

viev, that it is both unscriptural and inexpedient to use alcoholic wine in the administration of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. There are others also who consider that it is peculiarly improper for reformed drunkards to take the Sacrament in highly brandied wines and intoxicating liquor; and cases of the fatal danger of this practice have so frequently occurred, as to have made the change to the genuine "fruit of the vine" extremely desirable in the view of many thinking persons.

OTHER ORGANIZATIONS.

An American paper of late date says, " We have quite a variety of temperance societies, some of which combine benefits in case of sickness and death with total abstinence. There are Sons of Temperance, Daughters of Temperance, Temples of Honour, Washingtonians, and a host of others; and last, though not least, the coloured people are coming to the rescue, and are forming societies with the agreeable appellation of Brothers of the Fountain.
