Maple Syrup Next Winter.

It would be a treat, wouldn't it?

To carry the deliciousness of Maple Syrup into next winter's pancake time would be worth while, wouldn't it?

Quite an easy thing to do.

Here's how:

Boil the syrup a little. Not too much. Two or three minutes will do. Then put it into jars while hot.

A hint. The better the syrup is this spring the better it will be next winter.

The richer and freer it is from sap the less boiling it will take and the cheaper it will be.

Ours is the real thing. No impurities. Not a speck in a hundred gallons.

Price $1.25 per imperial gallon.
