Mr. L. C. McCourt,
Lecturer in Animal Husbandry,
Macdonald College, Que.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 15th instant addressed to Mr. Mackenzie King has come to hand, unfortunately, at a time when Mr. King is so much pressed with parliamentary duties as to be unable to give to correspondence the personal attention he would like.

Mr. King wishes me to mention, however, that if you should have access to his volume on "Industry and Humanity" you would find in it, and particularly in the chapters on "Representation in Industry" and "Government in Industry", an expression of his views such as you have requested, bearing on the subject of your debate. You will find also in a pamphlet of Mr. King's writing, entitled "The Four Parties to Industry", something of the same viewpoint. A copy of this pamphlet is being sent to you herewith, with Mr. King's compliments.

An article by Dr. Royal Meeker on "Employees' Representation in Management of Industry" has to-day come to Mr. King's attention, and is enclosed herewith. Mr. King believes you would be interested in its discussion of the question of Labor's participation in the management of industry.
