THE CHAMPAGNE STAKES.

LONDON, September 10.—To-day was the first of the annual fall meeting at Doncaster, and one of the annual fall meeting at Doncaster, and one of the most important events of the day was the race for the Champagne Stakes. As usual the field was small but very good, only five starting, with the betting to 4 against Lord Falmonth's Charibert, who won, 6 to 4 against Count La Grange's Rayon d'Or, and 8 to 1 against Mr. Cartwright's George Albert. A notable feature of the race is the close contest each year between the Falmouth and Lagrange youngsters. Lord the Falmouth and Lagrange youngsters. Lord Falmouth won in 1875 and 1876 with Farnese and Lady Golightly, and the last year Count Lagrange wou with the Clementine. The race is also looked upon, in connection with other races run later in the season, as a possible line for the Derby. The conditions of the race are as fullows:

Ine fifty-sixth renewal of the Champazue ne hity-sixth renewal of the Champagne otakes, for two-year-olds, at £50 esch, half for-feit; colts to carry 122 lbs, fillies 12.; the own-er of the second to save its stake; closed with 32 subscribers; value, £925; Red House mile, or 5 furloups and 152 yards. Lord Falmouth's ch c Charibert, by Thor-

THE WINKER.

Charibert was bred by Lord Falmouth and is a half-brother to Childeric, one of the favorites for the St. Leger, both being out of Gertrude, she by Saunterer, out of Queen Bertha, by Kingston, out of Flax (the founder of Lord Falmouth's stud), by Sarplice out of an own sister to Bay Middleton. Charibert made his debut in the July Stakes at Newmarket, when he ran fourth to Ruperra, Gunnersbury and Rayon d'Or. At Goodwood Charibert and Count Lagrange's Zut were the only starters for the Prince of Wales Stakes. The distance was a straight three-quarters of the Prince of the Charlet against three-quarters of the Charlet cornel. ters of a mile. Chambert carried 122 pounds and best Zut by four lengths. Charibert is very heavily engaged both as a two-year old and three year old. He is in the Middle Park Plate, to be run during the second Octobir meeting, and next year he will no doubt be found prominent for the 2,000 Guiness, Derby and St. Leger.

JANETIE AND CHILDERIC FIRST AND SECOND IN THE ST. LEGER.

LONDON. Sept. 11.-The Longaster meeting was continued to-day, the principal event being the one hundred and third renewal of the St. Leger Stakes, for three year olds. There was the usual large uttendance, especially of visitors. from the south of England, where the feeling amounted almost to a certainty that Lord Fal-mouth would would repeat his last year a success by winning with other Januette or Childeric. Januette was the favorite at 3 to 1 She won.

JUDGING AT FAIRS.

One of the most delicate, and at the same ing upon the most important duties devolving upon the management of an agricultural fair, is the selection of judges in the various classes of live clock. The position of a judge upon such an occasion, is at betta thankless one; for how ever conscientiously lie may perform his duties his decisions are likely to be sharply criticised and his motives impugned by unsuccessful exhibitors, and their partizans. This being the case, it is no wonder that men of character and position dislike to be placed in such positions and excuse themselves from zerving so long as as they can reasonably do so, and that the man-agement finds the most difficult part of their task in the selection of competent persons to make the awards.

The "professional juryman" has long been a standing nuisance in courts of justice, and he mitteeman at our agricultural fairs. He is al-ways in the way, ready to slip in to fill a vacancy at the least intimation that his services will be accepted. Sometimes, because by so doing he can secure a free meal ticket, but more frequent by because he has "an axe to grand manager. ly because he has "an axe to grind —some friend whom he wishes to favor. And so long as judges have to be picked up for the various classes, on the spur of the moment, so long are we liable to have these professional men-in-waiting thrust upon us.

The plan adopted for the various groups o The plan adopted for the various groups of live stock by the Ohio State Agricultural Society appears to us to possess many advantages, and is open to as few objections as any that can be derised. For each group, three judges are selected in advance of the fair men of acknowledged reputation and probity of character, whose awards will command the respect of the public, even should they fail to satisfy all the exhibitors, and their attendance is secured by paying them a reasonable compensation for paying them a reasonable compensation for their services. The three judges selected for each group make all the awards in all the various classes of that group—one committee passing on all the various classes of horses, another on all the classes of cattle, a third on sheep, and a fourth on all classes of swine. In addition, each fourth on all classes of swins. In addition, each committee is accompanied by a reporter, who is himself an acknowledged expert, as well as a ready writer, and it is his duty to record the observations of the judges upon all the animal exhibited that may be considered worthy of matter, and record the reasons that may be asby the judges for their decisions
