"Will you dake sumdings?" said a German teetotaler to a friend, while standing near a tavern. "I don't care if I do," was the reply. "Vell, den, let us dake a walk."

We often hear of a woman marrying a man to reform him; but no one ever tells about a man marrying a woman to reform her. We men are modest, and don't talk about our good deeds much.

"Papa," asked a little boy, looking up from his Sunday-school lesson, "what are the wages of sin?" "The wages of sin these days," replied the old man, earnestly, "depend upon circumstances, and one's opportunities and business capacity. But they run up into the thousands."

Why is the discovery of the North Pole like an illicit whiskey manufactory? Because it is a secret still.

"Why did you put that nickel with a hole in it in the contribution box?" asked one man of another. "Because I couldn't put the hole in without the nickel, and I had to put in something."

A traveler being at a coffee-house with some gentlemen, was largely drawing on the credulity of the company. "Where did you say all these wonders happened, Sir?" asked a gentleman present. "I can't exactly say," replied the traveler; "but somewhere in Europe—Russia, I think." "I should rather think It-a-ly," returned the other.
