

IN MOURNING.

people clothed in the tents of woe.

of the Queen-Dowager Natives to wear for a period of three years.

in mourning? Twelve women and children...

Great Britain's Financial Condition - The Governor of the Bank of England Talks.

He Says the People are Poorer Than They were Last Year, but Wiser.

LONDON, August 8.—The Governor of the Bank of England, William Lidderdale, has consented to make a statement to the public in consequence of the alarming stories in America and on the continent...

It is quite untrue that any important banking house is in danger...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

The result of the great losses in South America and elsewhere has been to bring people to their senses...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

TEA The Royal Colonial Institute 16 Strand London Eng. R. H. JAMESON 33 FORT STREET.

Three Centrist

TEA Try our New Sea-Tea. The finest of all Teas grown. All packages branded "R. H. J." R. H. JAMESON 33 FORT ST., RED FRONT.

VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1891. VOLUME XXXIII, NO. 37.

NO FEAR OF A PANIC.

Great Britain's Financial Condition - The Governor of the Bank of England Talks.

He Says the People are Poorer Than They were Last Year, but Wiser.

LONDON, August 8.—The Governor of the Bank of England, William Lidderdale, has consented to make a statement to the public in consequence of the alarming stories in America and on the continent...

It is quite untrue that any important banking house is in danger...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

The result of the great losses in South America and elsewhere has been to bring people to their senses...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

It is not true that the Bank of England is in a position to discontinue the grants to evicted tenants...

A DARING DESPERADO.

He Robbed a Bank in Ohio, Shot the Cashier and Two Outsiders.

After Securing a Large Amount of Money He Escapes from the Town.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 8.—A special to the Evening Dispatch from Lima, O., says: One of the boldest bank robberies and murders ever perpetrated in this section of country, occurred, this morning, at Columbus Grove, a town of about 2,000 people, twelve miles north from here. Cashier Maple had just opened the Exchange Bank and laid out $3,000 near the cashier's window. About 3:30 o'clock, a man appeared in the door with a revolver in each hand. He immediately began shooting. Cashier Maple was struck twice, once in the arm and once in the right side.

By the fall to the floor an old farmer, William Vanderbrake, aged 60, under the door, having come to get the money for some hogs he had just sold. The robber turned and shot him. He received a serious wound, and it is feared that he can not recover. A third man sat in the lobby of the bank, paralyzed with fear. He was not molested. The desperado then grabbed $2,600 in greenbacks, shoved them into the pockets of his coat and darted out the door, shouting, "I'm a second Jesse James."

Quite a crowd had been attracted by the shooting, but there was a scattering when the wild-eyed murderer appeared on the street, waving a gun in each hand and shooting indiscriminately. One of the bystanders, Henry Buck, was struck down by a bullet from one of the revolvers.

The desperado is described as short and heavy set, with a full face and a small black mustache. He appeared to be about 30 or 35 years of age, and of any race, and was dressed in a suit of dark clothing.

A posse was quickly organized and started in pursuit. Another posse started from West Cairo. All this time the sheriff and chief of police were organizing an armed force to assist in the search. If found the fellow will be shot down like a dog.

A big reward is offered for the capture of the robber.

JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL'S DEATH.

The Last Words of the Poet were: "Oh, Why Don't You Let Me Die."

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—At the mansion of the Elmwood estate, where Lowell died, there were no members of the family, today, but the daughter and son-in-law of the poet. His body lies in the sleeping apartment where the last hours of his life were spent. His death was extremely peaceful.

Although it was known that he could not live much longer, the suddenness of his death was rather unexpected. The transition from sleep to death was so easy that for a few moments nobody in the room observed that he had ceased to breathe. His eyes were wide open, and he seemed to be gazing away with only a heavy sigh to indicate the separation of the soul from the worn-out body.

The poet was taken sick about five weeks ago. About two weeks of these he was in a state of delirium, and on Monday he recovered consciousness only to die a few days later. He gave members of the family signs of recognition on a Monday afternoon, when his nurse, Margaret, was attending to him. He was then in a delirious state, and he said, "Oh, why don't you let me die?" These words were his last. He seemed from that time to lose heart, and gradually his life faded away. It continued in a comatose condition until 2:15 o'clock this morning, when the last spark of his life went out. Beside him in his last moments were his daughter, Mrs. Estlin, his son-in-law, Mr. Eliot, and his wife, Mrs. Estlin, as well as the nurse and servants of the household.

Lowell himself never inquired as to the nature of his malady. From inquiry it has been ascertained that he suffered almost constantly of late, and that sciatic hemorrhages and, latterly, a severe type of liver disease had in turn afflicted him. The family physician, Dr. H. C. Wood, has been attending to him since his return to this country in 1888. After concluding his diplomatic services abroad, a year and a half ago, his condition became serious and a fatal termination was feared, but he then had a chance of recovery. Mrs. Burnett, his only child, has been with him constantly. She is his only near relative, except a brother, whose whereabouts is unknown.

The funeral will be held Friday, at 11 o'clock, in the Elmwood church, Cambridge. It will be officiated by Bishop-elect Phillips Brooks will officiate.

Concerning Lowell's death, Bret Harte has written as follows: "To my mind, an American in the frank admiration and loving appreciation of Lowell's intellect and character, I have to add my own expression of sorrow at the loss of one of the most fastidious and cultivated of our poets. He was a man of the gentlest yet manliest critics."

GREAT FIRE IN PORTLAND.

Kelly, Dunne & Co.'s Oil Storehouse and Zan's Broom Factory Burned.

PORTLAND, Aug. 12.—A fire occurred, early this morning, in the oil refinery and storehouse of Kelly, Dunne & Co., corner of Eleventh and K streets, completely destroying the building and contents. When the fire had almost burned out flames issued from the broom factory of Zan Bros., one block away, and soon this building was a mass of flames. Fortunately there was no wind and the fire was confined to the factory, which was also destroyed. The loss is estimated at $120,000. Kelly, Dunne & Co. estimate their loss at $40,000, and Zan Bros. place theirs at $75,000.

It is supposed that the fire is the work of an incendiary. Oil was found on a wood pile at St. Vincent's hospital, and it is supposed that some one was also preparing to fire the hospital, which contained 150 patients, one-third of whom are helpless. Several houses in the vicinity were badly damaged. The oil from the warehouse flowed through the streets like water.

Kelly, Dunne & Co.'s insurance is $22,500. Zan Bros.' insurance is about $41,000. The risks are distributed among twenty different companies.

Barth Marshall.

KING ST., Kingston, says: "I was afflicted with chronic rheumatism for years and had numerous operations without success, but by the use of a bottle of Burdock Blood Purifier I was entirely cured. My blood is now pure and my health restored. I can testify to the truth of the above named facts and can certify to the facts as stated." L. W. Wade, Druggist, Kingston, Ont.

UNCLE SAM TAKES ACTION.

Particulars of the Seizure of the Pacific Mail Company's Steamship City of Panama.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Edward Lantieri, attorney for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, explained to a reporter yesterday the attempted seizure of the City of Panama by the authorities of Salvador, as follows: The boats of our line from Panama to Acapulco, in Mexico. They call at Corinto, in Costa Rica, at La Union, La Libertad, Acapulco, in San Salvador, and at San Jose de Guatemala, in Guatemala. On the last trip from Panama, six passengers, political refugees, were taken aboard at Corinto, bound for San Jose. Among the refugees was General Lateno, who was wanted by San Salvador. On the arrival of the City of Panama at La Union, a demand was made for the surrender of General Lateno and his friends. Captain White refused to surrender her passengers. The authorities then refused to give him clearance papers, and, after waiting 27 hours, he proceeded to La Libertad. There he was met by the authorities of the company at Acapulco, saying that the governor of that city intended to seize General Lateno and his companions, and had a large force of soldiers under arms awaiting the arrival of the City of Panama. Then Capt. White, not wishing to have a repetition of the Barrundia affair, took the matter into his own hands, and proceeded directly to San Jose, where he will probably be held for some time. This matter will be gone into fully, and I think I can give you the assurance that no further attempt will be made to molest or murder political refugees while on the protection of the American flag. President Harrison, to whom I presented the matter on Wednesday, took great interest in my statement of facts, and at once communicated with Secretary Olney, relative to the subsidy of the City of Panama, which the latter received are not known to me.

A special to the New York Times from Washington says: "The state department still withholds any detailed information about the seizure of the City of Panama, and the departure for Honduras and Acapulco, but it is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two, no matter what the result of the negotiations between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. It is not without indications of serious trouble over the seizure of the City of Panama, or of war between the United States and the Republic of El Salvador. The state department has no information as to the hostilities reported pending between Guatemala and San Salvador, nor of any circumstances which would lead to hostilities. In the meantime, Secretary Tracy has been in telegraphic correspondence with the assistant secretary at the Navy Department, and orders have been sent to the United States to the Charleston, and also ordering the Pensacola to be ready for sea. It is possible the latter vessel will be sent down to San Salvador in a day or two,