FREDERICTON, Oct. 5.—Hon. Richard Bellamy, M. L. C., was in the city on Saturday.

The demonstration culminated last night in a vast meeting at which Mr. Gladstone delivered a speech in which he formulated the new Liberal programme, upon which the people of England will be asked to pass judgment at the general election next year. The speech was therefore of exceptional importance, and comments upon it in this morning's Tory newspapers prove that from a Liberal point of view it was all that could be desired.

Up to last night it had been Mr. Gladstone's custom to confine his speeches outside of Parliament almost entirely to the Irish question. But at Newcastle,

The Torist Date for settlement as soon as justice has been done to Ireland. The new programme proves that the Liberals have finally renonneed the Whigs, who, after the general election, must be absorbed into the Tory party. There are some Tory Democrats who ought to be able to subscribe to some portion of the new Liberal creed, but to Whigs like Lord Harrington and Lord Derby all its articles are damnable heresies. The Tories today are positively frantic with rage over this programme of Irish home rule plus British reforms. They had imagined that in the coming fight justice to Ireland would be the solitary Liberal battle cry, which might be met by the shout of "the empire in danger."

They had momentarily forgotten that Mr. Gladstone is not only the greatest statesman and orator, but the most skilful parliamentary and political strategist in the country and political strategist in the country and political strategist in the country and there was no deterioration of oratorical power in the short graceful speech, which he delivered in acknowledgement of the confirment of the freedom of the city of Newcastle. As forecasted here a fortnight ago, the speech was devoted in part to a rebuke of the American tariff makers, but he spoke more in sorrow than in anger.
