Toronto exchanges tell of a great increase recently in the business done in the mining stock market of that city, especially in British Columbia shares. What are the thousands in the East and elsewhere who have money to invest going to do? The prices of the standard stocks of this camp are as low as they will ever be until the mines are worked out. If they are good enough to catch the money of livesixths of the people of Rossland and the most successful business men of Montreal and Toronto they should be good enough for others to invest in. Now is the time to acquire interests in the Rossland mines, if a safe and profitable investment is required.

The population of Newmarket, according to the last Dominion census, was 2143, that is, 67 short of the number that would justify the issue of five tavern licenses, if the Dominion census were used. As there is statutory authority authorizing the board to use a municipal census, it is quite possible there has been a municipal census tak-en since the last Dominion census by the Council of Newmarket, and that it justifies the issue of five licenses.
