milk from Mr. Willis' Jersey herd is made into butter. The butter-making department is under the direct supervision of Mrs. Willis, who has a most enviable record as a butter-maker. During the fall fairs of 1898 she won no less than fifteen prizes for butter, and about all of them were firsts. Mrs. Willis ascribes her success in butter-making largely to the fact that strict cleanliness is observed in every particular from the care and milking of the cows to the sending of the butter to market. Since writing this we have learned that Mr. Willis has sold four fine yearling ewest to Mr. F. W. Hodson, Supt. of Farmers' Institutes for the Newfoundland Government.

ETRNANVILLE FARM ECHOES.

When you want new blood in your herd look for the best and don't allow five dollars to stand in the way of securing a superior animal, and, remember, some of the fellows now have smill herds have good ones. When you have a few good animals in hand, breed from three good ones you have been buying. And, don't be afraid to advertise. Just tell what you have and let the people know it. Intelligent buyers have good memories.

I desire to call attention to the value of these columns—Farming—weekly—Farming—remember, not mon hly or semi-monthly Farming, but weekly Farming, published four times a month and fifty-two times a year. As an advertising medium for reaching a class of buyers who themselves are breeders, and, when in want of an animal, are willing to pay a good price for what they want. For this reason you should not fail to keep your advertisement always before them.

tisement always before them.

Persiatic Hen-House Spray

Vermin is the most persistent enemy of the feathered stock. Keeps the fowl in had health, listless and drooping; destroying its good qualities for show, by or breeding purposes. Not much use in doctoring the fowl until the houses are in shape. Strike at the root of the trouble by keeping them in perfect sanitary condition with Persistic Hen-House Spray. No insects or lice can live after its application and one thorough dose lasts a long time. Keepsthe atmosphere pure and healthy, destroying disease germs and the had effects of gases, vapors, etc. Makes up for insufficient ventilation in the winter months.
