Woman's Power Over Man

Women's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the purest and truest love of a worthy man. When she loses it, she loses the heart agony no one in the wide world can ever understand. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organs soon loses the power to ever be the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her good looks, her attractiveness, her amiability and her power and prestige as a woman. Dr. R.V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N.Y., with his power and prestige as a physician, has prescribed for and cured many the weakness of his wife of 45 years. He has devised a successful remedy for women's ailments, known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive tonic for the weakness and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates, strengthens and heals. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and strengthen Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

THE GRANITETOWN GREETINGS

THE WORLD LOOKS DARK

To the Dyspeptic. How to Make It Bright.

Father Morrice, the learned priest-physician, realized that many of the difficulties and troubles of this world are due to indigestion. He believed that to get a proper mental and spiritual attitude, a normal digestive apparatus is very helpful. The good Father therefore gave much study to the important question of the stomach.

His famous prescription, "No. 11," for dyspepsia and indigestion, consists of simple tablets cleverly compounded from the materials in Nature's laboratory. Each tablet will perfectly digest a full meal of 1 1/2 pounds of food.

Father Morrice's "No. 11" has brought ease and continued health to thousands of sufferers who had previously tried other remedies in vain. It instantly relieves and in due time restores the stomach to full vigor.

If you suffer at times or regularly from a sick, sour, dyspeptic stomach, try No. 11, and see how quickly you can again enjoy hearty meals, and how bright the world looks once more.

In convenient flat boxes at 50c. each. Get a box from your dealer, or from Father Morrice Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.B.

Base-Ball Slang

Some years ago baseball was hailed as a compelling force in the spread of the English or American language, mainly because, according to accounts, a New York German paper, which had previously excluded every word of English from its reading columns, found itself forced to print the baseball news in the tongue that is used on the coaching lines and in disputes with the umpire. "Pitcher" could be translated "wrecker" and the catcher might be masquerading as "dangler," but after the reporters had blundered many pencils in desperate attempts to describe the intricacies of the national game in an alien tongue, the obtuse Teutonic editor yielded, and the baseball column thereafter appeared in what passes for English.

Considerations such as these add cogency to the protest of the Providence Journal against the reactionary demands emanating "from various purists of the press who would eliminate slang from baseball stories and substitute plain English."

This protest, which became of moment says The Journal, only when it was traitorously seconded by a prominent baseball weekly, is vigorously negated by enthusiasts who do not wish their base-ball reports to "read like one of Henry James' short stories." The Journal quotes an expert in the language appropriate to the game as explaining that.

"Ever since base-ball began, it has had a language of its own. The slang that the baseball writer is accused of slinging so profusely has become inseparably a part of the game. It is hot off the bat, it is brief and graphic. It tells its story tersely and always to the point.

"There is a picturesqueness in the line of goods handled by the baseball writer that you don't stack up against anywhere else in the paper. The English he uses may not be errorless, and some of it may be unintelligible to the common herd, but it is vivid, concise and usually coherent. And, if I remember correctly, my dear old college professor was always strong for vividness and conciseness.

The Tame Seal

All visitors to Sant Catalina Island make the acquaintance of Ben, the big seal, who is constantly seen in the waters of the harbor swimming on the surface or under the water in the shallows. This huge animal is as playful as a kitten and just about as tame although he is not in any sense a captive, as he has the whole pacific ocean to range in. Ben is always on the lookout for a fish dinner, and when a visitor attracts his attention by throwing a big stone into the water he will come barking with delight and dive for it. As he takes his disappointments good naturedly, he is usually rewarded with a real fish.... The Comrade.

He Knows It.

AUTO RUNS INTO BEAR; CARRIED ON HOOD OF CAR

Bangor, Me. Aug 17--A motor car driven by Edward Hopkins of New York collided with a large black bear in the highway in the town of Lagrange on Tuesday morning, causing slight damage to the car, but giving both the motoring party and the bear a bad fright.

The party composed of Mr. Hopkins and his wife and their guests, John P. Fossett of New York, and Miss Marion Gordon of Philadelphia, were returning from a tour of northern Maine, and at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning were running through Lagrange at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour, when the bear rose up on its haunches directly in the middle of the road. Mr. Hopkins, who was driving, had his choice of ditching the car or striking the bear, expecting to toss the animal to one side.

Instead of being brushed aside, however the bear fell sprawling upon the car, and in that position was carried some distance, growing and clawing, while the women of the party shrieked in terror.

Finally the car struck a bad place in the road and bounced the bear off. The animal fell under one wheel thus ditching the car.

The occupants of the car were not hurt, and soon had the machine righted. The bear was somewhat dazed, but quickly made off into the woods.

The Assassin

Lips of the millions breathe their earnest prayer,

Hope baffles doubt and joy succeeds despair,

As hour by hour the glad tidings swell:

"He's getting well! Thank God, he's getting well!"

But raging with a force we need must heed,

A thirst of vengeance for the dastard deed--

Vengeance against the hand which all alone

Made the whole nation grit its teeth and moan.

Vengeance? But wait and let us all give pause,

Can it be meted out by man-made laws?

Can our just rage with vengeance be appeased

By punishment upon his mind diseased?

What vengeance worked by us can give again

Light to that dull, dark, bleak, besogged brain?

Of all known penalties who knows of one

Can make him know the thing that he has done?

Poor, crack-brained wretch! There in his cell he sits,

The victim of his tortured, twisted wits,

When all the world looks on with scorn to see,

What punishment than that could greater be?

Millions Loss by Forest Fires in West.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 15--Until general rain comes to break the long dry period it is evident that the forest fires now raging in a score of districts all over the Pacific Northwest will remain a serious menace. The cost at present can be counted only in millions, but how many millions can scarcely be guessed.

The forerunner gives no hope for rain. Forest rangers and settlers are working day and night in the Coeur d'Alene region, Idaho, where three towns have been wiped out.

The eastern part of Washington has suffered severely. A line of fire is still maintained in the Colville reserve.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 16.--At Wallace, Idaho, hundreds of pounds of dynamite hung to the limbs of trees on the high points surrounding the city and exploded in the hope that the effect might produce rain to check the devastation by forest fires, it is said to have had a result for last midnight rain began falling for the first time in two months. The fall has been heavy.

Only those who have worries can afford to look worried.

Census of Crops.

Ottawa, August 12--The Census Bureau shows that the conditions of field crops in Canada this year have been greatly modified by temperature and rainfall, and that between the East and the West it is hardly possible to make a statement of averages that will not be misleading. In the eastern provinces growth has been uniformly good through out July, and the percentages of condition have been high for every crop; but in extensive tracts of the Northwest provinces drought has prevailed and crops are reported in every stage of ruin.

The northern parts of these provinces have been largely exempt from the drought, and there the percentage conditions are high. It is difficult to fairly average conditions for the East and West which does not take account of the areas sown, and these have been considerably reduced since the June report. The August report will give revised figures from which yields may be estimated.

In comparing the crop conditions for 1909 and 1910 it should be remembered that fall wheat, rye, peas, buckwheat, mixed grains, beans, potatoes, hay and clover and corn are principally produced in the eastern provinces; and spring wheat and flax mostly in the northwest.

Fall wheat is grown chiefly in Ontario, and its condition for all Canada has been reduced by a relatively poor crop in Alberta. Compared with the condition at the same time last year, it is 84.63 to 76.53. Rye is 85.20 in 1910 to 81.84 in 1909; peas is 81.70 to 87, buckwheat 87.64 to 86.15, mixed grains 99.91 to 87.23.

Beans 85.43 to 84.33, potatoes 81 to 92, hay and clover 90.87 to 73.79, corn for husking 84.30 to 82.86 and corn for fodder 89.76 to 83. These crops, which are mainly grown in the East, show a high average of condition, affected only in a slight degree by reports for the west.

The average condition of spring wheat is 77 for 1910 to 84.57 for 1909, and of oats 79.57 to 87.78 for all Canada, which is substantially lower than the averages for the East. In the three Northwest provinces the condition of spring wheat is 62, of oats 53.62 and of barley 63.60.

The estimated yield of fall wheat in the country is 18,724,000 bushels, being 26.46 bushels per acre. The hay and clover crop is estimated at 15,490,000 tons, or 1.80 tons per acre, and of alfalfa 1.92 tons per acre.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

The oyster is wise. It never opens its mouth until forced.

A man with a sunny disposition seldom has a hot temper.

Probably the most popular illustrated paper is the bank note.

After giving us a lift the elevator man is ready to run us down.

A woman can't help admiring a man if he tells her she is good looking.

Flattery will open a woman's heart much quicker than it will open a man's purse.

Better a man who fails in his efforts to do something than one who never tries.

The strongest belief that a conceited man has is that he isn't.

An extra hateful bill to pay is when it was for something useful.

Temptation plays a game where nobody else has a chance to win.

A woman is willing to slave herself to death for a man who tells her she inspires him to want to do noble things for her.

A woman never loses interest in a man as long as he knows something she is anxious to find out.

'Are you going to take in summer boarders this year, Josiah?'

'All we kin, sir.'

MUSIC TREAT AT ST. JOHN FAIR

Famous Ladies Orchestra a Magnificent Feature.

Musical lovers are quite rightly contemplating delightful music at the St. John Fair in St. John, N. B., September 5th to 15th, and, judging from the newspaper comment in American editions, their expectations will be fully met.

Madame Belle Weston Renfrew's Ladies Orchestra of twenty-five players will, of course, programme twice daily beneath the new music gallery in the main building. This organization is the finest of its kind in existence, and is a favorite at important musical events, being killed in the same programme with the famous United States Marine Band of Washington, Creators' Italian Band, Sousa's Band and Arthur Pryor's Band. In Pittsburgh last year the Renfrew orchestra made a sensational hit, and after the big Exhibition was closed in that city, played a successful week's engagement in one of the leading theatres at the request of a discriminating public.

The following sample programme will indicate the versatility of Madame Renfrew's players:

Coronation March Meyerbeer

Overture, 'Beautiful Galatea,' Von Suppe

Cornet Solo, 'The Rosary,' Nerin

American Sketch, 'Swanee River,' Myddleton

Selection from 'Carmen,' Bizet

Overture, 'Othello,' Weber

Waltz, 'Artist's Life,' Strauss

Violin Solo, 'Second Polonaise,' Wieniawski

Mexican Idyl, 'The Mesa Grande,' Maurice

Descriptive Fantasia, 'Americans Abroad,' Bratto

National Anthem.

Who Likes Rain

I said the duck, I said it fun,

For I have my little red rubber on;

They make a cunning three toed track in the soft, cool mud, Quack! Quack!"

'I said the dandelion, I

My roots are thirsty, my buds are dry'

And she lifted her little yellow head

Out of her green and grassy bed.

'I hope 'twill pour! I hope 'twill pour!'

Croaked the tree toad at his grav bark door;

'For, with a broad leaf for a roof,

I am perfectly weather proof.'

Sang the brook, I laugh at every drop,

And wish they never need to stop.

Till a big river I grow to be

And could find my way to the sea."

What's in a Word.

There's a Milwaukee man who has been prosperous in business and whose note is worth anything within reason that he is willing to write it for. Not so long ago he received a check from the United States Government for $10 to his firm. He took it to the post office to have it cashed.

The clerk said he would cash it if the man would endorse it.

"Oh, no you don't," the man answered. "I promised my partner when I went into business with him that I would never endorse any paper in the firm's name."

"Well, then, just the name of the firm across the back; that will answer the purpose," the wily clerk persuaded.

"Sure, I'll do that," and he did.

"You are charged with larceny. Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"Not guilty!"

"I thought I was but I have been talking to a lawyer and he convinced me that I ain't."
