NINE THOUSAND ORANGEMEN CELEBRATED VICTORY OF BOYNE

Toronto Parade Was Largest Ever Held — Ten Hundred Brethren of Hamilton Joined in Demonstration-Many References to Bilingualism and Ulster Crisis.

Toronto Orangemen again crossed the Boyne in memory when they turned out nine thousand strong with the addition of many visiting lodges, including a contingent from Hamilton, 1,000 strong, and marched from Queen's citizens and visitors to the city turned out the Exhibitor grounds of citizens and visitors to the city turned out the control of the city turned out the control of the city turned out the cit 1.000 strong, and marched from Queen's Park to the Exhibition grounds on Saturday. Altho the sun was broiling their enthusiasm was not shriveled and at the end of the long march many looked as if they would be at once able to undergo another lengthy parade. Headed by their bands the long line of lodges, designated by gorgeous banners and here and there by Union Jacks, presented a brave appearance, and testified to the strong hold their principles have on their minds and hearts. Ledges Had Bands.

Nearly all the lodges were preceded by music of some description. Save for a number of military brass bands hold their principles have on their minds and hearts.

It was a gallant demonstration. The men marched in good order, some in straw hats and business suits, others in silk hats and black morning suits. All wore sashes or badges of brilliant hue. Mottoes emblazoned on their banners declared for "no surrender," called for equal rights for all and no special favors for any, and asked them to remember the stirring deeds of their special favors for any, and asked them to remember the stirring deeds of their forefathers who had closed the gates of 'Derry and made history in a city the ramparts of which had been pronounced antenable by military experts. The fifes now in use have not the shrill shrieks of the wry-necked fifes of other days, but emit a softer, rounder note. This was remarked by many of the older spectators. The tunes that were played have also been altered. "Boyne Water" has been largely substituted by the "Red, White and Blue" and "Croppies Lie Down" by the "Maple Leaf for Ever," but they still cling to the "Protestant Boys." Scotch airs, probably thru the influence of the bagpipers, have also gained a considerable hold on the Orangemen. "The Campbells are Comin" and "Cock o' the North" were favorite tunes with some of the bands. The large number of the bagpipers in the parade also attracted the attention of many.

"One Language, One School." from Luke Dillon, alias Carl Dullman as he passed out of the big gate at the penitential; Saturday afternoon after life convict. Release came about after a fight lasting two years. He was the leader in the Welland Canai dynamite outrage of 14 years ago. Since May Dillon belonged to Philadelphia, Pa. and there was engaged in the shoeand there was engaged in the shoe-making business, and with two other men, Nolan and Walsh, he aimed to strike a blow at Canada on behalf of Fenian organizations in the United States. Their game went wrong and all three landed in the penitentiary. Dillon's plans were foiled, but had they been successful there would have been great loss of life and Canadian shipping would have suffered a great deal. After entering the penitentiary, Dillon declared his sole object in making the attempt on the canal was not to cause loss of life, but to deal a blow at England, which the Clan-na-Gael hates. "One Language, One School."

The processionists did not forget the home signification of the demonstration. "One language, one school" bore a prominent part in the mottees that were carried, and one lodge was preceded by a little "red schoolhouse" on wheele wheels.

At the Exhibition grounds a program of sports were run off and there was much speaking in the afternoon.

All the lodges assembled at previously designated quarters for luncheon.
