

AN INQUIRY SIGHT

Charges Against Works Department May Be Investigated By Mayor at an Early Date.

$300 FOR SERVICES OF EXPERT

Was Recommended by the Board of Control—Dry Dock Company's Claim Refused Back.

An investigation into the affairs of the Works Department may be looked for at any time now. Mayor Howard, at the Board of Control yesterday afternoon, reiterated his intention of instituting a strict inquiry into the several charges that have been made against it, and he asked for $300, to be expended if it be found necessary in securing the services of an expert. He explained that there would be questions of a technical nature which would probably arise and of which nobody but an expert would have an intimate knowledge.

Ald. Lamb kicked. If Ald. Lamb had had his way the Works Department would not have got three cents of the venerable chairman from Ward 6. He opposed the proposal with unusual vehemence, in fact he grew quite excited over the idea to vote money for any such purpose. The County Judge was the man for him to conduct the investigation and the Mayor told them exactly what he intended to do and place before them a bill for $300. He insisted that the investigation might possibly be a hole in the wall, and as he was anxious that the inquiry should be up and above board, he insisted that the County Judge do all the investigating that was to be done.

Have Faith in Mayor. The other councillors, despite the arguments of Ald. Lamb, could not possibly see eye to eye with him. They had no confidence in his worship and his ability to undertake the task. They had no fear of the inquiry would be other than a fair one, and on motion of Ald. Frame readily voted the $300. The Mayor was not present during the discussion.

What Are Improvements Worth? Ald. Lamb next expounded the claim of the Toronto Dry Dock Company that their rights to the property in Ashbridge's marsh were worth $5000, which claim is considered by the Assessment Commission to be reasonable, and he recommends that the city pay the company that sum in return for the surrender of all rights to the property.

The Board, however, say several legal questions among other things, that required straightening out, and consequently referred the matter back until further reports are received. Will Dredge in East End. Ald. Richardson waited on the Board and asked that authority be given to the City Engineer to order the sand pump to commence work on a shoal at the mouth of Coasterway cut, so that the ferry service for the east enders may be commenced.

The Board gave the necessary authority asked for. Think It Costs Too Much. Another live topic before the councillors was the remodeling of Court-street Police Station. The whole job can be done for $14,000, but the Board were inclined to think that $5000 was all the city could afford to pay, and it was finally decided to recommend to Council that plans and specifications for a new roof and new plumbing and drains be called for. The recommendation of the Street Commissioner that stables capable of accommodating 20 horses be having on the east bank of the Don, south of Mount Stephen avenue, was passed.

Engineer Best Reported that there was but little overcrowding on street cars at present, but the trouble would doubtless commence when the cold weather comes. The Duke's Visit. "I think you have enough here to entertain three dukes and an emperor," said Ald. Hubbard, when the program for the Duke of Cornwall's visit was under consideration. The Mayor also thought it was a rather extensive program and would keep their Royal Highnesses busy carrying out the duties of the City Council, Harbor Board and Board of Trade, the following resolution by Mr. A. E. Kemp, until the harbor question, was unanimously passed. "That this conference strongly urge upon the City Council the propriety of passing a resolution undertaking to provide for the disposal of deposits occasioned in Toronto harbor by the inflow from the Great Lakes, at the earliest practicable moment, adopt a permanent method for that purpose, and that the government and that the present discharge by adequate means. And that the government be urged to provide for the disposal of deposits occasioned in Toronto harbor by the inflow from the Great Lakes, at the earliest practicable moment, adopt a permanent method for that purpose, and that the government and that the present discharge by adequate means.

Appeals Dismissed. The Court of Revision yesterday reduced the personality assessment of the widow of the late John Hallam from $80,000 to $25,000. A number of Public school teachers who applied to get on the list were refused by the board.

ARE YOU GOING CAMPING THIS SUMMER?

Getting wet, catching cold, change of water, eating food which does not agree, or eating unripe fruit, may cause an attack of Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Colic, Cramps, &c. The most reliable medicine to carry with you is DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY. Relieves pain, checks diarrhoea and prevents serious consequences. References.—Ask your doctor, druggist, merchant or any one who has used it. Has been in use half a century, so you run no risk.

HUSBAND'S ATROCIOUS DEED

Killed His Wife and Then Cut His Own Throat.

Brookport, N.Y., July 11.—Thomas McGrath, an Irish farmer, aged 50, while in jail, murdered his wife, aged 40, last night, and then committed suicide a short distance from their home, 1 1/2 miles south of this place. Mr. and Mrs. McGrath came to town last evening to do some trading, and about 10 o'clock left for home. At 11 o'clock this morning a son was awakened by a horse which had been driven coming into the house. He found his mother lying on the floor, and thinking something was wrong, a search was instituted, which resulted at 8 o'clock this morning in finding the bodies of a few miles from their farmhouse. An examination of the woman's body revealed a terrible wound over the left eye, supposed to have been given when McGrath dealt her the first blow, rendering her unconscious. He then drove through an opening into the back of the barn, and there he shot the woman in the back of the neck with a gash three inches in length across her throat, severing an artery. Carefully covering her body with a blanket he unhitched his horse and started it toward home, after which he cut his own throat from ear to ear. A common two-bladed jack knife was the weapon used. A family of five children, all under 15 years, survives.

PERJURY CHARGE DISMISSED

Honorable Editor Got Out of a Bad Box Quite Handily.

Victoria, B. C., July 11.—Advices from Honolulu July 3 say the perjury charge against Editor Walter G. Smith has been dismissed at the instance of the prosecutor. Smith was indicted by the grand jury on account of testimony he gave regarding alleged attempts to secure bribes from legislators for their support of a franchise for a road in Hawaii. Smith testified that he did not know of any corporation that had previously testified that he knew of such a circumstance. The Attorney-General stated that he had had some conversation with the editor and had come to the conclusion that the testimony of Smith was correct except for a confusion arising from the fact that the railway company in question was not incorporated. The fact that the editor had copied Mr. Smith's testimony that he knew of no corporation that had been asked for bribes correct.

U. S. A. WORLD POWER.

Former Secretary of State Says Her Rights Must Be Respected. Put-in-Bay, Ohio, July 11.—Hon. William B. Day, former Secretary of State, speaking at the annual meeting of the Bar Association to-day, said the United States is now regarded as an important factor in world politics, and from governments which have long neglected claims arising from mistreatment of American citizens are no longer unambiguously recognized. The United States has become a "world power," not in promoting her own agrarian interests, but in maintaining her rights abroad wherever they may be assailed. Mr. Day also declared the purpose of the American government was to maintain the Monroe doctrine in its true interpretation as preventing the establishment of a monarchial government upon unwilling Americans or the further extension of European colonization upon American soil.

AFRAID OF ENEMY.

Some German Officers Back From Far East Under Arrest. Hanover, July 11.—Scores of German soldiers are returning from China with the expeditionary corps, either in chains or locked up and closely guarded on board ship. Upon the arrival of the vessels the prisoners are immediately taken to the bank of the river, where they are kept in a large building. Despite the rigid secrecy of the authorities, it has leaked out that the prisoners are many officers, some of whom are in duress owing to alleged cowardice before the enemy.

WABASH'S NEW CARS.

Three of the Fifty-Five Are Just Ready and Are Beautiful. The Wabash Railroad has put into commission three of the finest observation and cafe cars in America. The three cars are a portion of the 55 new coaches the Wabash is building. One of the cars will be put on the run between Windsor and Buffalo, and the other two between St. Louis and Detroit. The cars are big fellows, over 70 feet long and are built with the finest materials. They are finished in St. Joseph, Mo., and are decorated in an agreeable shade of green relieved by gold striping and scrolls. The cars are already being used in the experimental runs, with room for 14 passengers and a large dining room. The cars are lighted by electricity, and each has a large electric fan for cooling.

ANOTHER SUNDAY TRIP.

Niagara Falls, July 11.—Graham, the barrel artist, claims he will go thru the rapids next Sunday at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Well Done, Jameson. An English traveler says that the men of Toronto are the best dressed on the continent. This is true. But it is not to be wondered at when the clothing of many Toronto men is done by such an up-to-date and enterprising clothier as Philip Jameson, who is always on the alert in the interests of his patrons. Mr. Jameson has just completed the purchase of an enormous stock of fine, imported English worsted trousers, for less than fifty cents on the dollar. As a result of this big commercial deal, 3000 Toronto men will be wearing the best of the best imported English worsted trousers, made to order, which sell regularly at $4 and $5 a pair, for $2.75.

Co-Operation in Canada.

Fifty-seven years ago 28 women in Rochdale, England, contributed one pound each to a fund for establishing a store. This was the beginning of what is known as the co-operative movement. Three years later a movement was started in Canada, similar in its object, but covering a different field. It has grown to such an extent that over 27,000 members, who are eligible to share in benefits which aggregate $1,000,000, are now active. The Canadian Co-operative movement is now in its infancy, but it is being fostered by the Canadian Life Assurance Company, and the fact that it has had or credited to its policyholders $115 for every $100 paid in by them, since its inception, reflects the highest credit on its management.

Drummers at Buffalo.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 11.—This was commercial travelers' day at the Pan-American Exposition. There was a parade this morning, and notwithstanding the threatening aspect of the weather, several thousands were in line, with numerous bands of music.

It Has Always Depended on Its Absolute Purity and Delicious Flavor to Hold the Tastes of the People, and To-Day

Ceylon Tea Enjoys the Largest Sale on the Continent.

Then There'll Be Trouble in the Ontario Alliance. The Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance for the Suppression of the Liquor Traffic has a bomb with a lighted fuse in its midst, according to a prominent committee-man. This is the order of the new executive to appoint an organizer to form a branch of the Alliance in the city of Toronto. The executive has the names of some of the candidates for the position before it for a selection. There is only one name which would come up for the position, and many of the Alliance people are very strong in their advocacy of his appointment. He is W. W. Buchanan of the Royal Templars, who organized the Manitoba branches of the Alliance previous to the provincial elections there. His appointment would be extremely distasteful to the members of the Alliance which has been associated in the public mind with the Ontario Reform party.

WAIT TILL THE BOMB EXPLODES.

Then There'll Be Trouble in the Ontario Alliance. The Ontario Branch of the Dominion Alliance for the Suppression of the Liquor Traffic has a bomb with a lighted fuse in its midst, according to a prominent committee-man. This is the order of the new executive to appoint an organizer to form a branch of the Alliance in the city of Toronto. The executive has the names of some of the candidates for the position before it for a selection. There is only one name which would come up for the position, and many of the Alliance people are very strong in their advocacy of his appointment. He is W. W. Buchanan of the Royal Templars, who organized the Manitoba branches of the Alliance previous to the provincial elections there. His appointment would be extremely distasteful to the members of the Alliance which has been associated in the public mind with the Ontario Reform party.

BLOODSHED MAY RESULT

White Fishermen on Fraser River Are Very Ugly Over Success of Japanese.

Strikers Are Standing Firm and Not Attempting to Do Any Fishing—Rain Cools Ardor. Vancouver, B.C., July 11.—The striking salmon fishermen of the Fraser river are threatening violence against the Japanese who have supplanted them. A mass meeting of all the unions was held this afternoon, when, it is said, resolutions were passed that every member should pledge himself to aid in driving the Japanese off the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this an insult to the number of 2000 have gone out fishing on the river. In a signed statement, published here, Frank Rogers, a member of the fishermen's Executive Committee, says: "Reliable information has been brought to us that some of the canneries advanced money for the Japanese to buy rifles and revolvers. They said that the canneries had ordered the Japanese when they shoot they must shoot to kill. The fishermen consider this