A Bowl of Soup and a Slice of Bread

How many of us grumble at the burden of planning three meals a day, day after day? How much more simple it is in Belgium, where most of the inhabitants stand in line for a few hours to get a bowl of soup and a slice of bread—the entire day's ration.

Imagine any little child you know trying to grow on such a pitance! Naturally the poor little Belgian children are breaking down. Tuberculosis, rickets and kindred ills are the common lot. As far as funds will permit these children are taken to Holland to recuperate under proper feeding and care. But funds are so low they cannot be kept longer than 6 weeks, and more than 15,000 children are waiting for this much. Generous contributions (marked for the Belgian Children's Health Fund) will enable the Dutch authorities, who have replaced the American Committee, to carry on this vital work successfully.

Then the orphans! Think of the thousands whose fathers have fallen in battle, are still fighting, or have been taken into German bondage. Living in the midst of plenty, will you deny these orphans must be fed and clothed and educated? Yet this work, too, must depend largely on charity. Mark your contributions for the Belgian Orphans' Fund.

As you plan your own meals, remember Belgium's "Bowl of Soup and a Slice of Bread" and HELP until you feel the pinch. It's a debt we owe to Belgium.

Your contribution will go entire through the Belgian Minister of the Interior (in Le Havre, France) to Dutch authorities, who administer the relief work under the approval of the British and Dutch Governments, and Mr. Hoover's Committee.

What will you do for the war of Belgium?

BELGIAN RELIEF FUND
Ontario Branch, 80 King St. West, Toronto.
J. W. Woods, Esq., Chairman of the Advisory Board.
Mrs. Arthur Pepper, Chairman of the Committee.
Send contributions to Miss Isabelle L. George, Hon. Treas., or to Local Committee.

Make cheques payable to Belgian Relief Fund.
Don't forget Mrs. Agnes Adamson's Canal Boat Fund for work among Belgian refugees behind the allied lines in Flanders.

CANADIANS GIVE STERLING SERVICE

Efforts of Troops From the Dominion Not Confined to Lens Fighting

By Courier-Express Wire

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 22.—The following article contributed by Rowland Hill from war correspondents headquarters in France, is issued by the Military department:

"Canada's part in the war is not confined by any means to the splendid troops under General Currie, now beleaguering Lens. There are scores of officers and men in various imperial services fitting effectively into the British machine. In scores of places one would never suspect there are Canadian battalions—their numbers now are legion—which in the aggregate easily make up a large force. Smart young Canadians are naval officers in every port that feeds the front, keeping to the traditions of the British navy. Then too, there are the flying men, in both services their range perhaps the greatest of all, some time eyes of the grand fleet itself, and on this western front a majority in many squadrons.

"To-day the colonel of Canadian railroads invited me to accompany him to an exhibition he was giving to French, Belgian and British engineers. He walked along a new main military line built with rails from Canada's government railways. The ties had been cut in a miniature Canadian saw mill not many miles south in woods when the Kaiser's shills roamed early in the war. Out in the large yard there was a big steam shovel eating away the side of the hill, filling a truck a minute—the Belgian officer timed the great engine—to go forward on the light railway crews, Canadians there too, were ballasting new lines. Fritz's airmen spotted it one day and for weeks afterwards his artillery searched them, wasting hundreds of rounds of ammunition. The Germans thought it was some new machine of construction. It used to work on a Canadian Pacific grade in Northern Ontario.

"When the Huns broke back along the coast, they left various bits of tangled machinery. The Canadian colonel gathered these up, commandeered a big railway truck and built a track along in his own blacksmith's shop.

"At railroad there is a young Canadian railway transport officer who used to be train dispatcher at a little place on the Erie. In the next yard another officer (in Canada he was general manager of a great electric railway company) is quartermaster for railway stores.

"The dockmaster at the great port away back, was in the stevedoring business on the Pacific coast. Under his command were more transporters and cranes than Vancouver and Victoria combined will ever see for years. In the dock was a tramp straight from his home on the Pacific coast.

"A colonel from Nova Scotia with his labor battalion, men from all parts of the Dominion who knew the job, trebled the port in the next rail. At another dock, I found a colonel, an Ontario member of parliament, handling a brigade of Chinese coolies piling lumber, and even the native interpreter claimed Canadian association—with saw mills on Fabre Creek."

IN-DOOR WORK BEST FOR CITY-T.B'S

General Exodus of Tuberculous Soldiers to the Farms Opposed

Contrary to the general belief that salvation for the soldier who returns from the front tuberculous lies only in outdoor work, the medical officers of the Military Hospitals Commission western sanatoria in conference at Ottawa, declared themselves convinced that the man fared best in the majority of cases who returned to his old work when the disease had been arrested.

Life on a farm or ranch in the prairie provinces, they believe, is much too strenuous for a man released from a sanatorium. The work is too heavy, and sanitation on a farm is often far from good.

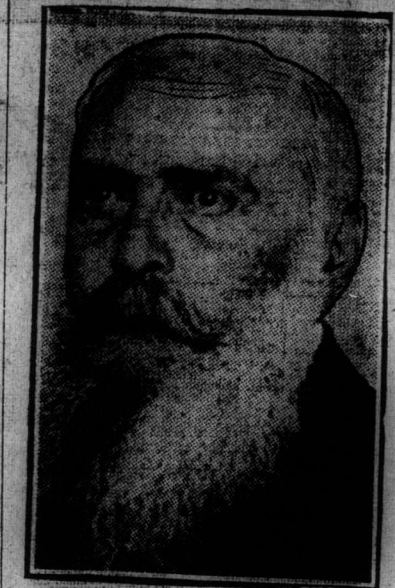

To return to his old occupation, they believe, is the best course, provided it is not a factory filled with dust, or a place obviously unfit for him to stay. In this way his previous knowledge is utilized and he stands a much better chance of making a good living than he would in some new work.

No Specified Exercises
The question of exercise in the sanatoria for T. B. patients was also discussed by the meeting, and the conclusion reached that the matter had better be left to the M. O.'s individually, each man to be treated as he saw fit.

Provision for the care of non-tuberculous pulmonary cases, it was suggested should be made in the established sanatoria until special country convalescent homes can be established for such cases. Outdoor treatment facilities are necessary for these men.

The M. O.'s recommended that underprivileged medicals in the sanatoria be sought to help in the various lines.

LABOR MEMBER NOT YET ELECTED

When Mr. A. K. McLean Joins Cabinet Only One Portfolio Vacant

SENATE VACANCIES
Sir Robert Borden Will Hold Series of Meetings in Eastern Provinces

Ottawa, Oct. 23.—Hon. A. K. MacLean is expected to become a member of the Borden Government to-day. He will not be assigned a particular department for some time, but will become chairman of one of the important Cabinet committees forecasted in the Prime Minister's manifesto. It is probable that Mr. MacLean will head the committee which will consider the domestic problems arising out of the war.

With the inclusion of Mr. MacLean, territorial and party representation in the Cabinet will have been completed, and there remains but the labor representation to provide. Senator Robertson represents the railway unions, and the Department of Labor will probably be given to a representative from the other classes of labor. There is a possibility that there may not be a change in this department until after the elections.

While the Government has decided to hold the election before Christmas, there has been no official announcement of the date of nomination. It is believed, however, that December 17th will be election day, with nomination 28 days previous. Sir Robert Borden has made no definite plans for the campaign, but will hold a series of meetings in Eastern Canada, and will probably visit the four Western provinces.

It is understood that a number of Senatorial appointments were made to-day. The vacancies are ten in number, nine in the West and one in Ontario. Among the probable appointments in the West are Dr. Schaffner and George Bradbury, members of the late parliament, for Manitoba and Ontario, and W. B. Wouloughby and B. Michener, Opposition leaders in Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons, before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath, or dull your head, no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well known physician.

To keep the poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will water your insides and freshen the fire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your pharmacist. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins, also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons begin this treatment, and above all keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

RING OF DOOR BELL FRIGHTENED HER

Mrs. Pittman Was So Nervous She Walked Floor Nights, for Hours

"I was actually on the verge of a nervous breakdown when I started on Tanlac, and it has not only restored my health but has added ten pounds to my weight," declared Mrs. John Pittman, wife of an employee of the Hobbs Manufacturing Co., Ltd. and living at 143 Bruce St., London, the other day.

"My health began to fall seven years ago," she continued, "and I suffered terribly from nervous indigestion. For over a year I could hardly retain anything I ate and most of the time lived on a diet of milk and eggs; anything else nauseated me so I couldn't keep it down, and I was slowly starving to death. My nerves were in such a wretched state that whenever the door bell rang it frightened me so I had it removed, and many a night I was so unstrung that I would walk the floor till my feet ached. I got worse in spite of everything and became too weak to do a thing about the house, and I got to the point where I didn't know which way to turn.

"By the time I had used up half my first bottle of Tanlac, I felt so much better that I threw away all the other medicines I had in the house. I have stuck to Tanlac ever since, and my appetite has improved, so I can eat most anything I want—meats and pastry and all sorts I had to shun, and I am taking on flesh right along. My nerves are quiet again, I sleep like a baby and get up in the morning fresh and strong and able to do all my household work. I am feeling better than I have in years and am so grateful for what Tanlac has done for me that I feel it my duty to tell everybody about it."

Tanlac is sold in Brantford by Milton H. Robertson and Co., Ltd., in Paris by Apps Limited, and in Mt. Vernon by A. Voemans and in Middleport by William Peddie.

Music and Drama

With a rollicking, beauty chorus good comedians, lively dancing, the Boulevard Belles are presenting an attractive miniature musical comedy at the Rex theatre for the first part of the week, under the caption, Senator Goldberg. The story is light and entertaining and develops many complications when the husband and wife taking the advice of their servants, endeavour to discover whether the fires of love still burn brightly in the home. Will Pearson the Celestial comedian, and Harry Preston, the company's tenor are the leading laugh provokers, and were well supported in their efforts to amuse large audiences yesterday afternoon and evening.

A thrilling inside story of the underworld portraying in vivid detail the lives of its denizens, "The Bitter Truth," featuring Virginia Pearson, the picture is presented in six reels, and in one of the best that has been shown to Brantford. The picture is in the Fox film comedy are the other numbers of an excellent programme.

THE BRANT.
Wallace Reid, second perhaps to none upon the screen in popularity or ability, is seen at the Rex theatre this week, in his latest Lasky production, "The Hostage," powerful war drama of tense interest throughout. With the entry of the U. S. into the war, an influx of war pictures upon the screen may be expected, but unless of sterling calibre, few will surpass in point of interest or of dramatic opportunity, "The Hostage." "Oh, Doctor," is the latest fun making vehicle Fatty, allis Roscoe, Arbuckle, and the obese comedian has never excelled

CUBAN WOOD FOR SPAIN
Havana, Oct. 23.—(Associated Press)—The fuel shortage in Spain, brought about by the restrictions on coal exportation imposed by the United States and Allied governments which formerly supplied that country's demands, has opened up a new industry for Cuba the export of wood for fuel purposes to the Spanish peninsula.

Recently a small sailing vessel was purchased by Spanish interests and is being overhauled preparatory to being placed in this new export trade, while efforts are being made to obtain other vessels for the same purpose.

The V

By H. A.

It was enough for him to see her covertly and to picture her delights of the moment when he would have himself. The fever in Ralph's unknown to him, was making her journey was enough to set beating fast.

As they were making a dash for the door, every one else cupied at the moment, Ralph suddenly found her at his elbow, smiling.

"You sleep with the meek-bunk-house to-night. I am sleep here."

"I won't leave you alone began hastily. 'Last night she calmly interrupted. 'I don't stay here truly.'"

"Soon as everybody got I went camp at Hat Lake. It is you come over there early, it get light. The tote road you the way."

Some one turned in their sleep and she was gone.

Ralph was, as a matter invited to sup with Mixer and to spend the night in his house. After having turned Joe and the others he was in the middle of the night, the fat man came in himself with muttered curses across the room.

When daylight whitened down pines he awoke auto which is to say at three June at that latitude. There were sleeping like vocal over the threshold of the sleeping-place morning was for him, a miracle of the world. He inhaled its chill swirl if his lungs were for the washed with fresh air about him with the curious traveller who has arrived dark.

Where he stood, men's made a house of little prospect, and he turned him the shackles and the stump at the unalterable river. In light the browned and opposite had a secret look on the lips that flushed making any noise. It seemed early morning of earth. Dressing, and taking his blankets, he started to climb light heart. Was he not here?

"This is where the fun gins," he told himself. The rose in plain view behind the Half-way up the incline Ralph started to come upon the youth squatting beside the still as an image—so still it was upon him before he realized it was a part of the landscape. It was a surprising object in a world that you were in all your own.

The boy was gaily attired in embroidered velvet waistcoat, gingham shirt, a red sash, trousers and fancy moccasins. On his head was an expat hat with flaring, stiff brim, a handsome, well-cut about nineteen, with a face of expression as a cat's. A pack lay on the ground near "Hello, there!" cried Ralph, surprised.

The Indian rose and, wading a muscle of his robe extended a hand. "How?" "You're up early," said "What are you doing here?"

He pulled his ear and, head to convey to Ralph speech was wasted on him, mistakable signs he then known that he was Ralph, and that Ralph was him.

"Waiting for me?" said
