PREVIOUS SUBRENDER AND ITS RESULTS.

It is known that a committee of the United States commissioners has prepared a schedule of anticles which may be made the subject of negotia. tions for reciprocal trade. The despatiches do not give the exact details, but they all seem to agree that the sioners have put United States comm down live animals and agricultural products, including barley, coal and certain ores, as articles on which the United States duties might be reduced in return for reduction of the Canadian duty on United States manu factures. We presume that the United States commissioners expect that Canada chall also make the same concessions in agricultural products, minerals and cattle, as are made by the United States.

It will strike the average Canadian as an odd thing that the United States commissioners should require concessions in duties on manufactured goods in addition to mutual concesstons on coal, live animals and agricultural produce, seeing that Canada buys more coal and more farm pro duce from the United States than the United States buys from Canada. We sell to the United States less than three million dollars' worth of coal a year. We buy from the United States nearly nine million dollars' worth. It would seem then that Canada has at kest as much as her neighbor to offer in the way of abatement of coal duties.

In the exchange of grain, we buy from the United States about twice as much as we sell to that country. The principal trade in grain is the sale of Canadian barley in the States and the sale of American norn to Canada Last year Canada sent $1,230,000 to the United States for corn-and shipped barley across the line to the value ly $371,000. It is known at Wash-

For instance, in the St. John speech Mr. Blair said: "We can go up to any part of western Canada drained by the Grand Trank, and we can invite 'reople to ship freight over the I. C. rot sure that we may not be able to board the Parisian the other day he pointed out that the Canadian Pacific had its own line and its own terminus. He remarked also that the Grand Trank was interested in its own termnues and its own steamship connections at Portland, and candidly stated that the company could not be expected to hand over to the Intercolpial the freight collected in Grand Frunk territory. In view of these untoward circumstances the minister of radiways turned the attention of the company to a new connection which he has now in view. This is the Canada Atlantic leading to Parry Sound. In admitting that the Grand Trunk will do all it possibly can to divert trade to Portland, instead of assisting the Intercolonial to take it from Portland, Mr. Blair is simply accepting the arguments made by Mr. Foster and other opposition members, who saw last year that there was no ground for Mr. Blair's confiding trust in the generosity of the Grand Trunk. It is a tardy admission, but It is logical and is supported by experience. We shall hear more of this Parry sound connection in the future. The scheme of a further extension of the Intercolonial westward has been put forward by Mr. Tarte at all times and ons during the last two years. Mr. Blair has become impressed with the cheme, as he usually is with Mr. Tarte's projects, and presently we shall hear that the acquisition of another three handred and fifty miles of railway is absolutely necessary to the success of the Drumn ond railway ex-

Parry Sound is one of many points on the lakes where grain from the Canadian and United States Northwest may be stored in the summer for delivery by rail to the seaboard. It is said that grain is carried from Parry Sound to New York for shipment at a freight rate of ten cents pe hundred pounds. If this is so ten cents is the rate which the Intercolontal would have to make to St. John or Halifax in order get the trade. Between Parry Sound and the Intercolonial terminus there are water transfers and elevator charges which are said to aggregate a little over three cents per hundred pounds. This leaves hardly seven cents for the Canada Atlantic and the Intercoloniai. The haul by the Canada Atlantic is 330 miles, and that by the Intercolonial to St. John is 740 miles. Now seven cents per 100 poinds, or $1.40 per ton, for a haul of 1,060 miles is less than 3-20 of a cent per ton per mile. The

The spruce lumber market is fairly firm. Random lumber is not in very the good demand and is inclined to be easy. The mill men are hesitating to saw lumber for the Boston market unless better prices prevail. Some of the leading lumber manufacturers are desirous of forming a combination of all New England mills, but nothing definite has been done yet, as it is considered desirable to await the outcome of attempts of the Canadians to have the duty on spruce lowered. If the Canadians should by chance be successful, then the proposed combination will have received a set-back. In connection with the decision to repair the steamer Turret Chief at New York instead of at Halifax. Mayor Stephen tells an interesting story. He says he had an intervie Capt. Tait of the firm of Peterwith son & Tait, representative owners of Turret Chief. The mayor says Captain Tait intimated to him that he had no intention of having the steamrepaired at Halifax. Mayor Stetried to dissuade him and was told the dock charges would be no higher here than in New York, and that the work could be equally well done here, but Mr. Tait positively declined to have the job done in this city. He stated that the nment had acted unfairly to ward the firm Capt. Tait repre as regards the contract for the fast line of steamers, and it was the intention of the firm not to spend cent in Canada unless absolute pelled to do so. For this reas ion th Turret Chief was taken away. The mayor remarked to Capt. Tait that Halifax should not be made to; for any unfair act that might freston that Canada would like toexport barley free, into the United States, and no doubt it is worth while for the western states to have a Canadian market for corn. Free barley for free corn would be an agreement quite in favor of the United States. But the American commissioners want something better. They do not propose free barley, but only lower duties, and they want a concession on manufactured goods besides. Why do they ask so much? For the simple reason that Sir Wilfrid has already given them free corn. He did that last year on the eve of this conference and has gone to Washington with mothing to offer in exchange for free barley.

; In the whole range of agricultural products, not including 'animals and their products, nor cotton, nor tobacco, Canada sold to the United States last year hardly two and a half million dollars' worth of goods. In the same year we bought from the United States goods of this class to the value of more than three miltions. Here again the market we offer is better than the one offered us. It is only in live aniimals that Canada ships across the line more than she imports, and the excess is only a million dollars, or far less than the excess of Canadian imports in the other classes. The United States commissioners would make a good bargain. if they could give and take free coal. live animals and agricultural products. But since this kindly Canadian government has given the United States a free market for the best item in the lot, and a reduction in the others, as a sort of preliminary surrender, the United States commi ers feel free to demand as part of the rrice a better market for their manufactures.

TRANSPORTATION ROUTES.

It will be remembered that when the Drummond rallway contract was before parliament Mr. Blair gave a glowing account of the prospects of collecting freight in Ontario along the line of the Grand Trunk. He said that the Grand Trunk company would give cheerful co-operation to the government railway in gathering up freight to deliver to the Intercol at Montreal to be forwarded to St. John and Halifax. Last October the minister of rallways was still sanguine on this point. He was banquetted here at that time, and expounded his railway policy somewhat fully. It was then part of his programme to make extensive use of the mere cost of hauling is more than double that rate

Seven years ago there was a lively discussion in the house of commons over the Intercolonial deficit caused by hauling coal at a loss from the Springhul mines to Chaudiere. The rate which was then condemned and which was finally abandoned was 3-10 of a cent per ton per mile, or double the price at which Mr. Blair will have to carry grain from Parry Sound, if our information is correct. In the coal argument it was asserted that no railway could do business without loss at a less rate of freight than half a cent per ton per mile. The railway companies still figure out their business with this as a minimum rate, and we believe that neither the Grand Trunk nor the Canadian Pacific do business for much less. On that basis the Intercolonial and Canada Atlantic will need to have $5.30 per top or 261-2 cents per 100 pounds on grain from Parry Sound to St. John. We may at st assume that the Canada Atlantic will not do business at a loss. All discussions of the question of the wiater export of heavy grain lead up to one conclusion. To get even a sha of the trade for Canadian ports the price must be cut in our favor either by the land or water transportation companies. By the nearest route to St. John the distance to be effaced is from 100 to 200 miles, which is repre-sented by one and a half to three cents bushel on grain. With this disadvantage the Canadian port nearest the source of supply will be able to cap-ture a fair share of the business, provided the traffic takes the shorter route. But when it comes to a delib-erate addiion of 260 miles by a longer route, or another hundred miles still to a more distant port, the handicap will be so much greater. However, Mr. Blair is trying the ex-eriment, and has declared his intenion of giving close competition to both trunk lines. The result will be atched with interest. Whether it acceeds or fails, the new wharves and elevator to be built on the east side will have their work to do. It is no farther from Montreal to Long Wharf distance is some 550 miles the have it on government We authority that the South Shore road is longer than the Drummond, and though Mr. Armstrong may cut off some corners farther east it seems unlikely that he will be able to get a shorter route to the Bale des Chaleurs than the C.
