MANY SCOUTS RECEIVE WAR SERVICE BADGES

Several Local Boys Win Recognition

Details of Camp Plans Announced—Suggestion Regarding Scout Library—A Few Words About Training.

The dates for the provincial scout camp have been set as Aug. 2 to 19. These dates have been chosen as the most convenient as they will give all scouts an opportunity to earn money for camp and will leave a short space of time to get into school again.

THE BOY SCOUT.

before the holidays close. By choosing these dates the camp authorities are able to secure the services of excellent directors and instructors that they could not otherwise secure. The camp site is definitely placed on the Bellefleur at Jenkins Cove. The very best facilities are at hand, including safe bathing and a splendid stretch of woods. The steamer Hampton docks within a half mile of the camp, ensuring excellent accommodation. Already a large number have signified their intention to attend and it looks as though a bumper camp were assured. Circulars will be issued shortly giving further details.

Scout leaders, big leaders especially, will be interested to learn that the Sussex troop is carrying on again after a brief suspension of activities. Commissioner Atherton is quite optimistic and is looking forward to he takes practically every member of the troop to camp.

The picture of the leaders' conference is now ready for issue at provincial headquarters and all leaders who applied for them are requested to get them as soon as possible as otherwise they will be sold to others who have not formerly applied.

News from imperial headquarters is to the effect that a very large and ever growing number of troops are now in weekly. St. John troops might well emulate this example, indeed St. Luke's troop have done so already, and with excellent results. Such a paper may go a long way toward establishing and maintaining a desirable troop spirit with small cost.

War Service Badges.

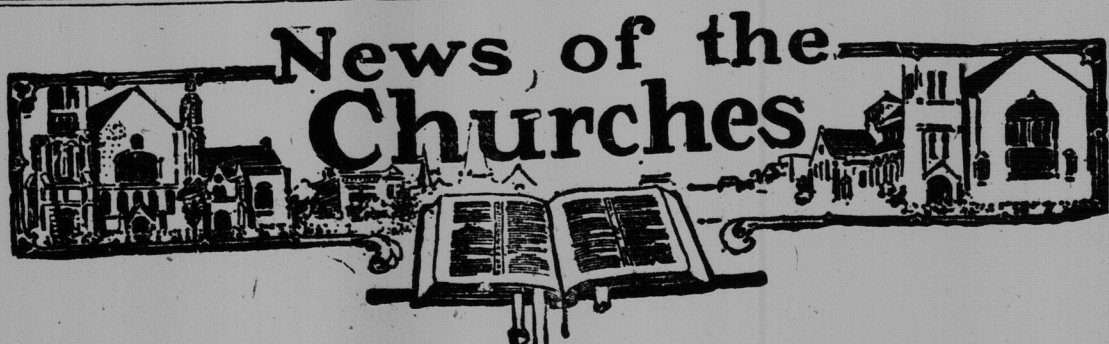

The final issue of war service badges has been awarded to the following scouts: 100 day badge, Allen Turner, 1st Woodstock; Walter Hammond, William Geary, George Farling, Allan Lee, Edwy Jenner, St. John's, St. John, 28 day badge to Everett Robinson, Selby Wetmore, Stone church, St. John, John Whitehead, Woodstock; Errol Skinner, Stanley Goodwin, Centenary, St. John, P. Waddell, W. Walden, E. Keeling, Coburg street, St. John; Lorimer Kierstead, Kenneth McKee, Heath Jennings, Arthur Baddington, Edmund Craft, Ronald Ellis, Eugene Hargrove, Douglas McKay, William Jennings, Heron Island, William Nice, Allen Craig, St. John's, St. John. There will be no further issue of these badges and they will therefore be a source of increasing pride to the scouts possessing them, representing as they do voluntary service for their country in time of war.

The latest Canadian Boy Scout, entitled "What the Past Has Brought and the Future Will Bring to Scouting." One of the paragraphs reads as follows: "Scouting is going ahead in Canada, not only on account of public support, and of the smartness and efficiency on the part of the boys, but mainly thanks to the splendid spirit which permeates the whole movement throughout the dominion." The excellent manner in which this magazine is steadily improving is phenomenal and it is a magazine of which our movement may well be proud. Nearly every scout reads it and have found it a source of great pleasure and help.

A line in which St. John troops might improve is in regard to a troop library. There are a large number of scouting text books not in any degree like school books, but nevertheless real books from which a great deal of help may be secured, which scouts should read. Most troops can spare enough from troop funds to buy one or two books a month at least, and they will gradually accumulate a splendid library to which any scout in difficulty over a text or badge may refer and to which patrol leaders will be greatly indebted. The headquarters will be pleased to consult with scoutmasters or patrol leaders with regard to the proper books for such a library.

Some Good Advice.

A brief word to leaders from the chief scout is as follows: "Patrol leaders are everywhere taking up the training of the scouts in their patrols. That is what I want to see. No leader worth his salt is proud of merely commanding a lot of tenderfoots; it is therefore up to him to see that his boys become scouts as soon as possible—that is by passing their second class tests. The best way to give them the lead yourself by setting the example of carrying out the scout law and by winning your own first class badge as a first step.

Sir Robert recommends most strongly that the scouts possessing them, representing as they do voluntary service for their country in time of war.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK
Look young! Nobody can tell if you use Grandmother's simple recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Year ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by using a large bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will find a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray has disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Simple Home Remedy for Wrinkled Faces
Thousands of the fair sex are spending fortunes in frantic efforts to remove the signs of premature age from their faces. Such women willingly pay almost any amount of money for worthless wrinkle removers, of which there are many.

If they only knew it, the most effective remedy against wrinkles is a simple, harmless lotion which can be made up at home in less than a minute. They have only to get an ounce of pure powdered sassafras and half a pint of witch hazel at the drug store and mix the two. Apply this daily for a while as a refreshing face wash. The effect is almost magical. Even after the first treatment wrinkles improvement is noticed and the face has a snug, firm feeling that is most pleasing.

Such Pretty Waves and Curls—In Three Hours!
Have you tried liquid silmerine? If not, by all means do so. Within three hours you can have just the loveliest curls and waves! They will appear so perfectly natural and you will be surprised how long they will last. When the hair is combed out it will be beautifully fluffy.

Silmerine should be applied with a clean brush before doing up the hair. It may be used before retiring, if preferred. A few ounces of the liquid from your drugist will last many weeks. This will also be found to be a splendid dressing, keeping the hair soft and glossy. It is entirely harmless, of course, and is neither sticky nor greasy.

EMPLOYERS MAY WITHDRAW SUPPORT

Attitude of Y. W. C. A. in United States Does Not Please Them.

(New York Evening Post.)

Threats that employers will withdraw their financial support from the Young Women's Christian Association are being made in publications representing manufacturers and other employers of women, as a result of the association's action in adopting as its own the social platform of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America. This action was taken at the national convention of the association in Cleveland last month.

Included in the immediate programme, as unanimously adopted by the convention, are: Recognition of the right of collective bargaining, the eight-hour day; prohibition of night work for women and child labor; a living wage at a minimum and equal pay for equal work. The platform further affirms "that the world everywhere needs the life of the 80,000 working girls who are members of our industrial clubs. For these girls we must make operative the principles of Christ. Women, as an element in industrial life, must live and work under such conditions that they will be free to make their special contribution to the new order. Proper living and working conditions are essential to any expansion of the spirit."

Representatives of the Young Women's Christian Association, while declining to engage in controversy with any group of individuals, today made clear their attitude on their industrial programme as follows:

The Young Women's Christian Association aims to connect religion and life. The world everywhere needs the conception that people must actually live by what Christ taught. We stand for religion applied in individual life and in social relationships; we have no less an ideal than that the industrial life of America must be Christian.

We are concerned with human values everywhere with the relationships of men and women as they live and work together, employers, workers and consumers—with the group and individual life of the 80,000 working girls who are members of our industrial clubs. For these girls we must make operative the principles of Christ. Women, as an element in industrial life, must live and work under such conditions that they will be free to make their special contribution to the new order. Proper living and working conditions are essential to any expansion of the spirit."

There remains then only the problem of agreeing on the precise nature of the social conditions which the Association should make its immediate goal. This is the task which the Young Women's Christian Association in America had stated the social ideals of the churches in 1912, in a platform adopted by the Council of the Churches of Christ in America. This platform, as representing the best thought of the churches of America, was unanimously endorsed at the Cleveland convention of the association in April. It is unthinkable that the association should act otherwise than as it believes.

Among the adverse critics of the Association's new industrial policy is Henry Harrison Lewis and published in Washington. Industry says in a recent issue of "What use is it to preach on one hand brotherhood and sisterhood and the spirit of Christianity, and on the other hand rejoice in a series of petty attacks upon so-called evils of industry?"

Business men in many cities have backed the Young Women's Christian Association in their worthy endeavor, giving financial aid as testimony of their respect for this great organization's future financial drives will receive a considerable aid directly from men of business. Such a proposition would be unfeasible and utterly in opposition to good business tactics.

Unfavorable comment is also made in the editorial columns of the Monitor, an official publication of Associated Industries of New York State, of which Mark A. Daley is editor. It will be remembered that this organization, through Mr. Daley's activities, opposed the minimum wage, eight hour day and compulsory health insurance bills at the recent session of the State Legislature, and was publicly attacked for its methods by the State League of Women Voters.

Calling the action of the Association "ill-advised," Mr. Daley says in an editorial: "The attitude of employers generally toward the Y. W. C. A. and its methods will be gauged by what they believe to be the function of the organization. If it has, the Y. W. C. A. cannot expect employers to support it, any more than the American Federation of Labor could expect employers to support it."

leges and universities, the statement says:—

"At the recent meeting appropriations were made to ninety-eight colleges and universities out of these which are under consideration. To this group of institutions the general education board appropriated for endowment to increase salaries the sum of $12,851,666 on condition that they would themselves read the goal they had set and secure for the same purpose supplementary sums aggregating $30,613,384. Thus, the college and universities, if successful, will increase their endowments available for teachers' salaries to the extent of $43,465,050."

"Interest to be paid from July 1, 1920. In order that funds may so far as possible be made available for the academic year, the general education board will in most cases begin July 1, 1920, to pay interest on its subscription. It is hoped that subscribers of supplementary sums will do likewise."

In a few cases institutions are not asking for endowment funds but only temporary contributions toward a capital total annual subscription which is hoped later to fund permanently. The board has made a number of such appropriations on a two or three-year basis.

"For these purposes an additional sum of $2,184,284 was appropriated covering a period of one to three years, making a total appropriated by the general education board from Mr. Rockefeller's special gift of $15,086,050."

"As the amount of money so far as appropriated aggregates only $13,000,000 out of some $50,000,000 to be appropriated, no official announcement will be made by the board of the disposition of funds until the entire amount is apportioned."

"The nearly $38,000,000 yet to be distributed will be appropriated to the remaining institutions as promptly as detailed plans of each can be studied. This, it is hoped, will be completed by the end of the year."
