SIGNAL OF ENFORCEMENT

HE IS MARRIED

Dominion Police Inspector Satisfied With Test Case Today.

Unable to prove that he was a married man, as he claimed, and having no documents in his possession to prove he was not in Class I, William Hornby of Fonthill was turned over to the military authorities when he appeared in police court today.

Hornby's arrest and the disposition of his case indicates that the Dominion police and other authorities propose to enforce to the limit the order-in-council of April 20, which makes it necessary for every man of military age to show documents that he is not liable for military service.

documents that he is not liable for military service.

The Dominion police, acting under instructions from Capt. Asa Minard, approached a number of men in the city Tuesday and demanded their papers. Hornby was questioned at the Grand Trunk depot Tuesday evening by a Domonion police officer, and when asked to show documentary proof to show why he was not liable to service, he informed the officer that he was married, and that his wife resided at Fonthill, a village near St. Catharines.

Capt. Minard investigated Hornby's case, and as the latter was unable to give satisfactory answers to questions, he was turned over to the civil police. A charge of violating the military service act was laid on information sworn to by Capt. Minard.

"Why didn't you arrange to have your marriage certificate with you, or a certified copy of it?" asked Magistrate Graydon.

HORSE DESTROYED.— A horse owned by S. McFalls of the Fruit Hill Dairy was struck by a Normal car, operated by Motorman Edgar Fowler, on Central avenue, near Wellington street at 11 o'clock this morning. It was so badly injured that it had to be destroyed. The driver of the milk wagon was delivering milk to his customers and left the horse untied. The horse wandered on the street car tracks and was struck. Its leg was broken, and it was ordered shot by the veterinary. A returned soldier shot the animal.

"This order-in-council was passed by the Government to be enforced, and I propose to do what I can to make the law with respect to the carrying of documents observed," said Magistrate Graydon in addressing the prisoner.
"What would you like to have done with this man?" asked the magistrate, turning to Capt. Minard.
Captain Minard suggested that Hornby be turned over to the military car loop, the westerly end of Spring-bank Park.

$500 Damages Given.

Damages for $500 to the plaintiff was the verdict returned at 11 o'clock last night in the case of Pincombe vs. the Archibald Cereal Mills which was heard at the county court.

R. M. Pincombe, a merchant and miller of Strathroy, took action against James and Ethel Meyers, trading under the name of the Archibald Cereal Mills of Woodstock and Beachville, to recover $800 for the loss of grain treated at defendants' mill. The plaintiff shipped a carload of wheat to the fendants for the purpose of drying and cleaning. The grain was damaged in the first place due to the breaking away of a portion of Pincombe's elevator, which allowed over 1,000 bushels of wheat to flow into a creek. The jury was out one hour. The court will open at 9:30 o'clock this morning, when another of the jury cases will be heard.

With the incoming of dozens of commissioners to the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church on the noon trains St. Andrew's Hall today became the centre of an animated scene, visitors from up and down the length and breadth of the country registering, obtaining their billets, exchanging greetings with old friends and chatting over affairs of mutual interest and the business likely to come before the assembly.

Against Closing Colleges.

During the forenoon the educational committee deliberated upon the question of consolidation of colleges. A strong feeling was manifested that it would be unwise to close up any of the colleges entirely, notwithstanding the fact that, apart from the depletion of the ranks of the students, about half the professors are on overseas service. It was pointed out by one prominent member of the committee that the figures in the blue book do not, while correct, represent the financial loss with which colleges are meeting as a result of war conditions. Queen's, for example, is being largely occupied by the university students and for technical classes, etc., owing to the fact that the university proper has been taken over for military hospital purposes. The professors, moreover, have been rendering outside service to churches, in holding services for military hospitals, etc.

Montreal Theological College has been

It is expected that conclusions will be reached this afternoon to put in the form of recommendations re college consolidation to place before the assembly.

Among the cases referred to by one of the members was that of a woman who came here from another city with three children. tending to her wants temporarily, they were forced to turn her over to the relief society.

Another case reported at the meeting was that of a young woman from whom patriotic assistance had been withheld for a year, and then finally she was given a loan, and had to give a note to the patriotic officials. It was claimed that the patriotic association was not for running a loan business, and strong objection was taken to such methods.

When the official in question was asked about the case, he could give no reason for not paying the fund, but told the Kin to investigate. The latter felt that it was his case to investigate before withholding it, according to the members of the association.

"These are cases where patriotism ought to come to the surface and do something, and it doesn't," declared one of the speakers, adding that "It is high time something was done to bring such cases to the attention of the public."

These and similar cases that had come up were being pushed to the limit, the officers of the Kin stated, and would be taken to the Dominion Patriotic Association, and farther if necessary.

Increasing Attendance Forces Alteration of Districts, Says Inspector.

The protest of the National Council of Women against what it termed "differentiation in favor of male teachers as against female teachers in the matter of salary increases" was read to the board of education Tuesday. The communication said that the action of the bard "did not seem exactly typical of the species of British fair play, more especially when the increase in the cost of living is taken into consideration." The communication alleged that sex The communication alleged that sex lines were drawn in the increases, the male teachers getting increases and the request of the female teachers being vetoed.

request of the female teachers being vetoed.

Trustee J. S. Barnard said the communication was a bolt from the blue. The board had never been so accused before. The old members had never been found guilty, so if there was any responsibility he thought it must rest with the new members, Messrs. Gray and Smith. However, he thought that the women would be willing to withdraw their resolution if they were made acquainted with the facts, and he suggested that means to this end be taken.

Trustee James Gray objected to a report rejecting an application for the use of Lorne Avenue School grounds made by Rev. G. Q. Warner. He thought that the boys should be allowed full use of the grounds under proper supervision. W. N. Manning and J. S. Barnard agreed. Trustees Shoebotham said that in dealing with the matter the interests of the people residing near the schools should be considered. In casting the deciding vote to send the report back to the committee, Trústee Rowe said he thought that the board was paving the way for a load of trouble.

Chânges in Schools.

The feature of the report of Inspector C. B. Edwards, who was on hand after an extended Illness, was a recommendation that the Egerton Street School (cottages) be closed and the pupils transferred to the Quebec Street School. He said that the Boyle and Lorne schools are full, and any increase in population of the Boyle district can only be accommodated by using the Quebec School.

Inspector Edwards reported a total enrollment of 7,965 for May, an average attendance of 7,152. This is an increase of 204 in the average attendance. During the month the nurses made 3,659 inspections, gave 11 treatments, found 79 pupils with defective herathing, 11 with defective hearing, 26 with defective vision, exclusions 40, visits to schools 121, visits to homes 130.
