A Grand Temperance Story

THE CRY OF THE TWO-THIRDS

By S. R. Graham-Clark

A GREAT STORY WITH A GREAT PURPOSE

The Christian Endeavor World says—

"The dramatic interest is intense. There are word-pictures that will blaze their way into the human conscience as the branding iron goes into the flesh.

"While the story grapples with the most gigantic problem of the century, it is far from being a sombre book. The skill and charm that have made the author's former works popular are strongly in evidence in this one. There are touches of child-life that melt the heart with delicious enjoyment. There are exhibitions of young manhood grand enough in their unconscious strength to make heroes bow to them."

A book for every family and every member of the family. As fascinating as it is powerful. Will be read and re-read, and shape character and conduct for life.

Cloth, $1.25 net, postpaid.
