Dr. DANELSON'S COUNSELOR WITH RECIPES.

A TRUSTY GUIDE FOR THE FAMILY

An illustrated book of nearly 800 pages, treating Physiology, Hygiene, Marriage, Medical Practice, etc. Describing all known diseases and ailments, and giving plain prescriptions for their cure, with proper directions for home treatment.

The RECIPES are endorsed by eminent physicians and the medical press. Remedies are always given in a pleasant form, and the reasons for their use. It describes the best Washes, Liniments, Salves, Plasters, Infusions, Pills, Injections, Sprays, Syrups, Tonics, etc. These are valuable to the physician and nurse, making it a manual for reference.

The chapter upon POISONS is exhaustive, and every poison appears in the index, so that the antidote can be readily and, if need be, hurriedly found.

18 pages upon MARRIAGE treat the subject historically, philosophically and physiologically. It should be read by everybody.

67 pages upon HYGIENE, or the Preservation of Health; a chapter of inestimable value. "Everybody wishes to be healthy, and everybody, when they think of it at any rate, wishes to avoid such things as might bring disease and suffering."

80 pages are devoted to PHYSIOLOGY, giving an accurate and extensive description of the wonderful and mysterious working of the machinery within ourselves, correcting many popular errors, and marking vividly the stumbling blocks where most people, innocently or carelessly, begin to lose health. Truths are stated which to many will be surprising.

KEEPING out of danger.—A naval officer told a landsman that his father, grandfather and great-grandfather had all died at sea. "Then," said the landsman, "if I were you, I would never go to sea lest you should share their fate." "Well," said the officer, "where did your father and grandfather die?" "Why, in their beds, of course." "If I were you, then," said the officer, "I would never go to bed, lest you should share their fate."

WHILE Bishop Ames was presiding over a certain conference, a member began a tirade against universities and education, thanking God that he had never been corrupted by contact with a college. The bishop interrupted with, "Do I understand that the brother thanks God for his ignorance?" "Well, yes, you can put it that way if you want to." "Well, all I have to say," said the bishop, in his sweetest musical tone, "all I have to say is that the brother has a good deal to thank God for."

DEAR SIR,—My children were taken ill with ulcerated sore throats bordering on diphtheria. I had nothing in the house but Hagyard's Yellow Oil which I used with great benefit. I am sure if it had not been for it the disease would have developed into diphtheria. It is a splendid medicine.—MRS. E. CAMERON, Moore's Falls, Ont.

A LITTLE innocent misunderstanding is sometimes very useful in helping one over a hard place. "Mabel," said the teacher, "you may spell kitten." "K-double-i-t-e-n," said Mabel. "Kitten has two i's, then, has it?" "Yes, ma'am, our kitten has."
