Much Depends on HOW You Sow!

A lot depends on the seed you use—a whole lot upon how you sow it. Proper seeding means that every seed is deposited where it will get the best chance. The "Leader" Disc Drill places the seed right at the bottom of the furrow, because the shields go well down on the discs. No haphazard scattering of seed when you are seeding with a "Leader."

Old-time drills have disc castings of grey iron. We discarded this method, and equipped the "Leader" Drill with malleable disc castings, giving more strength with far less weight. The discs on the "Leader" will run clean through stiff mud and heavy trash without choking. They are made of high-quality steel that will not break when you strike stones or tough roots. Broken disc castings are things unknown to users of "Leader" Disc Drills.

The discs on the "Leader" are rigidly held at the proper cutting angle and run on chilled bearings provided with dust-proof hard oil compression cups. Other good features told about in our free booklet. Write for it.

Simonds Crescent Ground Cross-Cut Saws

This saw will cut 10% more timber, same time and labor being used, than any other brand of Cross-Cut Saw made. This guarantee has stood for thirty years.

There are two reasons for the superiority of the Simonds Saw, grinding and steel.

A saw that does not land in the kerf cuts easy; a saw that binds is a bother. Careful grinding insures saws ground so that the teeth are all of even thickness, and about the length of the saw and the blade tapered for clearance in the kerf. Clearer, consistent with a strength of blade which enables the saw to cut easily as well as pull the saw. Crescent grinding is an exclusive Simonds feature on Simonds Crescent Cross-Cut Saws.
