

ARAB WOMEN ASK REMOVAL OF VEILS

Want This as First Step
Towards Their Emancipation.

Jerusalem, Aug. 13.—(By mail).—The stubborn conservatism of the Mohammedan custom with regard to the social isolation of the women in Palestine may soon give way before the movement launched by Arab feminists for the removal of the veil. The Holy Land, backward in many respects, is behind such Moslem countries as Turkey and Egypt in breaking the shackles holding women in seclusion.

The movement for the enfranchisement of Moslem women in Palestine is of recent origin and is traceable to the influx of people from the west, especially Jewish immigrants coming to settle in their national home. As the first step towards their emancipation the women demand ecclesiastical sanction for the removal of the dark veil from their faces. If such flying in the face of age-long custom does not win official approval, some of the leading Arab women of Palestine are determined to do what their Moslem sisters did in Turkey, where the veil has been entirely cast off, or at least in Egypt, where only a light transparent veil is still worn extending from the forehead to the feet.

The ban on the public appearance of women has retarded the development of the Arab drama, and it is the hope of the feminists that the admittance of Moslem women to the theatrical stage will follow the removal of the veil. Arab women of Palestine are keen not only on social emancipation but on participation in politics.

"Take us out of our insulating seclusion and remove from our faces the offensive black cloth, give us our opportunity as free members of a free people, granting us the right to fight with you for our national ideals," says in part an appeal appearing recently in an Arab language newspaper in Haifa. "Then we shall in gratitude sacrifice our jewels, delivering up our gold and precious stones for the establishment of the Arab National Bank."

EDITOR LEAVES.
C. R. MacIntosh, editor of the North Battleford News, Saskatchewan, and delegate to the Canadian Club convention, left this morning on the early train for Montreal. He will travel via Ottawa, where he will spend a short time en route to North Battleford, which is a progressive town of 5,000 people and is rapidly growing. It was his purpose, he said, to return within a few days.

RIVALS THE BEAUTY OF THE SCARLET TANGER

The Pen that's Worth Its Weight in Gold!

Along Life's Whole Career
Its Jewel-Smooth 25-Year Point
Gives Your Hand the Speed and Character
That Win with the World

YES, every day new situations arise when the unerring Parker Duofold is worth its weight in gold! When this hand-size, rapid jewel-smooth writer beats the clock to the finish—to close a transaction, pass a test, or complete the work in hand, whatever it may be.

Its Over-size Barrel holds that extra ration of ink that can save the day in a crisis. And the "Lucky Curve" feed—Geo. S. Parker's creation—delivers the ink with sure-fire certainty.

Compared to such results, what is $7 for the Over-size Duofold, or $5 for the Duofold Jr., or slender Lady Duofold? Better replace your old pen with this inspiring Classic.

If not mistreated, we guarantee its jewel-smooth point for 25 years' WEAR. Its black-tipped lacquer-red barrel wins instant respect wherever it is seen. And its color makes it hard to mislay.

Any good pen counter will sell you a Parker Duofold. Step in and get it—gain what it is worth to add to life.
