CHARLES MCCARTHY DROWNED
IN LOWER COVE YESTERDAY

Fell from Thomas Wisted & Company's Wharf—Martin Burns Made Brave but Unsuccessful Attempt to Rescue Unfortunate Man—Dove Twenty-five feet to Water.

Charles McCarthy was drowned at Lower Cove yesterday afternoon, in spite of an heroic attempt to save his life made by Martin Burns. McCarthy, who was a night watchman at the Sugar Refinery, was on the end of the wharf occupied by Thomas Wisted & Co., at Lower Cove, when he slipped and fell into the dock on the south side. As he struggled in the water his cries for help attracted the attention of a number of men engaged in unloading sand from a barge in the slip, among whom were Martin Burns, Oliver Emery, Peter McDade, William McKee, Paul McDade and Jack McDade. Some of the men started in search of a boat to go to the rescue of the struggling man, but there were no rowboats immediately at hand. Martin Burns ran down to the end of the wharf. When he reached there McCarthy had gone under, but a few bubbles indicated the place where he had gone down, and Burns, leaping into the water, a distance of twenty-five feet, dove under, and managed to get hold of the drowning man and drag him back to the surface. Hardly five minutes had elapsed since the man had fallen in, but by the time Burns got hold of him he was apparently dead, and though a strong swimmer, Burns had much difficulty in keeping the inert body on the surface. Peter McDade, who had followed down the wharf, threw over a plank, and Burns getting hold of it, managed to hold up the dragging weight until a boat rowed by three men from the sand scows arrived and hauled him and his burden out of the water.

When McCarthy was brought ashore he was apparently dead, but as he had only been a short time in the water it was thought that life was not extinct, and under the direction of John F. Murphy, of Cambridge, Mass., who had just landed from the Calvin Austin, and who had learned first aid in the Boston Woolen Mill, an effort was made to bring him back to life. Dr. Howley, who had been summoned, was soon at hand, and assisted in trying to restore life, but the application of first aid was unavailing, and the body was placed in the shed of William Lewis & Sons. From there it was shortly taken to the General Public Hospital, where another effort was made to restore it to life, but without success.

When the body was examined it was found that there was a bruise behind the ear and a cut over the eye, and it is supposed that in falling over the wharf McCarthy struck something, and that the injuries he received made it impossible for him to keep up long enough for rescue to reach him. McCarthy was a man of about 48 years of age, and boarded on Britain street, his wife being at present in the States. He has two sons, Peter and John, in the States. Hugh, a brother, lives here.

Martin Burns, who dove into the dock in a brave but unheroic, futile effort to save the life of McCarthy, lives in Carleton, and has a record as a life saver. He has saved four men from drowning at Sand Point, and two at Randolph and Baker's Mill.

WEDDINGS.

Jewett-Adams.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Adams, Pollyhurst, when their eldest daughter, E. Louise, was united in marriage to Frank B. Jewett, of Burden, York Co. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. W. Paterson under an arch of evergreens and cut flowers. The bride entered on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march which was beautifully rendered by Miss Lizzie Rinnas. The bride wore a gown of white silk, with white and crystal trimmings, and wore a Juliet wedding veil with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white peonies and maidenhair fern. Her sister, Miss Adams, who was bridesmaid, was attired in a dainty costume of lavender and white, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas. The groom was supported by Humbert A. Beckett, of Boston.

The dining room was prettily decorated for the occasion. They were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents showing the esteem in which both were held. They will leave for their future home in Burden, York Co., on Friday, in the Fredericton boat. The bride's travelling outfit, blue and black two-toned whipcord, with black velvet picture hat, trimmed with plumes and Irish point lace.

Upper Canadian Manufacturers Arrived Here Last Evening—To Courtenay Bay and Harbor Trip.

The manufacturers who have been attending the convention of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at Halifax arrived here about 11.30 last evening and spent the night in their cars, including the ladies the party numbers about 150. This morning they will be shown about the city, and given an opportunity to see the winter port of Canada. At 9.30 o'clock automobiles will leave the station and the Royal Hotel, and take the manufacturers for a trip to Courtenay Bay. A number of local manufacturers and members of the Board of Trade have arranged to provide automobiles to take the party for the trip, and those in charge of the arrangements say they hope owners of automobiles who have not been invited, owing to press of other matters, will be on hand with their cars, as it is expected that more cars will be needed than have been arranged for. At 10.30 the party will be on the scene of the Norton Griffiths works, and the return to the city will be made as speedily as possible. Arrangements at the York Market wharf at 11 o'clock the party will board the government steamer Curlew which has been loaned the occasion, and will make a trip through the Falls to Indian town. From there they will leave for Fredericton at 12 o'clock on the steamer Victoria; it was reported in an evening paper that the Victoria was going on a Trades and Labor excursion today, but this is said to be incorrect.

On the trip up the river the party will be accompanied by Premier Fleming, Mayor Frink, members of the city commissioners and the Board of Trade, local manufacturers and others. All citizens are invited to join in the trip, and help make the party feel at home on the River St. John.

On arriving at Fredericton the party will take in the exhibition there, and each will be kept in order to give the visitors an opportunity to see what the province can produce. The St. John people accompanying the party will leave Fredericton at 9 o'clock on the return trip home. Among the party are some of the most prominent manufacturers of Canada, and every effort will be made to impress them with the possibilities of St. John and the province generally. DIVIDENDS OF 10 P. C. MONTHLY.

Expected to Begin January 1st, or Possibly December 15th.

The latest news from Rochester Hills Mining Co. is contained in a letter dated Sept. 13th, and is as follows:

"The big power plant is expected to be installed within the next forty days. We will then be able to produce four to five hundred tons of ore per day. The average value is around forty dollars per ton, which will net a profit of $5,000 per day, or nearly a quarter of million dollars monthly. The big Goldfield mine produced over one million dollars per month for a year, when they were in the cream."

"We will probably pay our first dividend about Jan. 1st, but shall try to make it by Dec. 15th, in order to make the dividend ten cents per share, paying it monthly, during the life of the lease."

"We stockholders buying treasury stock are to receive their money back, before any of the promotion stock shares in the dividends, which positively guarantees you and your friends against loss. You can readily see what a bright future we have."

(Signed) "A. A. CODD."

J. S. Currie reports that the stock is going steadily, one of the last orders being called here from Liverpool, Eng. Only about twenty thousand shares are now available here and this block will probably be disposed of within the next ten or twenty days. Most of the buying is being done by present stockholders."
