SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson IV.—First Quarter, For Jan. 28, 1917.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, John II, 13-22 Memory Verses, 15, 16—Golden Text Matt. xxi, 13—Commentary, Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

As in our last lesson, our thoughts were carried back to Jacob's dream and that which it pointed onward to, so in this marriage at Cana, where He wrought His first miracle and manifested forth His glory (chapter II, 11), we are taken back to the first marriage in Eden and onward to the marriage of the Lamb (Rev. xix, 6, 9), after which will come the kingdom, when He will drink again the fruit of the vine and others shall eat and drink at His table in His kingdom (Luke xxii, 18, 30). If these earthen vessels of ours, these mortal bodies, were as full of the water of the word as the vessels at the marriage were full of literal water up to the brim, He could easily change the water to wine and we would be filled with the Spirit and with joy and peace in believing, and perhaps be counted drunken, as the disciples were at Pentecost (I Cor. vi, 7, Col. iii, 10; Rom. xii, 13; Acts 19-15). As this marriage was at Cana and that was Nathaniel's home (I, 41, 42), if it is of interest to you to think of this as being the marriage of Nathaniel you are at liberty to do so until you can see him and ask him about it.

But is the Lord Jesus and not Nathaniel in whom we are especially interested. Let us not forget Mary's word to the servants, "Whatever He saith unto you, do it" (verse 5). After a brief stay of a few days at Capernaum with His mother and His brethren and His disciples we next find Him at Jerusalem at Passover time (verses 12, 13). We think of the first Passover to which He went with His mother and Joseph when He was twelve years old, and when, after three days' search for Him they found Him in the temple, and when they asked Him why He had so dealt with them He replied, "Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?" or, as in the revised version, "in my Father's house" (Luke II, 42-51). We now find Him again in the temple and again He calls it "My Father's house" (verses 16-17). In verses 18-22 He speaks of His own body as the Temple, for both the tabernacle and the temple were typical of Him as the true tabernacle and temple, in whom God dwelt (Heb. viii, 2). When God gave Moses instructions to build the tabernacle in the wilderness He said, "Let them make me a sanctuary that I may dwell among them" (Ex. xxv, 8).

"The temple was for the same purpose that God might dwell in the midst of His people—Israel; an house for the name of the Lord God of Israel that all the people of the earth might know that the Lord is God and that there is none else (I Kings viii, 20, 60). The body prepared in the womb of Mary was for the same purpose, as it is written, "A body hast thou prepared me" (Heb. x, 5). As we had it in a recent lesson, "The word was made flesh," "God manifest in the flesh" (John I, 14; I Tim. iii, 16). Every redeemed person is now a temple or mansion, in which the Father, Son and Spirit come to dwell (I Cor. vi, 19, 20; John xiv, 17, 23), and all the redeemed are living stones built upon the foundation of Jesus Christ, the chief corner stone, in whom all the building, fitly framed together, groweth unto an holy temple in the Lord, an habitation of God through the Spirit (Eph. ii, 19-22; I Pet. ii, 4, 5).

"The tabernacle and the temple might be desecrated and defiled, and they were, the individual believer also and the whole company of believers called the church may be defiled, but He who was the true tabernacle and temple, was never defiled by a sinful thought or word or act; He was without sin. He knew no sin, He did no sin. He was the Lamb of God without blemish and without spot. Therefore He could as see our sins by dying in our stead. "His own self bare our sins in His own body on the tree" (I Pet. ii, 24). It is His own death and resurrection which He refers to in verses 18-22. They asked Him for a sign, and He told them that this would be the sign, just as at a later date He spoke of Jonah's experience as typical of His death and resurrection (Matt. xii, 38-40). In connection with the temple as a type of Himself it is most interesting and suggestive to note that in the thirty-fourth year after its completion it was desecrated and plundered by the king of Egypt (I Kings, vi, 37, 38; xiv, 25). It was probably in His thirty-fourth year that He was crucified.

As to His cleansing the temple, He did it again at the end of His ministry, as recorded in Matt. xxi, 12, 13, when He told them that they had made His house a den of thieves instead of a house of prayer. May He cleanse us from all that hinders and make us as individual believers, all prayer. I like to think of His two dwelling places, heaven and the lowly heart of every penitent sinner (Isa. lvii, 15), and here is another answer to the question in last week's lesson, "Master, where dwellest thou?" The last two verses of our lesson chapter tell us that He did not believe in all who said they believed in Him. He knew them that were His. The word translated "commit unto" in verse 24 is the same word translated "believed" in verse 23. He considers our hearts and sees whether we are real and true or merely professors. Words only amount to nothing (I John II, 4).

The Schubert Choir meets again tonight and are doing good work for their concert on 22nd February.
