HAWKINS-AND HUGHES SAY SENATE THWARTS RULE OF DEMOCRACY

York Liberal Candidate's Aide Terms Upper Chamber Most Unrepresentative Legislative Body on Earth -Discuss King and Meighen Policies at McAdam

McADAM, Oct. 25—The Liberal party held a meeting in the I. O. O. F. hall last evening. R. S. Wood, principal of the McAdam School, acted as chairman. P. J. Hughes, K. C., and C. R. Hawkins, Liberal candidate for York-Sunbury, addressed the voters.

Mr. Hughes, in opening, mentioned the huge debt which confronted the King Government when they assumed office. Most of this, he said, was contracted during the war, but much of it unfairly.

In opposition to the Conservative plea of railway incompetence on the did not have responsible government part of the Government, Mr. Hughes but the Senate, which was Conserva part of the Government, Mr. Hughes said Meighen was responsible for the smalgamation of the Grand Trunk Pacific and Intercolonial Railways and the shipping boom which Portland had enjoyed.

ON THE SENATE

The speaker declared that the King Government had to contend with an adverse Senate during its regime and termed it much more autocratic than the Peers and the most unrepresentative legislative body on earth.

The Senate had killed popular measures. The remedy was to make it possible that when a bill went before the Senate two terms in succession it should automatically become law as in England.

The March of the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Senate, which was Conservative in tendencies, was dictated to and did the bidding of Mr. Meighen. The tariff also received considerable attention from the speaker, during which he read from the debates in the House of Commons to support his assertion that Angus McLean did not favor high tariff as it was detrimental to the progress of the country. This sentiment was expressed in a letter to a leading man in the upper provinces and was referred to by Mr. Hoey in his speech.

Thomas Franklin Manville, chairman of the board of directors of Johns-Manville, Incorporated, died at 6.45 p.m. Monday, October 19, 1925, in New York City. Mr. Manville was one of the country's great business builders. For the last 25 years he had been the directing head of Johns-Manville, Incorporated, the world's largest producers and manufacturers of asbestos, during which time he had built up anoutstanding organization fully capable of carrying on his plans and policies to even greater achievements. His brother, H. E. Manville, who succeeded to the presidency of Johns-Manville, Incorporated, in 1924, was closely identified with him during this entire period and will continue to direct the policies of the organization.

measures. The remedy was to make it possible that when a bill went before the Senate two terms in succession it should automatically become law as in England.

In mentioning the Meighen policy of higher protection, Mr. Hughes declared it was absurd to expect thus to bring prosperity and wealth.

TRIBUTE TO HAWKINS

A few examples were given to support his argument that all was not rosy under a high tariff, notably the closing of carriage factories in Saint John and Frederiction under the MacDonald Government.

"We now have a twenty per cent. advantage in duty over the United States in trade to the West Indies as the result of a little work on the part of the Liberals," stated Mr. Hughes.

In closing, he paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Hawkins.

CANDIDATE SPEAKS

In introducing the Liberal candidate, Mr. Honson, the Conservative candidate, Mr. Meighen's between the Method. Concerning golf courses, Mr. Hawkins said the C. P. R. had three ard as the C. P. R. was held up as the acme of perfection in railroading it was only natural to follow.

The speaker criticized Mr. Meighen's blue ruin" talk as having a bad effect upon the people of the country and keeping immigrants and capital out of Canada.

In introducing the Liberal candidate, Mr. Honson's he characterized as a bribe a sense Wr. Hawkins said Canada bribe a day over exeter.
