LOCAL NEWS
FOR RED CROSS.

A successful pie social was held on Saturday evening at the residence of the St. John river, by the residents of that place. A large number were present and the sum of $16 was realized for Red Cross purposes.

GOING CAMPING

Misses Gladys Whelpley, Emma Rand, Ethel Cosman, Edith Thompson, Hazel Gray and Marion Belding and Mrs. F. Newcomb will leave today for a two weeks' camping visit to F. E. Whelpley's camp at Martinon.

TRAVEL BRISK.

There was considerable stir in the depot at noon today because of extra heavy travel not only from American points but returning vacationists from Canadian resorts. Furthermore no fewer than three conventions being held in maritime provincial places created a special traffic of delegates. The Pythians alone made up a big party.

POLICE COURT

Four men were before the magistrate this morning on a charge of drunkenness. They all pleaded guilty and were fined $8 or two months in jail each.

Harry Hayman was before the court charged with being drunk and having liquor in his possession. He was remanded.

OUTING DAYS.

Saturday and yesterday were delightful days along the river, and this morning the sun rose in a clear sky, shining down upon a tranquil stream and a valley bathed in the freshness of the dew, giving the assurance of another rare outing day. There were some fleeting showers, but so light as scarcely to wet the grass, and toward evening a brilliant rainbow arched the eastern sky.

A PLEASING CALL.

At least one conspicuous instance of giving war service at a higher rate of remuneration than in ordinary work has cropped up in town as a result of the service card census. A young lady stenographer who stated her willingness to go anywhere else in Canada to help with the war, was surprised and delighted a few days ago to be called to Ottawa for government duty at a starting salary of just twice as much as she was earning here.

MAY GET TO SIBERIA.

Since government officials have promised that Canada will willingly share in the Siberian enterprise against the Germanizing of Russia, the lads of the Depot Battalion and Ninth Siege Battery are all aflutter with the expectation of being sent to the new battle zone. It was stated with some semblance of official dictum today that in all probability a portion of the battery boys camped at the Head Point in Canada's donation to Russia. The novelty of this strange field of war has an adventurous appeal to the home folks.

SISTER NOW GOING OVERSEAS.

Mrs. Charles H. Williams, widow of a well known English handmaster, Professor Williams, and mother of C. H. Williams, Jr. who is overseas with the 116th Battalion Band as its leader, also Harold H. (Pete) Williams, with the Gordon Hospital, Miss Edith, who has been practising nursing in New England for several years after graduating from Waltham Hospital, Miss Williams could not stand the patriotic pressure any longer and with pure British blood in her veins enlisted with the crack and elite unit of Harvard University and will go across. Mrs. Williams will then have two sons and her only daughter in the service, a continuation of an interrupted family record of army work in the household since the home was established.

HARRINGTON-DINGEE.

A pretty nuptial event of local interest was solemnized in St. Peter's church this morning at 9 o'clock by Rev. P. F. O'Hare, C. S. R., when he united in marriage Harry S. Harrington, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harrington of Lancaster Heights, and Greta M. Dingee, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dingee of Metcalf street. The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Dingee. The mass was served by Owen, Walter and Gordon Hughes, cousins of the bride, Gordon a student at St. Mary's Redemptorist College, Northeast, Pennsylvania. The bride was becomingly attired in a dress of blue silk and lace, while the bridesmaid wore a tailored suit of cream serge and hat of pink Georgette crepe. Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Harkin, cousins of the bride, in-law of the groom, supported the happy principals. After the wedding a tempting breakfast was served at the bride's home. A large number of remembrances were received by Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, who are very popular with a wide circle of friends. The groom's gift to the bride was checked, while other remembrances include a valuable assortment of silverware, cut glass and furniture. The groom is on furlough, having spent one and a half months mine sweeping in the North Sea, and will leave soon for overseas. The best wishes of many friends accompany Mr. and Mrs. Harrington through life.

GOES UP FOR TRIAL ON CHARGE OF THEFT FROM COMRADE

Private Harry Layton, a returned soldier, was before the magistrate this morning on a charge of theft. He pleaded guilty and was sent up for trial.

On Saturday afternoon a soldier named Private Jones came to St. John from Fredericton, where he is receiving treatment. He went to a boarding house in Britain street, where his friend Layton boarded. He left his suit case in Layton's home and went out to spend the evening. He returned home that evening and was given a private bedroom. In the morning he went into Layton's room to get his suit case and found that Layton was gone, also his suit case. The sum of $8 which was in his pocket was missing. He reported the matter to the police and Detective Biddiscombe arrested Layton on the Montreal train last evening, just as it was about to pull out of the station.

Layton made a statement to the effect that he had been drinking heavily on Saturday and Sunday and did not know why he took the suit case. The magistrate said that his case was a sad one, but under the circumstances he would send him up for trial.

WILL PRESENT S. O. S. MEDALS TO BOYS

Owing to a change in the schedule, Prince Arthur of Connaught will arrive at 3 o'clock on next Friday afternoon instead of 2 o'clock, a public reception will be held on King square soon after his arrival.

The time between two o'clock and the arrival of the prince at that place will be taken up in the presenting of medals awarded to the boys enrolled under the banner of the "Soldiers of the Soil," who are now working on farms in this district. Brig-General A. H. Macdonell will present them.

These medals are given by the dominion government in recognition of at least three months' work in the national service on farms by boys between thirteen and eighteen years of age.

There are nearly seventy boys eligible for medals in the St. John district, and the S. O. S. supervisors report that they are all deserving.

Hon. W. E. Foster and His Worship the mayor will address the boys. The employers of the boys are being especially asked to attend this meeting.

The badges that the boys are to receive are very prettily designed. On the top is a sheaf of wheat, and in the center of the badge is a sheaf of wheat, while in a scroll round the same are the words "Canada Food Board" and "Soldiers of the Soil."

THEATRE CHATTER OF LOCAL INTEREST

The Young Women's Patriotic Association is about $65 richer because of the "Everywoman" engagement in this city on last Friday and Saturday. Fifty dollars of this amount was for work of its members and male escorts in the Broadway scene, the remainder for extra ushering service. Last year Loyalist Chapter, I. O. D. E., earned the stage fee.

The local government tax of two, five, ten and fifteen cents on all admissions to "Everywoman" show was also quite a contribution. The city of St. John received $10 a day as a special tax.

Saturday evening Miss Paula Shay's concert played the leading role in the big Savage production, imbuing the part with some highly dramatic moments, though lacking the grace and finesse of Miss Shay.

"Chin-Chin," Charles Dillingham's elaborate Oriental comic operatic extravaganza, was on Saturday contracted by the city for Oct. 4 and 5 to play in St. John.

Ludwig Vroom, brother of Heber Vroom of this city, who came from New York to join the Ninth Siege Battery here, is going to assist in the production of the society comedy "Green Stockings" within a few weeks. The delightful piece was popularized here by Margaret Anglin and a surprising local cast is promised. Mr. Vroom is prominent in the history of theatrical production in the American centre and has been very successful in that art since he left the home town some years ago.

ALONG THE RIVER

Grand Bay would have been a joy to the sailorman on Saturday afternoon, if he had been there with a stout vessel under him and all sails set, making a straight run for the Head Point to Green Head light. The wind was straight down river, and assumed the proportions of a gale. Long rollers, forming great hollows followed each other in endless procession, and the spray at times dashed in at the portholes on either side of the bow of the Queen as she headed into the wind and ploughed her way out of the Narrows and past Boar's Head and Kennebecasis Island. By the time she had got into the Reach the sea was merely ruffled. The charm of constant change is one of the great attractions of river life. Late in the evening, at Public Landing, while the strains of a waltz floated out from the pavilion, the river was calm under a glorious moon, that silvered a broad belt of scarcely rippled surface. Objects stood out clearly in the moonlight, and beyond the river the way line of the hills lay dark against a sky bright with stars.

The large number of dancers in the pavilion on Saturday evening included a number of young people from points beyond the Landing, who greatly enjoyed the motor ride in the moonlight. There is to be a masquerade on Wednesday evening.

A man from the Landing, who was at the motor boat service at Belyea's Point yesterday said there must have been nearly fifty motor cars parked at the point, and he was only able to count four horses. He remarked that ten years had brought a great change in land carriages, as well as in the craft that float on the river.

When a piece of woodland has been cut over and the trees removed, wild raspberry bushes grow and flourish. There are such places all along the river, and next winter a good many city families will enjoy the preserves made from berries they picked during the last week or two. And yet great quantities of this delicious wild fruit go to waste through lack of people to gather it.

A good story is told of two of the boys of the Wiggins Orphanage, who summer above Watters' Landing. These boys were picking strawberries from their huge garden, the largest they have had, when a man approached them and wanted to buy some. They explained that they had been left to pick the berries and not to sell them. It was insinuatingly suggested that nobody need know anything about it.

"Look here," said one of the boys, sharply, "you get out of here!"

And that ended the transaction. Those boys could be trusted anywhere.

Farmers whose cows have access to a stretch of woods, have been doing a lot of cruising lately. No gentle reader, they have not been appointed forest rangers, nor are they connected with the New Brunswick forest survey. One farmer says they are out after toadstools, and another says they are out for what they are after. But if the farmer has to go cruising after them at milking time when the woods are rain-soaked, he is apt to say things. On such a cruise yesterday afternoon a man and boy found the carcass of a moose that had died either from wounds or natural causes.

The people at the Landing were greatly shocked yesterday when the news of the New Glasgow tragedy reached them, for it was only a week ago last Saturday night when Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Bonnell mingled for a pleasant hour with the party enjoying themselves at the pavilion.
