

NO MORE FREAKS AT FALL FAIRS

Customs Inspectors Ordered to Debar Them at Border Points.

IMMORAL SHOWS ALSO

Theatrical Performances of Which There is Doubt Will Be Stopped.

Hereafter all freaks are to be barred from Canada. Whether they are here for exhibition or other purposes makes no difference; the government has decided that foreign monstrosities must disappear.

William Banks, sr., the official censor, has had the subject under advisement for some time, and after prolonged consultation with Ottawa has received word from the department of immigration that the customs inspectors at all border points have been instructed that hereafter no freak of any nature calculated to put the eye of the spectator or offend the sense in any way must be allowed to enter Canada.

It will be remembered that a year ago the "Claret Flend" and a couple of other freaks were exhibited at the fair and were the cause of considerable complaint. But Mr. Banks did not have the Canadian National Exhibition in mind when he sent the first petition to Ottawa. In the west and down east many of these unfortunate human monstrosities have been coming across for the small fairs, and order that an end be put to such exhibitions he appealed to Ottawa, with the result that yesterday he received a communication to the effect that hereafter all such people will be denied entrance.

Barring Bad Shows.
Mr. Banks has also taken up the question of the entrance to Canada of immoral or indecent theatrical reproduction. His experience has shown that many such organizations have been able to appear at various cities throughout the province, and that they are denied permission to come to Toronto.

Many times in a season performers that have been prosecuted across the line come to Ontario and because of lack of censorship are allowed to appear at various points. Mr. Banks has been summoned to Ottawa to take up the matter with the government and next week will suggest that whenever he can produce documentary evidence to prove that certain theatrical organizations have been producing shows that are so offensive as to insult the taste of the States audiences they will be barred from Canada at the border points.

The official censor has found that burlesque troupes are not always the most serious offenders. For an example, one of Bernard Shaw's productions was submitted to him here last week, and he did not hesitate to condemn it. The same was true of the works of other producers, well known and otherwise.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Nine-Tenths of All Stomach Trouble Said to Be Due to Acidity.

A Physician's Advice on Cause and Cure.

A famous physician whose successful researches into the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have earned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lecture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach, which in turn was due nine times out of ten to acidity, or heartburn, when not irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach, but also set up gastritis and stomach ulcers. It is interesting to note that he condemned the use of patent medicines, as well as of medical treatment for the stomach, stating that he and his colleagues have secured remarkable results by the use of ordinary bisulphated macerals, which by neutralizing the acidity of the food, removes the cause of the trouble. He contends that it is as foolish to treat the stomach itself as it is to treat for a man who stepped on a tack and the foot will itself remove the tack and the foot will itself neutralize the acid and the stomach troubles will disappear. Irritating medicines and medical treatments are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach remain acid; remove the acid, and the inflammation of the stomach will then heal itself. Sufferers from stomach acidity, heartburn or indigestion should get a small bottle of bisulphated macerals from their druggist, and take teaspoonful in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after meals, repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary, this being a torpedo that the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases.

DERNBURG ATTEMPTED TO INFLUENCE PAPERS

Wanted London Times to Advocate
Abandonment of Arming Merchantmen.

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE TORONTO WORLD.

LONDON, June 28.—Mr. Jones, the London representative of The Sydney Sun, writes to The Times recalling a conversation which he had a year ago with Bernard Dernburg, in which the latter urged the abandonment of British policy of arming merchantmen. "It is a great mistake," said Dernburg, "to placate Germany by such an important policy. Luncheon was given by a representative of a 'great German shipping company in England' who has previously endeavored to get Jones to use his influence with the editor of The Times to induce that paper to advocate the abandonment of arming merchantmen, and also to get Jones himself to advocate it in the Australian press."

STONE'S MURDERER STILL UNREVEALED

Inquest Closes With Verdict
Blaming No Particular Person.

MAY BE ACCIDENTAL

Crown Attorney Hoped to Solve Mystery, But Completely Baffled.

By a Staff Reporter.

WHY? That William Stone Jr. came to his death on the morning of Dec. 11, 1914, at or near the Grand Trunk station, Whitby Junction, and that his death was caused by a bullet wound, but the evidence submitted does not justify us in attaching blame to any particular person. Such was the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury after 15 minutes' deliberation at the resumed inquest into the death of Stone. This closes up one of the most baffling cases that the provincial police have had to deal with for many years, and the verdict was the only one possible under the circumstances, it is far from satisfactory, as all thru the case evidence has been given in a reticent manner by the various witnesses.

Attorney Farewell, before the jury retired, said that he had hoped at this inquest to bring out evidence showing that Stone's death was caused by the accidental handling of a revolver in his or another person's hands, but the testimony was of such a nature that he was quite satisfied that every available clue had been followed up, so that the case could be left in the hands of the jury for them to bring in the verdict.

CHIEF WITNESS MISSING.

The principal witness, Henry Birmingham, was missing, and it is believed that he left Whitby on Saturday by boat, but as his evidence had not been received and signed, his non-appearance caused no complaint.

Thomas Tasker, the first witness called today, when questioned by Crown Attorney Farewell, denied that he saw Stone Jr. under the influence of liquor on the night of the murder, or that he told Detective Greer that Stone Jr. should be looked after.

"Did Stone ever mention his son's insurance to you, or that his mother would receive same?"

"Not that I remember."

Tasker gave his evidence in a reticent manner, and appeared to be trying to evade giving any information. Tasker did see Stone the night of the murder, said William Van Valkenburg, Grand Trunk baggage man, when he was called, so the constable brought Tasker back, but he still stuck to his previous evidence.

Van Valkenburg denied that he had ever seen any revolver around the place, but said, "I had one myself, and gave it to Birmingham and later I saw it in a drawer in Stone's office."

Van Valkenburg stated that Birmingham had been hanging around Stone's office for a few weeks ago.

The crown then asked whom Stone kept company with.

Miss Gormley, of Pickering, mostly.

"Was there a rival?"

"Not that I know of."

"Did Stone ever leave the station during the day?"

"No."

Here the crown attorney said, "We have information that he left it quite often," but witness denied any knowledge of it.

"On the night of the murder what time did you leave the station and who was there when you left?"

was the next question.

"Did Thompson ever say anything regarding Stone's visits to his house and was it not common gossip?"

"I never heard anything to that effect."

"Stone, who is my cousin," said Dudley Isaac, next witness, "came to me a week or more before his death and asked me if he wanted to purchase a revolver, but did not say what for."

Here the crown asked about the time before the murder and what happened.

Stone Put Drunk Man Out.

There was a drunk man and Stone put him out.

"Was there a revolver in the drawer that night?"

"No, and never saw one there."

The last witness called, John Goldring, stated that on the night of the murder about 1:10 a.m., he heard a shot, but he was too positive as to whether it was a torpedo that the section men had put on the track or a revolver shot.

DOMESTIC DRAMA OF THE OLD DAYS

Phillips-Shaw Company Present
"Woman Against Woman" This Week.

REVIVAL A SUCCESS

Famous Play Well Staged and Characters Given Splendid Interpretation.

The Phillips-Shaw Company scored another success at the Grand Opera House last night in the revival of "Woman Against Woman," a melodramatic play with public approval when produced by the Phillips-Shaw Company five years ago and continued a favorite theatrical offering for many years. The title of the play alone aptly describes the story, for it is in fact, an affair of woman against woman, one of whom is most happily married to a worthy man, the other, when the husband is in the case is madly infatuated with the husband, and in order to estrange him she resorts to every means at her disposal to make the husband believe that she is a selfish, heartless woman, of the world, of the type and nature of which there are unfortunately few in existence today. There are a series of trials experienced by the wife during the unfolding of the story, the result of the cruel efforts of the other woman to accomplish her purpose, which for the time make the wife's existence one of bitterness and torture. Matters eventually reach a crisis where the husband's love wavers and gradually drifts in the direction of the worldly woman. It is at this vital point of the play when the course of events is changed thru the husband realizing his falling. His sense of duty is aroused and he remembers to his former domestic happiness and matters straighten out, terminating most happily for everyone.

"Woman Against Woman" is a play with the old-time stage construction, telling a story with a strong moral, and the characters natural and well drawn. It was given a splendid interpretation by the Phillips-Shaw players and should prove an attractive offering for the women folk. Besides the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees this week a special holiday matinee will be given on Thursday (Dominion Day).

AN OLD TIME SINGING REVUE HIT AT LOEW'S

Mattie Choate Presents Novel
Comedy and Marie Russell
Scores in Ragtime.

An old-time singing revue in which a quintet of good singers take part, is the headlining act at Loew's this week. They sang several old-time favorites which brought down the house and today's matinee. The act enables all of the five ample opportunity to display their talent, and the setting is well staged. Marie Russell, a colored comedienne with a remarkable voice, sings a number of ragtime hits with Billy West impersonates Charlie Chaplin, but his make-up is the only play that resembles the movie star.

Dow and Bow, "the Hebrew saloon," have a good act and introduce many new songs. Mattie Choate and company have a comedy drama burlesque that is a little out of the ordinary; Eddie Foy recites several well-known poems; De Marest and with several good films complete the bill.

FINE BILL AT SCARBORO.

Tempted by the warm weather and a very strong vaudeville offering, one of the largest crowds of the season visited Scarboro Beach Park last evening. The chief attraction was the casting act of the Four Lakemen. These men, who are the originators of the casting act, which has attained so much popularity in the past few years, and undoubtedly they surpass any other casters who have been seen in Toronto.

The musical program was supplied by the Canadian Engineers' Band, under the direction of Mr. E. B. Parrington, which rendered a patriotic and popular program very acceptable. The moving pictures in the open air were new and entertaining.

WATERLOO AT THE MADISON.

For the performances at the Madison Theatre, Bloor streets, next week commencing Monday evening, July 5, Manager W. S. Brady has been fortunate in securing the services of the well-known Canadian actor Farnum Barton and his company in "Waterloo," the well remembered hit of a few weeks ago at the Princess Theatre. "Waterloo" will be presented in conjunction with the regular offering of meet-run photo plays. As the engagement is limited to one week, the regular scale of popular prices will not be changed. "Waterloo," which was the most famous of the one-act plays introduced to the British stage by the late Sir Henry Irving, takes a half hour in the performance and will be supplemented by the usual high-class photo productions which Mr. Brady offers.

CHILD KILLED BY TRAIN.

AYLMER, Ont., June 28.—While at play on the Grand Trunk tracks, near her home, shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday, the 2-year-old daughter of Arthur Hayward, a farmer living near Corinth, was struck by a westbound passenger train and instantly killed. The child had wandered from her home but a few minutes before.

OPERATORS DEFEAT MESSAGERS.

The operating and messenger departments of the C.P.R. Telegraph Company clashed in their first baseball game yesterday of the season on the Don Falls yesterday. The speedy operators defeated the messengers by 26 to 16. Billy Telford and N. South made up the winning battery, while J. Good and P. Lambert worked for the losers. Geo. Simpson starred at third and H. Carlton on first.

DAINTY HELEN LEE IS HIPPODROME ATTRACTION

Eccentric Acrobatics, Singing,
Dancing and "Crook" Skit Feature Bill.

Dainty in dress and manner is Helen Lee, the charming singing comedienne who appears as one of the leading attractions at Shea's Hippodrome this week. Miss Lee is the possessor of a sweet voice of range and clarity and treats her songs with an individuality that is decidedly attractive. Her program is varied with several bird like popular numbers which proved very popular.

Brooks and Bower, a pair of comedy coons, were great favorites, offering a hilarious, sprightly and bright harmless witicism.

The Tyler St. Clair Trio showed themselves to be accomplished artists, which brought down the house and opened the bill with a meritorious performance on the xylophones.

A new high mark in attendance was reached on Saturday and Sunday, when there were scarcely a breath of wind on the island. It will be a long time possibly before another band master of the Liberati calibre can be heard in Toronto, so for the remaining concerts all those music lovers who have not availed themselves of these excellent concerts should do so. The wonderful soprano voice of Madam Clara is a delightful treat. She sings at all performances.

The Movie Grove with its free motion pictures and the very latest kind is extremely popular.
