Montreal, Nov. 5.—Closing que tions, so far as pertains to general industrial and commercial conditions, is that no serious flaw has been discovered, and the entire country is undenlably enjoying great and unprecedented prosperity, which promises to continue for an indefinite period. The Bank of England may advance its discount rate on Thursday, but one development suggesting that this will be unnecessary was acquisition by the bank to-day of considerable gold arriving from South Africa, and the general struation warrants purchases of the active issues on fair opportunity, in accord with the spirit of confidence, and optimism, clearly discernible in banking circles. There is no issue of municipal ownership. J. J. Jaffray ran for the Democratic nomination on a municipal ownership platform, but was defeated. Mr. Thompson is a professional politican, who has been employed in some county or city office ever since he attained his majority. At the same time he is a very capable man and extremely popular. He has always received a large Republican vote and party lines are fairly broken down in this contest. He takes the stand that there is no point in accepting without competition the in accepting without competition the offer of the D.U.R. He favors looking for other customers and is pledged to secure a three-cent fare. The System.

The street railway system of Detroit, now owned by the Detroit United Railways, consists roughly of two systems, excluding from consideration the radial railways. One system—the Citizens' Railway—occupies the best streets, indeed, the only streets that are very valuable, for without them a company could hardly maintain a system at all. This line was originally built by the Hendries of Hamilton and some transfers came into the possessi of the Everett & Moore syndicate and is now part of the D. U. R. On thi line is charged a five-cent fare. No tickets are sold at all. A transfer is given from these cars to the cross town lines, but there is no transfer upon transfer, and there is no transfer from company owns both systems, the pas-senger who buys eight tickets for a quarter on the cross town lines cannot use them on the down town lines, nor can he transfer from a cross town line so as to get down street. Practically, therefore, in Detroit, there is a flat charge of five cents cash for every pasoranch of the Lord's Day Alliance will senger carried, and the company pays

"The company reserves the right to redeem these tickets at their face value after Nov. 15, 1906. John H. Fry, H.G.P.A."

Eighty thousand Poles and other citizens who do not study the matter very closely are delighted to get ten tickets for a quarter, and may be stampeded into voting for the company to-morrow. But what will the company do if the plebescite goes against them and their candidate is defeated? Will they attempt to go defeated? Will they attempt to go back to the five-cent fare at all hours? Thompson has advised the people to buy all of these temporary cheap tickets they possibly can and it is estimated that 1,000,000 of them are out. Now, if the company undertakes to declare these tickets void for passage and to merely redeem them at the rate of 25 cents for ten, there will be a great deal of trouble. Many good lawyers King Edward ing fluctuations to-day:

White the control of 25 cents for ten, there will be a great deal of trouble. Many good lawyers hold that a person with this ticket can ride on the car during the designated hours after Nov. 15, and there will be trouble and possibly riots may result should the company refuse to honor them after the election.

Detroit, Nov. 5.—(Special.)—There is more excitement here over the municipal elections, which occur to-morrow, than there has been at any presidential election. The street car franchise is the one absorbing question and the two candidates for mayor stand respectively for and against renewing the franchise asked by the Detroit United Railroad.

At the polis to-morrow the electors choose between George P. Codd, unmistakably friendly to the Street Railway Company, and W. P. Thompson, Democrat, who is opposed to renewing the franchise on the proposed terms, in the work of the ranchise a Hand.

Tom Johnson of Cleveland has been here stumping for Thompson. He tried to get a franchise himself some years ago and Pingree stood out for three-cent fares and converted him. At any rate Johnson took up the three-cent fare and now has it effective in Cleveland. Some aldermen tried to discredit Johnson at one of his meetings by saying that he had once offered him (the alderman) a bribe of $6000. Johnson took the thrust good-naturedly and made the point that under the old system that was the only way to get a franchise. His object in coming to Detroit now was to have the people take a hand in disposing of their own property, and to get some real value
