Do Not Enthuse Over the Pan-American Exposition.

But Will Trail in When the Merits of the Great Buffalo Show Hit New England.

Theatrical House in Trouble-Tom Lawson's Yacht a Racing Failure - Recent Deaths - The Lumber and Fish Markets.

(Special Correspondence of the Sun.) BOSTON, July 9.- Boston has been enjoying cool weather for four or five days. The change coming as it did after a week of excessive heat, was received with joy by all classes of citizens, especially by those who are not so situated that they can leave towh at a moment's notice. During the hot wave the suffering among the poor and in the tenement house districts was pitiable to behold. The heavy mortality was largely confined to this class. The Boston & Maine railroad officials and all the eastern steamship lines still report a heavy travel outward. The vacation and tourist season is almost at its height. This year many New Yorkers and persons residing in western and southern cities are passing through Boston on their way to the seashore or country. This season promises to be a record breaker for this class of travel. These cities have been much hotter than usual and this doubtless accounts for the long journey which many are taking. Regarding the Pan-America exposition, it cannot be said that the public desire to attend the show is over-strong at this time. Many probably prefer to go to Buffalo later the season, when better weather assured. Just now, however, little is heard here about the exposition, although quite a number of Bostonians are probably among the sight-seers

Boston sportsmen are a disgusted looking crowd of citizens just now, because of the miserable showing made by the local yacht Independence in the Newport races. IRISH WORLD ORDERED SUP-PRESSED

Sale Stopped in Massachusetts Because of an Umpatriotic Cartoon.

BOSTON, July 6.-The issue of the Irish World of this week has been suppressed and the sale prohibited in Massachussets. The police of the various cities have acted on the initiative of Augustus Bedford, who says he is secretary of the American Flag Protectors, an organization which he says pays particular attention to saving the flag from being defaced or used for advertising purposes. eason assigned for the order of prohibiting the sale of the paper is that on its first page this week it contains a reproduction of a picture of the flag printed by the Detroit News.

The inscription on the flag reads: "This flag stands for Liberty, Equal ity, Independence, Justice and Fraternity, if Congress or the President

The words, "If Congress or the President so will," are inscribed on the white grounds, which is represented as patched on the end of the flag, the Uncle Sam are representations of three children wearing broad-brimmed straw hats, labelled "Porto Rico," "Cuba," and "Philippines." Beneath is the motto, "Flag Day in the De pendencies," and then the quotation "O, say, does that Star Spangled Ban ner yet wave o'er the land of the fre and the home of the brave?"

The picture on the first page sur mounts a fac simile of the Declaration either side by two articles, one bearing the heading "McKinley forced was upon Spain—The President withheld from Congress the Queen Regent's exalted message of peace—Guided by political expediency—A Presidential nessage Queen's full concessions and deceived

Secretary Bedford notified the police throughout the state last night and the sale of the paper was prohibited. When the announcement was made that the sale was prohibited the paper was in great demand and was selling at a premium. Mr. Bedford says he is an Orangeman, but that he would have done as he did if an organ of that society acted in a like manner.

THE TRANSMISSION OF POWER FROM NIAGARA.

According to Traction and Trans mission, the great plant of the Falls is today developing power which, if produced by a steam plant so econo mically designed and operated as to consume but 3 lb. of coal per kilowatthour at the switchboard, would re quire 800 tons per day throughout the year, say; 300,000 tons per annum. This is accomplished without impoverish-ing the future, or without subtracting a single horse-power from that which nature intended, not only for our time but for future ages. It affords a strik effect of electric transmission of powe on our coal supplies. The total powe transmitted at the present tim army of one million men doing the hardest kind of physical labor could not maintain that rate of working for a single day. Of this, 5,000 horse power will be transmitted to the Pan American Exposition over nine con ductors connecting the central station at Niagara Falls with the termina station in Buffalo. The pressure I tween Buffalo and the Falls will 22,000 volts, and between the termina station on Niagara street and the exposition grounds it will be 11,000 volts So great is the public interest nowa days in everything relating to electricity, that there is little doubt, say Traction and Transmission, that the electric equipment of the Pan-American will prove as instructive and en be seen there. The transformer plant will of itself be an exhibit, and will be located next to the General Electric Company's main exhibit, which will be the largest ever attempted by that of water per minute will be available for the attractive fountain effects; in basins about the fountains there will be a blending of water and light until the beauty appears endless,

BOER PRISONERS

At Bermuda Restless for Lack of Occupation -Recognize Their Cause is Hopeless.

Recognize Their Cause is Hepeless.

HAMILTON, Bermude, Thursday, July 4.—
The Boer prisoners are, taking them as a whole, a fine looking lot of men, and one feels much sympathy for them in their lack of occupation and the evident longing for home and freedom which possesses them. The Free Staters, some 800 men, have been placed on Darrell's Island, and the Transvalers, a less contented crowd, whose contessed desire is to be free to fight again, and who number only about 130, are on Burtts or Moses Island. The former are orderly and quiet, well mannered, and many of them educated. They say then never wanted to fight, but that it was a case of "fight or be shot."

They recognize also that their cause is hopeless and only desire to return to their homes to live peacefully. One of them said:
"I know our cause is lost. All I want is to return to my family—my wife and my six children. I left them enough money to last them for 12 months, but I have been away now for 16 months. However, I trust the British government will take care of them."
This is the tone of most of the Free Staters.

This is the tone of most of the Free Staters.

The want of occupation is the chief cause of complaint. They want tools—flees and small saws—which are, of course, not allowed. They have busied themselves in the manufacture of various souvenirs which they readily sell, but their only tools are penknives, most of them with broken blades, and sharpened nails and pleces of wire. One man ingeniously manufactures knitting needles from barbed wire.

Many of the prisoners have English names, being the descendants of Englishmen who married and settled in South Africa. They speak excellent English, too, and there are several who are British born subjects, but who were "commandered" and forced to fight.

On the occasion of the disembarking from who were "commandeered" and forced to fight.

On the occasion of the disembarking from the troopship to the island camp, last Monday, crowds of people gathered in boats to witness the proceeding, and in some of the boats which got among the craft conveying the prisoners were several persons who got an opportunity to speak a few words to the Boers. One lady was accosted by a prisoner, who apologized for addressing her, by saying that it was so long—sixteen months—since he had a chance to speak to a woman that he could not resist it. The same lady obtained several souvenirs, such as carved obtained several souvenirs, such as carved stone brooches, mechanical toys and carved boxes, most of them bearing carved images of Mr. Kruger.

Martial law has been proclaimed. It is impossible for civilians to have any intercourse with the Boers.
