Ryan's Intentions. NEW YORK, Jan. 22.-Paddy Ryan said

esterday: "I am anxious to face Sullivan with bare knuckles in a prize ring, Jimmy Patterson will back me. If I can't arrange such a fight, I will fight him with hard gloves, but it must be to a finish." Ryan says he will fight no one but Sullivan. He is going to Chicago soon to sell his business there, after which he intends to open a saloon in New York.

Teemer to Gaudaur and Ross.

Bosron, Jan. 18 .- John Teemer, the McKeesport sculler, in a letter to the Herald, says he is prepared to enter a sweep-stake race with Gaudar and Ross, the winner to take all, or he will leave the question of the division of stakes for them to decide. Teemer says: "The coming summer will be my last season of rowing [intend to abandon the business."

General Notes. The next United States incollegiate egatta will be held on Lake Quinsigamond, near Worcester, Mass. Sullivan, according to custom, went running away with him, he was thrown out and badly injured.

bught to be called to a statement in Mr. The Scott Act. Davitt's book as to the means employed at Hamilton Times: The supreme court - convict prison" (which must mean has decided that while Sir John Macdonald cannot interfere with the provinces in regard to the licensing or regulation of the traffic, it devolves upon the dominion gov-ernment to provide for the enforcement of the Scott act. Chatham) for detecting prisoners who are believed to be simulating lunacy. Accord-ing to Mr. Davitt, a mess-tin full of filth is put into the prisoner's cell at dinner time, and if he does not eat this filth it is and if he does not eat this hith it is assumed that he cannot be mad, and he is reported to the governor for a flogging. Now this, if true, would be simply mons-trous. Everybody having experience of the insane is aware that certain lunatics are extremely fastidious and suspicious about their food. It is only in the last Toronto's New License Commissioners. It is currently reported in the city that Hughes, Wm. Adamson and Edward

Lawson have been appointed Ontario liquor license commissioners for the current year, An Ignoble Noble Family. The earlof Wilton, who died the other day, was an inconspicuous member of a family that was seated in Chester by William the Conqueror. During the eight centuries and more of its existence the Egerton family has not produced one eminent man or done one useful thing for the country, if we except the duke of Bridgewater, who has been styled the Father of British Inland Navigation. The only memorable event chronicled in its annals is a patient struggle, lasting two centuries, to obtain the ancient barony of Wilton—the title family has not produced one eminent man or done one useful thing for the country, if we except the duke of Bridgewater, who has been styled the Father of British Inland Navigation. The only memorable event chronicled in its annals is a patient struggle, lasting two centuries, to obtain the ancient barony of Wilton—the title merely.
