $5,000 payable to his brother, George Ingraham, of Bear Island.

The funeral will take place from the Queen hotel at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow, with interment at Forest Hill cemetery; services by Rev. J. D. Freeman. The Freemasons will walk in the procession as mourners without regalia.

The University Concert.

A very fair sized house greeted the University glee club and their friends who gave a concert in the city hall Thursday evening, and a very interesting and entertaining program was presented. The stage was very tastefully arranged in drawing room style, and the costumes worn by the ladies who took part in the attractive and varied program, were of the most artistic and beautiful.

The glee club, composed of a score of the students, and answering to the score of Prof. Stockley, gave a number of selections in excellent style. Miss Radcliffe rendered a piano solo with her usual artistic style. Miss Macdonald, Miss Missie of Amherst, Mrs. Q. S. Crockett, A. E. Massie and H. V. Bridges sang solos, and were all excellently well.

Miss Missie and Frank Cooper, Prof. Downing and Mr. Bayfield, gave duets and an orchestra composed of the Misses Tibbitts, Perkins, Purdie, and Messrs. Crowe, Buchanan Arnold and Bayfield, gave two selections, all of which were well received by the audience. Mr. Bridges was in exceptionally good voice and received one of the most enthusiastic encores of the evening. Mr. Massie also sang above his usual good standard, and was one of the favorites with the audience. Miss Missie who has so kindly assisted in many entertainments during her visit here, sang very sweetly both in her solo and in the duet with Mr. Cooper, who has a rich bass voice, of compass and strength. The accompaniments were faultlessly played by Miss Perkins.

Altogether the concert was a very successful and pleasing affair. Once or twice the gallery gods broke the restraint, and by adjourned the court, returning to the evening train. He was soon at the bedside of his friend, who was able to recognize him. Judge Van Wart was very visibly affected by the sad circumstance, and deeply feels the loss of his life-long friend.

For some months past efforts have been made to organize a Y. M. C. A. in this city, and apparently the scheme is now likely to be brought to a successful issue. On Monday evening a mass meeting was held in the city hall to forward the object, and the audience heard some interesting addresses. Governor Fraser presided. There was music by a select male choir, and the speakers were Rev. J. D. Freeman, Rev. Dr. Brockton, Secy Williams of the St. John Y. M. C. A., and Rev. Dr. Bruce, a Presbyterian clergyman from the same city. The last named described the aims and objects of the Y. M. C. A., and illustrated in many ways its great value and beneficial influence to the entire community in which it worked.

The promoters of the association met at the city council chamber Wednesday evening and after electing Dr. Barbour president, appointed A. L. Lemon, J. J. Weddall, H. C. Creed, R. Blackner and R. E. Bagnall, all of the same city, to constitute the other officers whose names will be submitted at another meeting to be held at the same place on Monday evening next.

Effect of Matter on Mind.

[St. Andrews Beacon.]

The effect of matter on mind is being very clearly exhibited in the case of the Fredericton Gleaser. A few years ago no language was so strong to use in denouncing the iniquities of the N. P. and the corruption of the Tory government. Now that the Minister of Finance has entered the County, and Mr. Gibson, the Nashwaak millionaire, has taken him under his sheltering wing, a change has come over the spirit of his dreams, and no words can be found sufficiently powerful to describe the blessings of protection or the excellencies of the Tory party. The Herald has been comparing some of the Liberal offences of the Gleaser with its latter-day efforts, and they certainly afford a very interesting example of what influence a certain kind of matter can have upon a certain kind of mind.

Those Wicked Tories.

[Fredericton Gleaser, Dec 21, 1884.]

From the day of the accession to power of the Tories, our annual expenditure has been on the increase, economy has given way to expenditure and good government to mal-administration and boodling. * * * The Tories in eight years have increased the public debt by $100,000,000, as against the Liberal increase in five years of $7,230,000. Let our readers keep these facts in mind.

Don't forget the special sale of dress goods and grand opening at Tennant, Davies & Co., of ladies' capes and jackets, commencing Wednesday, April 3d.

PRESENTATION.

Rev. Dr. Partridge friends regrets his Removal to Fredericton.

Rev. Canon Partridge who is coming to Fredericton next month as sub-dean of the cathedral, was honored by members of his church at Halifax the other night. The Herald's report says: "St. George's hall was well filled with members of St. George's benefit society and their guests, who assembled to celebrate the very handsome anniversary of its existence. After a substantial supper, the company adjourned to the upper room of the parish who presided, referred in his opening remarks to the universal regret expressed in consequence of Dr. Partridge's departure; not only would the society and the parish suffer, but also the church in Nova Scotia as well as the community at large. His estate, the returning president might long be spared to visit them from time to time, was applauded to the echo. Dr. Partridge then invited to the platform, when D. H. Whitson read an address, and presented a very handsome silver shield richly embossed with a cross of gold. The reply was given with much feeling and listened to with rapt attention. Then followed a very attractive program in which the young men of the society took part, being ably assisted by members of St. Mark's young men's society. Speeches were made by Dr. Jacques and Messrs. Whitson, Colquhoun and Bartow, all of whom testified to their worthy president's invaluable services. Rev. Mr. LeMoine spoke of his indebtedness to the rector of St. George's for many kind offices for the cathedral, which he was glad thus publicly to acknowledge. He likewise dwelt upon the loss which the church in Nova Scotia would sustain, and said that the diocese of Fredericton was to be congratulated. After a long and warm session, which was sung with much feeling, and God Save the Queen, the benediction was pronounced. The occasion will long be remembered as a happy and most unimpaired with sadness and regret."

A Pointer for York.

[Pion Gleaser, Nov. 21, 1884.]

Capital is always at war with labor, seeking to get the advantage. Laborers complain that the laws are made in the interest of capital. It is true, and the interests of capitalists are to be protected, in whose interest are the laws likely to be made? [Mr. Foster is the nominee of Capitalist Gibson.—Ed. Herald.]

MISS CROW'S TRAVEL TALK.

An Interesting Entertainment for Monday Evening.

The ladies of St. Paul's Church Working Band have secured Miss A. Crowe, of Toronto, to give her travel talk in the Old Kirk, Monday evening, and they should have a full house. Miss Crowe has travelled nearly all over the Maritime provinces, and everywhere has been greeted with warm audiences. Noting her appearance in St. John the other evening, the Telegraph says: "There was a large and appreciative audience assembled in the Methodist school room of St. Andrew's church last evening to hear Miss A. M. Crowe, the talented young Nova Scotian, on her travel talk. Miss Crowe described her tour in a very interesting and amusing way, and was formed by her, and under the management of the best tourist firm of Henry Gaze & Co., of New York and London, last summer. The lecture was most interesting, realistic, and exceedingly interesting. By the aid of a magic lantern Miss Crowe presented to her audience beautiful and life-like views of the various cities visited, including the great capitals of England, Scotland, Belgium and France, together with the world renowned abbeys, cathedrals, palaces and castles throughout those countries.
