Lawrencetown—The Annapolis County Baptist Quarterly Meeting convened at the Melvern Square Baptist Church on Monday evening.

Mr. W. Brown, pastor of the Post George Baptist Church, presided at all the sessions, except Tuesday evening, when Rev. G. C. Durkee, of Clementsvale, acted as chairman.

On Monday evening Rev. J. W. Messinger, the newly settled pastor of the Nictaux Baptist church, was introduced and delivered a discourse on the subject, "The Life That Lifts," in which he clearly showed that such a life must be sympathetic, prayerful and spiritual and does not depend upon wealth or social position.

At the Tuesday session the report on Denominational Funds, presented by the Secretary, Rev. A. Gibson, of Annapolis, showed a total of over $2,000 raised, or less than half the amount allotted to the churches of the district for the year ending July 31st, but the prospect is favorable for raising their respective allotments.

At the session a paper was read by Miss Mary Anthony, of Bridgetown, on "The Value of the Baptist Young Peoples' Union as a School of Training for our Young People." Miss Anthony's paper was followed by another on "Young Peoples' Work" by Miss Lula Harnish, of Greywood.

Another paper on the subject of "The Bible and Our Young People" was prepared by Mrs. W. S. Smith, of Paradise, and read by Rev. P. R. Hayden, of Bridgetown. The writer urged a more thorough and systematic study of the Bible by the young people.

The following officers were re-elected—Rev. M. W. Brown, D. D., President; Rev. G. C. Durkee, Vice-President; Rev. A. Gibson, Secretary. Additional members of the Executive—Rev. W. S. Smith and Frank Smith.

The remainder of the afternoon session was given over to the County Women's Missionary Aid Society. Mrs. M. B. Whitman, of Margaretville, presided; Mrs. E. H. Freeman, of Lawrencetown, acted as Secretary.

At the evening session, Rev. W. C. Machum, Baptist Young Peoples' General Secretary, delivered an address on the subject, "The Relation of the Church to the Young Peoples' Movement." Mr. Machum stressed especially the need of the right kind of Christian leadership for the young people of today, and emphasized the fact that the young people of today, morally, socially and spiritually, were fully up to the standard of former years.

Resolutions were passed expressing confidence in and pledging support to Rev. H. R. Grant, D. D., and Rev. A. J. Presser in the field of social and moral reform, and regret that legislative action had not been taken with regard to abolishing the export liquor houses of Halifax; also urging more thorough and systematic instruction in temperance principles in churches and public schools.

The next meeting of the District will be held at the West Dalhousie Baptist church on July 13th and 14th.

OBITUARY.

Acantha Maude Bent,

The death took place at his home in Tupperville on Monday evening of Miss Acantha Maude Bent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bent of Tupperville. She is survived by her parents, three brothers at home, Carl, Leon and Gerald, two sisters, Edith of Boston, and Mrs. Hush Porter of Woodville, Kings County. The deceased was a bright girl of studious habits and of pleasing personality and her parents have the sincere sympathy of many friends in the loss of a daughter at so early an age. The funeral takes place on Friday afternoon, and services will be conducted by Rev. J. H. Freestone.

Dr. H. W. Kirkpatrick of 317 Barrington St., HALIFAX, will be at his office in MIDDLETON

INTERESTING LIFE SKETCH OF ANNAPOLEIS CENTENARIAN.

Mr. Claude Royal—Looking like one of Sargent's "Prophets" with massive frame (over six feet tall) and snow-white beard, Edmund Clark, 103 years of age, gave The Herald the following sketch of his long and active life: "I was born in Granville, May 5th, 1822, three miles below Bridgetown, where I lived almost all my life, with the exception of about three months in St. Stephen, N. B., at work in a shipyard.

"My father's name was Robert Clark and my mother was Catherine Bohaker. I worked on the old covered bridge at Bridgetown, on the Upper Granville Methodist church, and Providence Methodist church, Bridgetown, and other smaller buildings, but most of my time was occupied in building ships with Wallace Fowler and "Gil" Chute and a foreman, whose name I have forgotten, as fellow workmen.

"One vessel, which I finished, was built at Marshall's Cove, now Port Lorne. She was named the "Hayward." A great crowd assembled to see the launching. The "Hayward" sailed for England. The pay for such work in those days was around $12 a month, half money and half trade at company stores.

"I was married when 24 years of age to Irene Walker, whose father was William Walker, and we celebrated our fiftieth anniversary some years before her death. We lived on the old Clark homestead on land my grandfather had purchased upon his arrival in Halifax, whence he had sailed in his own vessel from England, bringing his motherless children with him, my mother having died just before his departure.

"For a great many years I had care of the poor. After the erection of the County Home, I became the keeper of that institution where I was for 12 years, and for five years had charge of the Bridgetown Asylum.

"I then removed to my home, one mile from Bridgetown and after the death of my wife in 1905, my son William Clark, moving to B. C., I came to Annapolis to spend my remaining year with my daughter, Mrs. Fawcett Balcom. My son, Adam Clark, resides in Bridgetown. These are the remaining children of a family of eight.

"I feel deep in my heart the recent bereavement of my granddaughter, Mrs. Fritz Balcom. Unfortunately I have lost my eye sight and my hearing is not so good."

Note—His intellect is as keen as ever and local historians may glean many items from his wonderful storehouse of memories.—(Herald.)

VALEDICTORY BY LOCAL BOY

Mr. Maurice Armstrong, Graduate of Dalhousie, gives Fine Address at Convocation.

To Mr. Maurice Armstrong, son of Dr. M. E. Armstrong of this town and nephew of Premier Armstrong, was assigned the honor of delivering the Valedictory address at the Convocation at Dalhousie University when degrees were presented. The address was one of much merit and a splendid effort by our talented and popular young townsmen. He said in part:

"If we have learned anything at college it should be the smallness of our knowledge." It continued, "We have but torn the robe of truth and had but a faint taste of the mysteries of learning. In going forth from our college it should be our resolve to carry on our studies. We have had a liberal introduction to many subjects but for the most part only an introduction. Therefore, let us not cease to be students with our graduation, but continue diligently in our search after knowledge.

"It is but a step from this to our next duty. As college trained men and women, we have had a great advantage over the majority of our countrymen. We have gained an outlook on life and an insight into things which they can never have. Whole new worlds of interest have been opened up to us. These advantages must not be wasted. They place us in a position of responsibility; we owe certain duties to society. Never before has there been a time when the world needed strong, clear-thinking men and women more than it does today. There is a call for leaders and it is the college graduates who must answer this call. In all branches of commerce and industry, of science and literature, in the Church and in the State, men and women full of hope and optimism are needed.

"Canada, our own country, especially calls. She is still in her youth and is passing through trying times. In 1914 some of her bravest and best crossed the great sea never to return. It is up to us to fill their places. We can hear them speaking to us—some of them sons of old Dalhousie like ourselves—

"To you from falling hands we throw the torch, Be your to hold it high—"

Land of Opportunity. "Canada is a land of opportunity. The wealth of her fisheries, of her mines and her forests is untold. Her capacity for growth and improvement is unbending. If Canada is to grow into the strong, Christian nation we wish to see her, she needs the loyal support of every person here. Fame and wealth may be more quickly attainable beyond our borders, but the voice of our own country speaks first.

"As we draw near to the close of our college days and prepare to begin a new chapter in our lives, let us remember that the world is holding out a challenge to us. She is calling for earnest and sincere men and women who are willing to work diligently and unselfishly for her. Let us accept the challenge and invest our lives in the service of and for the betterment of our country and our fellow-men. True success and fame come not through selfishness but through self-sacrifice and service. We have finished our college education, but let us not sit with folded hands
