Holsteins at the Canadian National

Whether or not the Canadian National of 1918 will go down in history as the year of the big showing of Hoisteins is a question on which would not venture a guess, but this much is certain that, compared with previous years, it stands ahead. The entries were about 50 per cent more numerous than last year-

278 entries all told.

Not only in the matter of numbers is the improvement noticeable. Even more marked is the improvement in quality. It is not so many years since, even in the show ring of the Canadian National, one might expect to find as different types as there animals in the class, but of late years there has been a marked improve-ment. Each year the units have been eliminated, until this year one might look down a line of twenty youngsters and not see a poor individual in the whole lot. In fact, on several occasions Judge Moscrip remarked that it was a matter of "hair splitting" for the whole seven placings. This uniformity is particularly noticeable in the young classes. The Holstein breeders have reason to feel proud of the splendid showing of their breed this

It was a battle of giants right through. Nearly all the old-time Western Ontario exhibitors were out with strong exhibits, and the money was very evenly divided among them. The following were the exhibitors: Dyment following were the exhibitors: Dyment Pros. Dundas; Gordon S. Gooderflam, Clarksons; M. H., Haley, Springford; W. C. Prouse, Tillisonburg; W. Lemon, Lynden; Neol Marshall, Dunbarton; W. G. Halley, Paris; W. M. Bell, Springford; Fred Row, Curries; A. E. State Nowschi, I.a. Battle, Narwich; A. Estate Nowschi, I.a. Battle, Narwich; A. E. State Nowschi, I.a. Battle, Narwich; A. State Narw Hulet, Norwich; Jas. Rettle, Norwich; T. H. Chant, Norwich; E. E. Hanmer, Norwich; Jno. A. Orchard, Shedden; C. N. Hüliker, Burgessville; L. H. Lip sitt, Straffordville; E. Snyder, Burgessville; J. Teifer, Milton West; R. J. Keilty, Culloden; J. B. Hanmer, Norwick; Geo. Cooper, Willowdale; R. F. Hicks, Newtonbrook; and F. J. Griffin, Burgessville-all Ontario breeders.

W. S. Moscrip, of Lake Elmo, Minnesota, was judge, and in placing the ribbons he showed a thoroughness which drew the commendation of both the exhibitors and the spectators.

Old "Dutch" Not There.

Considerable disappointment expressed among the breeders when it was learned that Balley's thrice grand champion bull, Lakeview Dutchland Hengerveld 2nd, was not on hand. close contest was expected between him and Haley's Bonerges Hartogy which won second place last year. The latter bull appeared this year in ex-cellent fit and would have given old "Dutch" a hard run for his money; as it was, he won first prize, also be senior and grand championships. The senior and grand championships. The contest was keen for second placing, and was finally won by Prouse's Prince Colantha Abbekerk. It is a noteworthy fact that this bull is the sizeworthy fact that this buil is the sire of the junior champion male, of the first and second prize dry three-year-olds, the first prize dry two-year-old and several other winners.

In the two-year-old class, Marshall won out with a splendid deep-bodied animal with Hulet 2nd, a bull of similar type, but not quite so smooth on top. In senior yearings, Gooderham got first on a big growthy fellow. The next two classes were both strong, but in the junior calves came the outstanding buil of the whole ex-This was Sir Francy Nether land Sir Abbekerk. Some thought that land Sir Abbekerk. Some thought that this fellow should have won over Haley's mature bull for grand cham-pionship. He won the junior cham-pionship, but the judge quite rightly gave the preference to the mature bull when it came to the grand championship.

Females.

If the males were an unusually fine lot the females were, if anything, even better. On many occasions during the judging Mr. Moscrip made the remark that it was an eye opener to him to see such uniform quality from the winners of championship Friesian World and Farm and Dairy Questioned as to how the exhibit compared with the big fairs across the line, he said "no doubt our out standing winners are better individuals but it is this remarkable uniformity which runs right through whole classes that surprises me There were only a few easy winners and to endeavor to enumerate in detail the strong points of all the good ones would be impossible.

The mature cows brought out if matrons, any one of which, at first sight, might be picked for a winner. Upon closer scrutiny the concensus of opinion was that first place would go to Haley's Aaggie Toitilla, with Dyment's Beauty Pietertie Mech-thilde, or Hulet's Pauline Colanta Posch, following close. In fact the representatives of the Hottels-Friesian world and Farm and Dairy took photos of this cow before she was miked expecting her to wh.

milked and viewed them with empty udders, however, he shoved Dyment's cow to the top with Hulet's second and Haley's third. All three are grand cows. Dyment's cow freshen-ed just the previous day and was it the very best of show condition. Commenting on her Mr. Moscrip said that she was one of the finest cows he had ever seen and that her shoulder, back and udder would be hard to beat ap-where. She also won the Senior and Grand Championship. Hulet's cow's now 12 years old and naturally as her best, though a grand old cow yel
