and side-fronts sag or blouse just enough to be stylish, and under-arm gores give a smooth effect at the sides. The waist may be made with an open neck, the yoke being omitted; or it may be completed high with a standing collar. Over the standing collar is arranged a crush collar of plain white chiffon that is formed in a loop bow at the left side, a similar bow ornamenting it at the right side; and a double frill of chiffon trims the upper edge of the collar. A picturesque feature of the waist is the large fancy collar, the ends of which are joined to the front edges of the side-fronts. The collar separates in points below its shoulder seams and shapes a slight point at the center of the back; it gives the fashionable broad-shoulder effect, reaching out well on the sleeves, which may be in short puff style or in elbow length or full length, as illustrated. The full-length and elbow sleeves have a puff at the top and fit the arm closely below. Two frills of embroidered chiffon, each frill headed by three rows of narrow velvet ribbon, decorate the full-length sleeves between the puff and the elbow, and the wrists are completed with Venetian cuffs that are covered with insertion and bordered with a frill of the embroidered chiffon, three rows of the narrow velvet ribbon heading the cuff.

Silk, which comes in every variety of rich and beautiful colors, may be combined with chiffon, poplin with taffeta or Liberty silk or zibeline with lace net over silk to develop this waist pleasingly. Appliqué trimming, satin or velvet ribbon, ribbon ruching, etc., may be used for ornamentation.

We have pattern No. 2065 in eight sizes for ladies from thirty to forty-four inches, bust measure. To make the waist for a lady of medium size, requires four yards and a fourth of taffeta silk twenty inches wide, with seven-eighths of a yard of chiffon forty-five inches wide for the center-front and stock. Price of pattern, 10d. or 20 cents.

LADIES' SHIRT-WAIST. (TO BE MADE WITH OR WITHOUT THE FITTED LINING AND BACK-YOKE FACING.)

No. 2106.—An extremely pretty style of shirt-waist is illustrated made of blue silk and finished with machine-stitching. A smooth yoke, having a center seam and curved at the lower edge to shape a deep point at the seam, is applied on the back, which has slight gathered fulness drawn down close at the waist. The full fronts are in V outline at the top and are gathered at the shoulders and at the waist and blouse fashionably at the center, the sides being smooth. A pretty feature is the large lapel-collar, which laps over triangular revers joined to the fronts with the effect of double lapels. A chemisette topped with a stylish standing collar and closed at the back is revealed in the open neck. The closing is made under an applied box-plait at the center of the front. The waist may be made with or without a fitted lining. The one-piece seam shirt sleeves are gathered at the top and bottom, and the slashes at the back of the wrist are finished with invisible laps. Straight link cuffs complete the sleeves stylishly.

The waist may be developed in many beautiful fabrics, and, if desired, a combination may be used. Blue-and-white striped French flannel and plain blue flannel are combined in a waist made by the mode. The lapels and lapel-collar and the cuffs are of the plain blue flannel, and with
