The capacity of Canada's mills is 142,642 barrels of flour per day or about 32,000,000 barrels a year.

In 1905-06 Canada exported only 943,777 barrels of flour; in 1918-19 exports amounted to 9,663,657 barrels.

The Flour Milling Industry in Canada

BETWEEN THE MILL-STONES OF CAPITAL AND LABOR

ARE THE PEOPLE, AS A WHOLE, GREATER AND MORE POWERFUL THAN EVEN THE MOST THOROUGHLY ORGANIZED MINORITY ?

WHEN AGGRESSIVENESS ON THE PART OF LABOR, AND RUTHLESSNESS ON THE PART OF CAPITAL, RESULT IN A DEBACLE OF INDUSTRY, THE GREAT MIDDLE CLASS BEAR THE BURDEN.
