parlor and drawing room. The bed rooms, a large number of which have private baths, are comfortably furnished. It has an electric elevator. It is heated by hot water and lighted by electricity. It has a pool and billiard room, writing rooms and library, as well as the many smaller conveniences that give comfort and distinction to a first-class inn.

The Ellis House, at Port Maitland, eight miles from Yarmouth, facing one of the finest bathing beaches on the Bay of Fundy, is an up-to-date summer hotel of some fifty rooms, nearly all of them open to the sea and furnished with hot and cold water, good light and other conveniences.

Among the moderate-priced hotels, both the Oxford and the Hawthorn offer travelers well-furnished and well-ventilated sleeping rooms and good meals. Yarmouth has a large number of boarding houses, among which the Shady Lawn, conducted by Mrs. Erastus Baker; the Ellis House, owned by the Misses Ellis, and that of Mrs. Charles D. Suthern, are well known and where tourists may have all the advantages of a home at very moderate rates.

BANKS.

Of the three banks located in Yarmouth, the Royal Bank of Canada opened a branch in Yarmouth in 1910, following the purchase of the business of the Union Bank of Halifax, and occupies one of the most attractive bank buildings in the Province. The institution has four hundred branches in Canada and the West Indies. It has an authorized capital of $25,000,000, a paid up capital of $12,911,000, while its reserve and undivided profits are $14,324,000, and its total assets amount to $295,000,000.

The Bank of Nova Scotia, founded in 1832, has had a branch in Yarmouth since 1839. It has at present one hundred and eighty-nine branches in Canada, Newfoundland, West Indies and the United States. It has a capital of $6,500,000. Its assets totaled December 30th, 1916,
