

SPECIAL HOLIDAY MATINEE GOOD FRIDAY

MATINEES WED & SAT BEST SEATS 25c & 50c

GRAND OPERA HOUSE

PRICES NEVER CHANGE

MATINEES WED & SAT BEST SEATS 25c & 50c

HANLONS' FANTASMA

A WONDER SHOW ENHANCED AND EMBELLISHED WITH MYRIAD SURPRISES AND SENSATIONS

A NEW VERSION OF THE DELIGHTFUL SPECTACULAR PANTOMIME THE PRODUCTION THAT EVERYBODY IS WAITING FOR 50--PEOPLE--50

NEXT—THE SUCCESS OF MRS. WIGGS OF THE CABBAGE PATCH SPECIAL MATINEE EASTER MONDAY—NEXT

U. S. S. MAINE BEING SUNK IN GULF OF MEXICO. SHE WAS RAISED FROM THE BOTTOM OF HAVANA HARBOR, WHERE FOR YEARS SHE WAS A MENACE TO SHIPPING.

TWO HUNDRED STREET CARS, MOTORS AND TRAILERS, WERE BURNED IN MONDAY'S CONFLAGRATION.

THE GREAT YOUNGMANN TROUPE, IN "HANLONS' FANTASMA," AT THE GRAND ALL THIS WEEK.

WILLIAM HANLON'S MEMOIRS.

William Hanlon, one of the famous Hanlons, whose new production of "Fantasma" will be the offering at the Grand this week, is at work now at his memoirs and interesting they certainly will be when revealed in print. Not only has Mr. Hanlon traveled all over the world and back again, but he has played before almost every civilized people on the globe. He relates one of his experiences with Admiral Sir William Parker of the British Navy. "Besides playing at the opera house," he writes, "we were invited when in Malta to give our performances on board of two of the three-decker battle-ships in the harbor, the Queen, of 119 guns, and the Caledonia, 120 guns. The ships were elaborately decorated for the occasion and the finest people from the city were invited. "On the Queen the farce of 'Box and Cox' was given. On the Caledonia we saw the sailor's hornpipe danced with more skill than I have seen since. The admiral of the fleet, Sir William Parker, must have taken a fancy to me, for he told Mr. Lees, who accompanied us, that if he would leave me with him, he would make a fine sailor of me. The sailors enjoyed fighting those days. We heard voices in the square above one o'clock one morning and it appeared that by previous arrangement forty sailors and forty mariners of the fleet had planned a fistic carnival on shore. They were arranged in two rows of twenty couples, a soldier facing the marine. The word was given and a royal battle ensued."

HUNT CLUB TRAP-SHOOTERS: STANDING, LEFT TO RIGHT—CHAS. B. CRONYN, H. H. HEES, DAN COULSON, JR.; SITTING, TWO ATTENDANTS, MAJOR MICHIE, CAPT. TROWELL, J. ROSS, GORDON OSLER, F. ROSS, J. W. B. WALSH; STANDING IN FRONT, A. E. DYMENT.