

I do not see what harm could arise from obtaining an opinion from the Faculty about this matter at the present time. If it is not done now, it would be an embarrassing point to raise when a Dean was appointed.