

I GIVE MY BELT FREE Until I Cure You

You've doctor'd and doped till you are sick of it. You would pay for anything that would give you back your old vim. You don't want to pay out more money until you are sure. I will cure you first and you can pay me afterwards. Is that fair? Then get in line.

I know what I can do for you. I have done it, and am doing it now. I'm sure that I can cure you. So if you need that I offer and want to risk, I will cure you free until you are cured, then you can pay me.

And when you do pay me, the cost is less than a short run of drugging, and how much more pleasant. You put my Belt on when you go to bed, and you feel the electricity flowing into your weak body, and while you sleep, the electricity fills you up full of the fire of life. You wake up in the morning, and I give you a case that I don't feel sure of, but I don't charge you. I don't charge you from a waste of vitality, dissipation of energy, from a waste of power, from any organic, stomach, liver or kidney weakness, from any of the cases I am willing to tackle and take chances of. I am sure of it. I ask is reasonable security for my Belt while you are wearing it.

Dear Sir—It is now a long time since I began wearing your Belt, and I am now enjoying better health than I have for years. I have not had a touch of rheumatism since the first week I wore the Belt. The pain in my side has also disappeared. Before getting the Belt it was impossible for me to sit still for more than a few minutes, and I suffered intense pain from any effects of it whatever. I feel it has made a complete cure of my trouble, and I am now able to stand, sit, and walk without the slightest touch of the trouble. Outside of this, nearly all the soreness of my stomach is gone. This is more than I expected as my indigestion was more than fifteen years standing, during which I have doctor'd with a number of different doctors, and taken drugs in all their forms continuously, and I feel that your Belt is all, and does all that you say it is.

M. C. McLAUGHLIN, Box 338, Kenora, Ont.

That's enough. You need the cure. I've got it. You want it. I'll give it to you or you need not pay me a cent. Come and get it now. The pleasurable moments of this life are too few, so don't throw any away. While there's a chance to be husky and strong, to throw out your chest and look at yourself in the glass and say, "I'm a man," do it and don't waste time thinking about it.

I've got a beautiful book, full of good, honest talk about how men are made big and noble, and I'll send it to you, free, sealed, if you send this coupon.

THERE'S TROUBLE AMONG DAUGHTERS OF EMPIRE

Heated Discussion at Annual Meeting in Toronto Over Proposed Radical Change in the Constitution

Toronto, Ont., 20.—After eleven years of existence, in which no harsh word has been spoken to disturb the harmony, the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire was turned into a battlefield at the annual general meeting here when a question of revising the sacred constitution was fought to a finish. The conclusion was a partial victory for the insurgents, led by Miss Constance Boulton, regent of the Chamberlain chapter.

There have been rumors of dissent in the order ever since last spring, when a circular letter sent out by Miss Boulton setting forth her proposal was strongly condemned in another circular emanating from the general executive. The fact that the annual meeting usually held in May was postponed until October in order that the chief officers might attend the coronation, seems to have intensified the ill-feeling, which finally took shape in open conflict between the opposing parties.

Mrs. Albert Gooderham, who, in her inaugural address, ranged herself definitely on the reform side, becomes president by acclamation; Mrs. Fetherstonhaugh and Miss Arnold, also elected by acclamation, become honorary secretary and honorary organizer, respectively. In place of Mrs. George F. Reid and Miss Merritt, who withdrew from office in sympathy with Mrs. Nordheimer. The other chief officers remain the same. Mrs. Nordheimer was unanimously elected member of the order for life.

The proposal of Miss Boulton was that the constitution should be so revised as to give the regents of the different chapters a voice in the meetings of the general council of the order. The circular sent out by the executive, commenting on the proposal, was couched in rather warm language, describing Miss Boulton as an "agitator" and a malcontent seeking to provoke dissension.

Mrs. Colin Campbell, of Winnipeg, moved that all chapters be consulted regarding the proposed change, and that the national executive report at the next annual meeting. This carried.

THE SECRET

All true success is the outcome of real personal interest and genuine endeavor. You may be designing a battleship or you may be thinking out a bright idea for a 15-cent toy, controlling a commercial or puzzling and experimenting with fruits and spices in order to perfect a new recipe for the home table, but the real road to success is just the same in one case as in each of the others. It is not what work you are doing, but how you are doing your work that really counts. You cannot know, unless I have told you, how much personal interest is thrown into the manufacture of H. P. Sauce before its name began to be a household word. The manufacturer—the large firm of small vinegar brewers in the world—were determining upon producing a sauce that should touch the palate and make a name for itself and bring success to the makers.

The Midland Vine Company of England are proud of their H. P. Sauce, proud of the reputation it has earned of being the richest, most piquant, fruit sauce obtainable. Chosen Oriental fruits and spices and purest malt vinegar are the constituent parts of this sauce, but the manner of blending, the "knack" of converting so many different flavors into one delicious whole—that is the secret of H. P. You had better test it for yourself, it's easy. Grocers over here are already selling it freely.

W.C.T.U. MEMBERS DISMISS FIGHT AGAINST CIGARETTE

Ontario Union Reports Letter to King Asking Him to Refuse Name or Brands of Liquor

Winchester, Ont., Oct. 21.—An anti-cigarette campaign is one of the main topics of discussion at the W. C. T. U. provincial convention, being held here. The main speakers so far on this subject have been Mrs. W. Mackie, of Toronto; Mrs. G. W. Grunton, of Toronto; and Mrs. Gordon Wright, of London, the Dominion president. The president referred at some length to the great harm being done to the youth of the land by the use of the cigarette, and surveyed the work done in the war against them. She said that the amount expended to fight cigarette production and sale was $100,000, and that 200,000,000 cigarettes were consumed annually in Canada. These were manufactured by Canadian producers.

Mrs. McAllister, of London, alluded to the recent press references to immorality in the schools, which the press took up until the continent was shaken and the agitation reached overseas.

It was reported that a letter has been sent to King George, asking that he for bid the use of his name upon brands of liquor for advertising purposes. This letter has been acknowledged by the Secretary of State for the Colonies, who said the letter had been laid before His Majesty.

The demand for fat ladies, young old, is still very light. The wily wags with the animated eye and straight front aspect, is, however, much in demand.

The countless stream of Gipsies and Fisher Girl pictures, advertised by every magazine cover, continue to proliferate this situation.

There is only one chance for the fat face. If she can quickly grow into the likeness of the front cover, fascinator, without the hard labor of exercising, or the purgatory of dieting, it seems she ought to try. Her Postponed Grief
(Cosmopolitan).
William Dean Howells, the novelist, was discussing a new volume of poetry. "It is ambitious," he said, "but the tragedy seems to me to be mechanical. I feel, the grief in these verses reminds me of the grief of a Tennessee mountain man."

"She was eating pig's feet one day in the door of her cabin when a neighbor came to tell her bad news. Her husband had got in a fight at the Three Corner Tavern, a ball had lodged in his lungs, and he had died soon after."

"The woman, a pig's foot held mid to her mouth, listened to this harrowing tale in profound silence. Then, falling her pig's foot vigorously, she said: "Wait till I finish this pig's trotter, a ye'll hear some hollerin' as is hollerin'!"
