New Chancellor Also Says Protection Must be Ruled Out

British Electors Likely to be Swayed by Personal Characteristics of the Leaders—Some Comment on the New Premier—A Notable Foursome at G.A.

(Canadian Press.) London, Oct. 30.—While Lloyd George in Glasgow on Saturday was deciding the personnel of the new ministry, Stanley Baldwin, president of the Board of Trade in the late Lloyd George government, and now chancellor of the Exchequer, was venturing an opinion on his new colleagues.

Mr. Baldwin put his leaders in a rather unfortunate position by intimating that they did not know definitely where they were. "One drawback in having to form a ministry hurriedly," he said, "was that the leaders had not time to formulate an elaborate, striking programme calculated to capture the wandering caprices of the electorate. I believe that my countrymen are tired of too much eloquence, too many promises."

Many friends in the city and elsewhere will regret to learn of the death of W. Mr. Morrow was one of the best known men in the North End of the city, and held the record of being the only candidate for civic honors who ever defeated the late Alderman John McGoldrick in the contest for Stanley ward. He was a lime burner by trade and served one term as alderman of the City of Portland. Later he was appointed collector of taxes and water rates and occupied that position until about two years ago when he was compelled by failing health and advancing years to retire.

(Canadian Press Cable.)

London, Oct. 30.—The triumphant forces of Fascist were ready today to take over the government of Italy. Their leader, Dr. Benito Mussolini, was scheduled to see the king and answer his call to create a new ministry to replace the Facta government.

Communication lines leading to the Italian capital are reported in control of the Fascist. Mussolini yesterday notified Facta that he had no intention to enter any cabinet formed by any other party, but granting some portfolios outside the fascist party.

In forming a new cabinet, Mussolini said he would retain to himself the portfolios of interior and foreign affairs, and appoint General Diaz minister of war, Admiral Thaon Dia Reval minister of marine, and the Liberal senator La Signorini, now prefect of Palermo, minister of justice.

Yesterday former Premier Salandra was asked to form a cabinet. The Fascist leader, however, refused to do so, and he would not enter a cabinet with Salandra or any other politician, Salandra or any other politician, Salandra or any other politician.

Parties of Fascist, while passing through the city, were met by a mob of about 1000, many of whom were known to be hotbeds of subversive elements, were attacked by Communists, who threw stones and fired revolvers. Because of the Fascist's professed hostility to Bolshevism, the movement in England and the progress of the evacuation of Eastern Thrace. The Times recognizes in the Fascist success very wholesome elements and also very evil elements and wonders which will triumph. The newspaper published yesterday is not reassuring.

Might Be Applied In Solving Cases Of Murder in Province

"Scientific Detective" Review and Analysis of the Murder of Rev. Mr. Hall and Choir Singer in New Jersey—Many Chances of Solution Lost by Early Neglect or Bungling.

As St. John has several unsolved murder mysteries on its hands—three very peculiar cases will at once suggest themselves—the Times publishes herewith a rather remarkable article of the "scientific detective" sort, dealing with the famous New Jersey murder tragedy.

This article is of deep interest because of its searching analysis of the Jersey case, and also because it contains very practical suggestions which might usefully be applied by the law officers of the Crown and the police departments of towns and cities in this province.

NEW BRUNSWICK MURDER MYSTERY

(By E. E. Free, Fellow, American Association for the Advancement of Science.)

The Hall-Mills murder, which occurred on September 14, 1922, near the small city of New Brunswick, New Jersey, 33 miles south of New York City, is a case of extraordinary interest to the scientific detective. This is true, it must be confessed, more for what was left undone than for what was done, because of facts which were not found out although they might have been. This circumstance, plus the unusual public interest in this case, will probably make it, provided it is some day solved, one of the classic of scientific criminology.

They have been few cases in criminal history which offered so many opportunities for scientific investigation. Notwithstanding this there is no case known to me in which the authorities have made less use of scientific methods. It is common talk in New Brunswick that the entire investigation has been badly bungled. In no way is this truer, than in the failure of the local investigators to make use of even the most elementary methods of scientific criminology.

There has been doubt, even of how many times Mrs. Mills was shot. The physicians who made the first examination afterward disagreed. One said three shots; the other said one which they think may have been pistol shots about ten o'clock on the night of Sept. 14, the night Rev. Edward Whipple Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, were shot.
