

Ecclesiastical Notes

OUR VISITORS.—Rev. William J. Slocum, P.P., of the Immaculate Conception parish, Waterbury, Conn., was one of the welcome members of the American clergy who made a brief visit to Montreal this week. Father Slocum has many friends in this city who hold him in high esteem.

A SILVER JUBILEE.—Rev. J. P. Kiernan, pastor of St. Michael's Church, this city, will celebrate the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood, to-morrow, Rev. Martin Callaghan, P.P., will deliver the sermon on the occasion.

The laity are organizing an entertainment to be held on Monday, at which Father Kiernan will be presented with an address and purse. Father Kiernan is well known in Montreal, and held in the highest esteem by parishioners of all our Irish parishes.

AT ST. SULPICE.—Few changes and few new appointments have been made this year, after the annual retreat, at the Montreal Seminary. But a couple of important transfers took place. Rev. Ferdinand Lelandais, who was Superior of the Montreal College, has been made Superior of the Grand Seminary, and he is replaced in his former position by Rev. Rene Labelle. It is understood the Rev. Abbe Lecocq will remain at the Seminary. It will be remembered that on the death Rev. Abbe Colin, Abbe Lecocq was chosen to succeed him as Superior-General in Canada.

A CARDINAL'S TOMB.—The commemorative Sarcophagus of Cardinal Wiseman and the memorial to Cardinal Newman, which are near each other in Kensal Green cemetery, in northwest London, are to be removed to the new Cathedral at Westminster. Cardinal Wiseman's tomb, which consists almost entirely of alabaster, has suffered considerably from the effects of the weather, the structure of wood and glass built around it affording insufficient protection. It is situated in a very crowded section of the Catholic portion of the cemetery, and its present unsatisfactory condition would seem to be suggestive of neglect. This information which we derive from the English Catholic press is an evidence of how much Catholic England needed a cathedral such as that now at Westminster, an institution wherein, apart from its special purpose of devotion, the great men of the Church could be laid to rest and their memories as well as their monuments preserved.

FATHER LAMOREUX DEAD.—It is always painful to record the death of a priest, and especially a young priest—one who has just entered upon a career of usefulness to humanity and of glory for the Church and the cause of God. This week we have to tell of the death of Rev. J. Emile Lamoureux, curate at St. Vincent de Paul of Montreal, who died on last Sunday night at the Hotel Dieu. He had been attacked a few days earlier with typhoid fever. Some ten years ago he had been ordained to the priesthood, and at the time of his death he had only reached his thirty-ninth year. The deceased had made his classical course in the College of Ste. Marie du Manoir. He was subsequently professor of letters at the College of l'Assomption, and then assistant parish priest at Ste. Elizabeth. Finally he was transferred to St. Vincent de Paul, Montreal. His remains were taken from the Hotel Dieu to the presbytery of his own parish, where it was exposed in the large parlor until the funeral, which last sad duty was performed, amidst a concourse of sorrowing friends, on Thursday morning last. May his priestly soul rest in peace.

ST. PATRICK'S PRESBYTERY.—which has been in the possession of various tradesmen during the vacation, undergoing a thorough renovation, at a cost of nearly $5,000, will be ready for occupation by the pastor and his assistants at the close of next week.

A NEW PARISH.—The non-Catholic press, during the past week, have revamped the old yarn of several years ago, about a new Irish parish north of Sherbrooke street, and published it as a new story.

NEW ASYLUM BUILDING.—Early in September the Trustees of St.

Patrick's Orphan Asylum will hold a meeting when a decision will be reached in regard to the proposed new building for the institution.

ST. BRIDGET'S HOME.—The Pastor and Trustees of this institution are contemplating making certain needed improvements in connection with their building on Lagache street. There is also a likelihood that a proposal will be made to move the establishment to one of the suburban districts in the vicinity of Montreal.

One of the most prominent officials of the Board of Trustees favors the latter idea.

AN OLD RELIC.—The old "St. Patrick's House" in rear of St. Patrick's Orphan Asylum, owing to its present dilapidated condition, will be demolished during the next few days.

A NEW ENTRANCE.—Some time ago the Church-wardens of St. Patrick's discussed the idea of constructing an avenue from Dorchester street, to reach the western entrance of the Church to relieve the crush which is the cause of much inconvenience to parishioners in leaving the sacred edifice after the services.

DEATHS OF THE WEEK

MISS MARY A. DONNELLY.—The funeral of Miss Mary Alice Donnelly, daughter of Mr. Thomas Donnelly, the well known master-carter of McCord street, was held on Monday last to St. Ann's Church and to the Cote des Neiges Cemetery.

Miss Donnelly had entered upon the first decade of a most promising Catholic womanhood, being only 22 years of age at the time of her death; a graduate of St. Ann's and St. Patrick's schools, under the direction of the Congregation de Notre Dame, she had earned for herself the esteem and appreciation of her superiors; in social life of Catholic households she was a great favorite and won the good-will of all with whom she came into contact for her amiability and kindly disposition, and for her courage of convictions in regard to her religion and nationality. Although young in years, she had identified herself with charitable works and matters generally associated with her beloved parish.

A striking evidence of the appreciation of her worth was evidenced in the parish Church during the celebration of the Requiem Mass, which hundreds attended, representative of homes in the grand, old Irish Catholic district of St. Ann's.

Telegrams of sympathy were received by the bereaved parents from New Orleans, Quebec and Toronto, while the room in which the remains were laid during the two days prior to interment bore evidence of many expressions of sympathy of neighbors and friends in Montreal of a spiritual and temporal nature.

Rev. Father Fortier, C.S.S.R., was the celebrant of the Mass, and he was assisted by Rev. Father Killoran, St. Patrick's, as deacon; and Rev. Father McPhail, C.S.S.R., as sub-deacon. Among the members of the clergy present in the sanctuary were noticed: Rev. P. Heffernan, St. Patrick's; Rev. P. McDonald, St. Gabriel's; and also a number of Seminarians of the Grand Seminary.

The residents of St. Ann's followed the remains, in large numbers, to the cemetery, where they witnessed the sad scene of commitment to the grave.

Since the foregoing was written and put in type and just as we were going to press, the daughter of one of our most valued and most esteemed subscribers handed in for publication the following touching tribute to the memory of Miss Donnelly and sympathy with the grief-stricken parents.

The writer was a companion of the deceased, and out of respect for the motives which prompted her to write an appreciation of the worth of her late friend, and the sentiment of Christian charity which it contains, we add it to our notice. Our young contributor writes:—

"The Angel of Death visited the home of Mr. Thos. Donnelly on Sunday, Aug. 16th, and took to her reward his eldest daughter, Mary Alice (Mamie), one of the most popular young ladies of St. Ann's parish.

During the course of her illness, which was of a protracted nature, she evinced marked patience and resignation. Her early death has rendered her home desolate; and the hearts of those who loved her have been crushed by the weight of the heavy blow. She was a general favorite among a widespread circle of friends, who flocked in large numbers to pay a last tribute to her memory.

Heartfelt sympathy is extended to her grief-stricken family, with a prayer, that God in His own good time may remove the burden of sorrow with which He has chosen to afflict them. To Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly the words of the poet may afford a spark of consolation:

"She is not dead—the child of our affection,—
But gone unto that school
Where she no longer needs our poor protection,
And Christ Himself doth rule."

MRS. GEORGE SINGLETON.—It was with intense sorrow that the news of the death of Mrs. George Singleton was received by her many friends throughout the city Saturday.

Mrs. Singleton had been ailing for several months, but few thought the end was so near at hands. She bore her painful illness with true Christian piety, and when the eternal summons came it found her fortified by the sacraments of Holy Church and perfectly resigned to the will of the Most High. She went forth to receive the reward that must come to the "good and faithful servant."

During her lifetime Mrs. Singleton took an active part in all that pertained to the welfare of St. Mary's Church, being connected with the different societies of the parish, she always lent her aid to every charitable purpose and will be mourned by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from her late residence on Monday, Aug. 17th, to St. Mary's Church, where a High Mass of Requiem was chanted by Rev. R. E. Callahan, assisted by Rev. Mr. Polan as deacon, and Rev. Francis Singleton, son of the deceased, as sub-deacon. Among the clergymen in the sanctuary were: Very Rev. Father Lecocq, Superior of St. Sulpice; Rev. P. J. Brady, P.P., and Rev. Father Cullinan, St. Mary's; Rev. M. L. Shea, and Rev. T. Heffernan, P.P., Anthony's; Rev. J. P. Kiernan, P.P., and Rev. Father Fahey, St. Michael's; Rev. J. McCarthy, and Rev. F. Malone, Loyola College, and Rev. Father Choquet, of St. Bridget's.

After the funeral service the cortege proceeded to the Catholic cemetery, followed by a long concourse of friends. Mrs. Singleton is survived by her husband and three children, Frank, who is a student at the Grand Seminary, and Charles and Elizabeth.—R.I.P.

MRS. T. FINNIGAN.—The death of Mrs. T. Finnigan, wife of Mr. T. Finnigan, 24 Mansfield street, this city, is announced. Mrs. Finnigan died on the 18th inst., at the residence of her nephew in the neighboring Republic, where she had gone, some weeks ago, in the hope of benefiting her health which had been very poor for several months prior to her departure. Deceased was associated with the League of the Sacred Heart and the Holy Family Confraternity of St. Patrick's parish, of which she was a most exemplary member. Her sister, who predeceased her was a member of the Congregation de Notre Dame, and bore the name in religion of Sister Fabiola. The remains were brought to Montreal by her family and interred in the family plot at Cote des Neiges Cemetery. Mrs. Finnigan leaves a husband, three sons and one daughter to mourn her loss.—R.I.P.

Catholic
Discuss
Public
Questions

The second annual of the Catholic Young Men was held at Hull, Eng. The "Catholic Times," devotes a page to the proceedings which include practical interest. At High Mass at St. Charles several prelates assisted. Gates took up the work. A paper on "Baneful" by Abbot Smith, dwelt on the importance of cultivating Catholic taste. Such said, can only be acquired by reading about and thinking making one's own the Catholic literature; and as a taste requires guidance, beginning so a sound Catholic requires for its beginning a like guidance. In many parishes it can be but there are places not which the guidance will cause it comes from the Catholic layman. And as I do, I say that there of usefulness for our education laymen which, I have to say, very many lect. All honor to those who give themselves quiet good work, who bring fluence and their knowledge cultivated taste to the joy those who have not enjoyed advantages as themselves.

On the "Catholic Press" Gilbert Higgins, says that it is clear that the writing only that portion of which is represented by. After pointing out and the undeniable fact that reading is almost the only through which men take ledge to-day, the writer poses the question whether this confined to the daily, the non-Catholic press, was building up a man's spirituality and contained the necessary for the life of a soldier. This question was in the negative. The hundreds to be found mixed with much that is good, and well written in the non-Catholic press were brought under of the conference.

And first of all Canon Gignès delivered a strong blow from the shoulder the vile and poisonous served up even by respectable daily paper especially by several lies, in the shape of court reports, these containing details more and noxious than could be found in a score of novels. The publication of this kind of news was a peculiar disgrace of the British press; the intention of such deadly literature into Christian where it would fall the eyes of children crime against one's country's religion and one's Such newspapers did devil's work and sapped innocence of Catholic youth and maidens.

The Catholic young men of Britain should take note of the Catholic Young Men of Hull. Even when confined themselves to news occurrences, the daily paper productive of much harm did not remain within their "There is," said the lecturer under the sun which not find ventilation in the literature and science, politics and the momentous concerning land and labor, intricate problems of moral philosophy, dogma, the Creeds Holy Bible itself—all are a contribution and made to contribute some spicy tit-bit, telling graph, lively letters, or a leader. Now, with all the command of a well-endowed
