A Variety of Cases Dealt With by the P. N.

In Halliday in a Destructive Mood—Two Alleged Musicians Let Off—A Night Gown Thief Sent Down.

Ina Halliday, Timothy Sullivan, Arthur Johnston, Charles Council and Ted Dehorney were the five birds in the cage at the magistrate's court this morning. They were tough and tender cases, colored and white offenders, while age and youth were about equally divided.

Halliday, after he was brought to the station, amused himself with tearing down the pictures and the electric lights in the jail corridor. Not being able to give P. C. Berryhill the worst of it, he vented his spite in this manner.

"Halliday," said P. M. Parke, "were you drunk?"

The prisoner—Well, I had a few glasses of beer. I was going home for my dinner, and I wasn't the worse of liquor.

The P. M.—You are charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Halliday—I didn't make no noise.

Magistrate—You didn't $10 or twenty days. There is another charge against you—that of malicious damage to property. You are charged with breaking things around the station.

Prisoner—I didn't break anything.

P. C. Hobbins was called and stated that the cells and furniture were in good shape when the prisoners went into the corridor yesterday afternoon. Prisoner was remanded until next Wednesday on this second charge.

"Sullivan, you are charged also with tearing down the fixtures. Stand up."

Sullivan stood up, exposing a scalp wound, which was excellent evidence that he had run his head against P. C. Weir's baton. Sullivan and Halliday were arrested together, and each were charged with the same offense.

Lawyer Dignan appeared for Sullivan and pleaded not guilty. He said he understood the prisoner was not drunk, that he had been in Halliday's company, but was in no way to blame. He had been used in a very brutal manner, and intended to offer this evidence. He said he had been told that the policeman struck the prisoner on the head when he was lying down on the sidewalk.

Chief Williams—Did they tell you the policeman was underneath?

This case will come up tomorrow.

George Dehorney and Charles Council are colored men, who came in last night on a freight train and were arrested for vagrancy. Dehorney wore a pair of slippers about 14 inches long and 5 inches wide—just his fit, exactly.

"You are charged with vagrancy," said the magistrate, half inclined to smile, as the odd pair stood up.

"Where did you come from?"

Dehorney was spokesman, and said: "I am a native of Virginia, but came from Chicago, and my partner from Kentucky. We want to make Montreal."

The P. M.—What do you do?

Dehorney (in great earnestness)—Charles, he plays de bones an' de harp, an' me, I's a kind of a singer and flute player.

They were discharged to go east, but when they left the doorway of the central station Dehorney's flute proved to be a 5-cent tin whistle, and Council's harp a bootblack's kit.

Alfred Johnston and a youngster aged 12 years, were arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives Nickle and Egerton. It was stated they went about 6:30 yesterday morning to the premises of Mrs. Sarah Hamill, who lives at the corner of St. James and Richmond street, a poor, widowed washerwoman, and stole two nightgowns valued at $5 each, the property of an invalid at St. Joseph's Hospital. The boys took the clothes, in a wet condition, and carried them to the house of a friend, a Mrs. Corbin, on College avenue. Her house was searched and the stolen goods found in a flour barrel, under the flour. They were brought to the station all caked with flour. Johnston was arrested in front of Col. Macbeth's place on Sydenham street, where he stood guard while the youngster was sent in for apples.

The P. M.—Johnston, you are charged with stealing two night-dresses from Mrs. Hamill. Do you elect to be tried before me or before a jury?

Prisoner—Before you.

The P. M.—Are you guilty, or not guilty?

Prisoner—Guilty.

The P. M.—You know what that means?

Prisoner—Yes, sir.

Walter Bowers, arrested yesterday for being drunk and disorderly, was discharged.

The court was then cleared and a juvenile court held, at which the youngster was remanded. But Johnston was given nine months in the Central Prison.

LIFE OF GLASS EYES.

Attention, the greatest manufacturer and dealer in glass eyes in Europe, has recently interviewed. He says that England alone consumes 50,000 glass eyes annually. A good English glass eye will last about a year and costs $5. Glass eyes of German and French make are cheaper, but will not stand wear so long as the English. The greatest destroyer of the glass eye is the salt contained in the tears; its caustic action upon the glass has up to this time baffled all human invention.

Grand Trunk Magnates Expected in London Today.

Toronto Employees May Be Moved to Stratford—Interesting Rumors.

Regarding the rumor telegraphed from Toronto to the effect that G. T. R. employees in Toronto may be moved to Stratford, the Globe today says: "While the rumor cannot be confirmed, it is pretty generally believed among the Grand Trunk employees that something of the kind is in the wind, and great uneasiness exists among the men employed in the shops. The Grand Trunk workshops employ a large number of hands, and those men who would be continued in the service of the company would be forced to remove to Stratford, while a considerable amount of money now spent annually in Toronto would be lost to the city. What lends color to the story is that Mr. F. H. McGulgan, general superintendent of Mr. F. W. Morse, superintendent of motive power, and Mr. E. H. Fitzhugh, the new master of transportation, have been for several days past inspecting the company's works at Toronto and outside points. The party left this morning for London, where they will meet General Manager Hays, who is on his way back from Chicago. If there is any intention of removing the workshops from Toronto it will probably be announced after meeting of these gentlemen at London."

Messrs. McGulgan, Morse and Hobson passed through London yesterday, and are now in Windsor with General Manager Hays. They are expected to return this afternoon to London. Mr. Fitzhugh is at present in the city. It is likely the party will inspect the site of the new car shops here, and they will leave later in the day for Stratford.

Caught in the Gale.

A Toronto Couple in a Perilous Predicament.

Reported Drowning of Two Boys at Port Hope.

Special to the "Advertiser."

Toronto, July 23.—Last night Mr. Darby and Miss Jennie Thompson went out in a small rowboat. When about four miles from the shore they were caught in one of the fiercest gales of the season, and all the efforts of Darby to row ashore were unavailing.

A rescue party started to relieve the couple, but when about five miles out it was evident that the small rowboat was being driven swiftly toward the American shore, and the rescuers hastily succeeded in reaching this city.

All night the little skiff with its frightened occupants was tossed on the turbulent waves, and the occupants, now 25 miles out, had given up all hope, when they were rescued by the steam barge Canastota, and landed at Port Dalhousie, whence they were brought to this city.

A report comes from Port Hope to the effect that two boys were upset in the small and crowded boat, and that Geo. and John, the children, who went out in a rowboat, are believed to have been drowned several miles from shore.

BASEBALL. DUKES IN THE CANADIAN LEAGUE.

The Canadian League have for some time been anxious to have a club to represent Toronto, but it was not thought it would prove profitable while the professionals were there, but since their transfer to Albany the Dukes have taken up the matter, and in future will be a member of the Canadian League, which, however, will require to be sanctioned at a meeting of the league, to take place in a few days.

The Dukes will play the Maple Leafs of Guelph, at the Toronto ball grounds on Monday, and will journey to Hamilton on Tuesday next. On Friday, July 21, the Hamilton club will return the visit. It is understood that in the event of the Dukes going into the league, that these games, which will be played before the league meeting, will count as if their entry had been ratified. There is, however, little doubt but that they will be welcomed with open arms, as overtures from all the different officers of the western clubs have been made. The game on Monday next with the Maple Leaf champions will give Toronto the first opportunity of seeing their representatives in the Eastern League.

When Adam Was a Boy.

This was years ago, for Adam has been dead quite a while, though to be sure he has left a progeny that keeps up pretty well the family characteristics. There are wise men today who delve into the misty past and tell us all sorts of things, but they are silent on those events that would make Adam interesting to the modern man. What did Adam do when he ran a silver under his finger nail? Had he to take measles and whooping cough? If he had corns did he cut them with a razor or did he stretch forth a hand in the future and get a bottle of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor? Putnam's is the best, is sure, safe, painless, and acts in 24 hours.

THAMESVILLE.

Thamesville, July 23.—All the pupils who wrote at the recent examinations from our school were successful. Following are the names: Leaving—Arthur McGeachy, Olive Lewis, Edith Thompson, Edwin McGeachy, Entrance—K. Duncan, Tom Syer, Carroll Scott, Garnet Hubbell, George Coult, James Ferguson.

Master Carroll Scott left for Ingersoll yesterday to spend the remainder of the holidays with friends in Oxford.

Thomas Crowl visited at Mrs. Minshall's this week.

ARKONA.

Arkona, July 21.—Dr. Wilber Henderson, of Port Huron, paid a visit to his brother, Fred, this week.

The Arkona young people will be sorry to learn that the school is about to lose two of our most popular boys—Ed and Vaughan McDonald, of McDonald & Sons' firm. They expect to go to Petrolia in about two weeks, where they will open a gent's furnishing and clothing store. They have our good wishes and we hope to see them do a thriving business. In order to partly fill their places in the store here, Reginald Chester, of Sarnia, brother of A. J. Chester, has been employed.

Look out for the lecture in the Methodist Church on Friday evening next in connection with the I. O. G. T.

On Thursday last a number of the ladies with their baskets wended their way to the home of Mrs. Betsy Knisley, where they gave the old lady a very pleasant surprise, it being her birthday. Mrs. Knisley is 80 years old. She was suffering slightly from the effects of a cold, otherwise she seemed in very good health. The ladies furnished a sumptuous tea, after which all bid farewell to Mrs. Knisley, wishing her many happy birthdays.

M. Dunlop has now started work on his mill, and has also opened a flour and feed store in the rooms under the Oddfellows' Hall.

LAKE SHORE—BOSANQUET.

Lake Shore, Bosanquet, July 23.—The Indians on Kettle Point have some fine fields of oats—better than they have had for years. They are doing well with their berries under their new plan of charging white pickers one dollar for a family ticket for the season. The whites who intend to toll among the wilds of the reserve in search of the berries are thus thinned, while those who pay come out with huge pails and baskets, intending to have "full measure, pressed down, shaken together, and running over."

The Methodist Indians have made full preparations for a tremendous "go" on the 22nd inst. A brass band (Indian) from Sarnia and the one from Kettle Point will doubtless so charm the audience that they will put their hands down deep into their pockets and with the proceeds of the dinner, etc., surely the debt on the organ in the Methodist Indian Church will be no more.
