

UNABLE TO WALK FOR A YEAR

Paralysis Entirely Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives"

The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

"Paralysis is a break-down of the Nervous System and affects the victim in various ways. Sometimes, nervousness makes itself known by hysteria, insomnia, constant headaches, or it may be so bad that one is partially or completely helpless in some part of the body, just as Mrs. Heacock was."

SAULT STE MARIE, ONT.

"When I was twenty-eight years of age, my doctor advised me to have an operation, which I did and it proved very serious, leaving me weak and unable to walk for a year. Seeing your 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised in the papers, I decided to try them. I continued to use them regularly, and today I am able to go about my home duties and care for my family."

MRS. J. W. HEACOCK.

Any form of Nervousness is often caused by, and is always aggravated by, Constipation, which poisons the blood, irritates the kidneys and inflames the nerves. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulates the action of liver and bowels, kidneys and skin—tones and sweetens the stomach—keeps the blood pure, and builds up the entire nervous system.

In a word, "Fruit-a-tives" has proved that it is the most scientific and effective remedy in the world for Nervousness or a disordered condition of the nervous system.

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in a paste form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contains certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence healing.

The worms that infest children from their birth are of two kinds, those that find lodgement in the stomach and those that are found in the intestines. The latter are the most destructive, as they cling to the walls of the intestines and if not interfered with work havoc there. Miller's Worm Powders dislodge both kinds and while expelling them from the system, serve to repair the damage they have done.

CAST

The auctioneer glanced at his book, "Number 29," he said, "black mare, aged, blind in near eye, otherwise sound."

The cold rain and the biting north-east wind did not add to the appearance of Number 29, as she stood, dejected, listless, with head drooping, in the center of the farmers and horse dealers who were attending the sale of cast army horses. She looked as though she realized that her day had waned, and that the bright steel work, the soft, well-greased leather, the snowy head-robe and shining curb were to be put aside for less noble trappings.

She had a curiously shaped white blaze, and I think it was that, added to the description of her blindness, which stirred my memory within me. I closed my eyes for a second and it all came back to me, the gun stuck in the mud, the men straining at the wheels, the shells bursting, the reek of high explosive, the two leaders lying dead on the road, and above all, two gallant horses doing the work of four and pulling till you'd think their hearts would burst.

I stepped forward and, looking closer at the mare's neck, found what I had expected, a great scar. That settled it. I approached the auctioneer and asked permission to speak to the crowd.

"Well," he said, "I'm supposed to do the talking here, you know."

"It won't do you any harm," I pleaded, "and it will give me a chance to pay off a big debt."

"Right," he said, smiling, "carry on."

"Gentlemen," I said, "about a year ago I was commanding a battery in France. It was during the bad days, and we were falling back with the Hun pressing hard upon us. My guns had been firing all the morning from a sunken road, when we got orders to limber up and get back to a rear position. We hadn't had a bad time till then, a few odd shells, but nothing that was meant especially for our benefit. And then, just as we were getting away, they spotted us, and a battery opened on us good and strong. By a mixture of good luck and great effort we'd got all the guns away but one, when a shell landed just in front of the leaders and knocked them both out with their driver; at the same time the gun was jerked off the road into a muddy ditch. Almost simultaneously another shell killed one of the wheelers, and there we were with one horse left to get the gun out of the ditch and along a road that was almost as bad as the ditch itself.

"It looked hopeless and it was on the tip of my tongue to give orders to abandon the gun, when suddenly out of the blue there appeared on the bank above us a horse, looking unconcerned down at us.

"In those days loose horses were straying all over the country, and I took this to be one from another battery which had come to us for company.

"I turned to one of the men. 'Catch that mare quick.'

"In a few minutes we had the harness off the dead wheeler and on the newcomer. Pull? Gentlemen, if you could have seen those two horses pull!

"We'd just got a move on the gun when another shell came and seemed to burst right on top of the strange mare. I heard a terrific squeal, and through the smoke I saw her stagger and with a mighty effort recover herself. I ran round and saw she'd been badly hit over the eye and had a great tearing gash in the neck. We never thought she could go on, but she pulled away just the same, with the blood pouring off her, till finally we got the gun out and down the road to safety.

"I got knocked out a few minutes later, and from that day to this I've often wondered what had happened to the mare that had served us so gallantly. I know now. There she stands before you. I'd know her out of a thousand by the white blaze; and if there was a doubt there's her blind eye and the scar on her neck.

"That's all, gentlemen; but I'm going to ask the man who buys her to remember her story and to see that her last days are not too hard."

She fell at a good price to a splendid type of West country farmer, and the auctioneer whispered to me, "I'm glad old Carey's got her. There's not a man in the county keeps his horses better."

"Old Carey" came up to me as we were moving off. "I had a son in France," he said, "in the gunners too; but he hadn't the luck of the old mare,—he hesitated a moment and his old eyes looked steadily into mine—"for he'll never come back. The mare'll be all right sir," he went on as he walked off, "easy work and full rations. I reckon she's earned them."—London Punch.

NEW COURT SCHEDULE FOR COUNTY JUDGES

By virtue of the amendment to the county judges' Act, passed in 1921, by which the counties of Middlesex, Lambton and Oxford were amalgamated for purposes of administration of justice courts, a calendar of division courts has been arranged, by which Judge Taylor, of Lambton, will take a number of London sittings and Judge Judd will occupy the bench at several Lambton sittings. No arrangements have yet been made as far as Oxford county is concerned.

Judge Taylor will preside at six division courts in London during the year and Judge Judd will take four division courts in Sarnia, two in Petrolia and two in Watford.

Arrangements as to a circuit of county courts have not been completed. It is likely that there will be exchange of courts during the year, however.

WINTER WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Our Canadian winters are exceedingly hard on the health of little ones. The weather is often so severe that the mother cannot take the little one out for an airing. The consequence is that baby is confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms; takes cold and becomes cross and peevish. Baby's Own Tablets should be given to keep the little one healthy. They are a mild laxative which regulate the stomach and bowels and thus prevent colds. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CHURCH SERVICE BY WIRELESS

The Herron Avenue Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh has been without the services of a regular pastor for some time. One or two members of the congregation being wireless enthusiasts, got into touch with a well-known electrical company in that city and asked it to install a small receiving outfit in the church so that the congregation could hear the service conducted in Calvary Episcopal Church. This was done and a set consisting of a loop antenna, a condenser and amplifier, was put upon the rostrum directly in front of the pulpit where the preacher was wont to stand. The horn stood on the pulpit.

The congregation gathered and waited in expectant mood for the transmission of the service from the other church. Very clearly and distinctly the music of the Calvary choir was received, then the voice of the rector in preaching his sermon. During this transmitted sermon intense interest was maintained at the Herron Avenue Church, so distinctly was the message received. Perhaps in the future a great preacher will deliver his sermon to thousands gathered in many churches by the aid of wireless.

An accident which might have resulted much more seriously, occurred at the Canadian Oil Company's refinery at Petrolia on Saturday last, when William Smith, fell off the still on which he was about onto a pile of bricks and broken cement work. His left arm was broken in two places above the shoulder and also suffered a compound fracture.

Sunday morning G. F. McVittie, Wheatley, found the front door of his store had been forced open some time during the night and a quantity of gents' furnishings and clothing stolen. The safe contained no money so had not been locked.

PRINTER WAS PEEVED

Charley Harris, in the printing business, got slightly peeved at a letterhead from a doctor who wanted bids on several thousand letterheads, different sizes, different grades and different colors, and wanted the printing form held standing. So Charley took his typewriter in hand and wrote:

"Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis. One, two or five-inch incision—with or without ether, also with or without nurse. If appendix is found to be sound, want quotations to include putting same back and cancelling order. If removed successful bidder is expected to hold incision open for about sixty days, as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gall-stones at that time and want to save the extra cost of cutting."—Kansas City Post.

ENGLISH AS IT SOUNDS

Said Mrs. A., one of the over-hearers: "They must have been to the Zoo, because I heard her mention a 'trained deer.'"

Said Mrs. B.: "No, no, they were talking about going away and she said to him, 'Find out about the train, dear.'"

Said Mrs. C.: I think you are both wrong. It seemed to me they were discussing music, for she said, 'a trained ear' very distinctly. A few minutes later the lady herself appeared and they told her of their disagreement.

"Well," she laughed, "that certainly funny. You are poor guessers all of you. The fact is, I'd been out to the country over-night, and I was asking my husband if it had rained here last evening."—Boston Transcript.

IMPORTANT JOB

Little Edward was a clever lad and most anxious to succeed. He got a job in a local bank and it seemed to his liking.

One day a wealthy uncle met him on the street and asked: "Well, Edward, how are you getting on in business. I suppose the first thing we know you will be president of the bank."

"Uncle," said Edward, "I am getting on fine. I am draft clerk already!"

"Draft clerk!" exclaimed the uncle, astonished.

"Yes," continued Edward, "I open and shut the windows according to order and close the doors when people leave them open."

cases ended in death! So a recent Canadian investigation showed. These were not cases of infectious diseases—of consumption—of typhoid! They were cases where a person had sustained some slight injury—a cut, a burn, a wire-prick—and where the wound, being thought not serious enough for careful treatment, had been neglected. Blood-poisoning and death resulted. When you or your children sustain any injury, ensure against infection by applying Zam-Buk. This balm soothes the pain, stops bleeding, and by destroying all germs prevents blood-poisoning, etc. Hence no time need be lost from work or pleasure by those who use Zam-Buk. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a tonic and Blood Purifier, and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.
