It shall be the duty of such collector of inland revenue to bring such prosecution, whenever he shall have reason to believe that any such offense has been committed, and that a prosecution, therefore, can be sustained, and would not surject him to any undue measure of responsibility in the premises.

Collectors of inland revenue are Dominion officials. The Dominion statute defines their duty under the Scott Act. Why didn't the Dominion Government see to it that these collectors performed their duty, instead of throwing the responsibility upon Mr. Mowat? Did any one of the inland revenue collectors ever seriously attempt to secure a conviction for violation of the Scott Act? Did the Minister of Inland Revenue ever spur up his subordinminon omeials. AFTER THE TRIAL. George Freeman Becomes Excited at a Religious Service—Notes irem a Chathamite's Fencil.

The Freeman brothers, now in jail here awaiting removal to Kingston, from what can be learned were prominent members of the church in Raleigh township, George Freeman being a class leader for many years. Since their removal to this city the brothers have spent a large portion of their time in reading the Bibleand praying—infact, they were almost continually thus engaged excepting when out for exercise. On Sunday, as is always the case, religious services were held in the jail, and Mr. Fred Matthews was conversing and reading with George and William Henry. Both prisoners felt their position keenly, sobbing and moaning all the time so loud that they? could be heard up stains. George became excited, and jumping from his seat, ran around the corridor, saying "I'm going to glory!" The jailers heard him, and going below thought there would be some trouble in removing him to the cell, but on being importuned he quietly granted their request. In course of conversation, alterward the unfortunate George said that he knew perfectly well what he had done, but said he could not restrain himself as it was due to the excitement brought on by the service.

Have You Neuralgia?

If you are suffering the agonies of nearralgia, and have failed to get a remedy that will afford relief, we want you to try Polson's Nerviline. No remedy in the market has given anything like the same degree of satisfaction. Its action on nerve pain is simply marvelous, and as it is put up in 25 cent bottles no great expense is involved in giving it a trial. Polson's Nerviline is the most pleasant, powerful, and certain pain remody in the world. Sold by druggists and all dealers in medicines, 25 cents a bottle.
