Last Saturday night, Jim Wilson, and two friends, Gordon Baker and George de Entremont, were motoring to Kingston and were participants in an accident. The car they were riding in was struck by an auto from Berwick, driven by Mr. Daniels. Wilson's car was thrown into the ditch and his wheels jammed. Gordon Baker underneath. When Gordon was released from his tight quarters, he was found to be only slightly bruised. It seems that the boys were about to pass a horse and buggy, and Mr. Daniels thinking there was sufficient room to go between was how the accident occurred.
