OBITUARY

INFANT WINDREM.
The death occurred in the Brantford General Hospital yesterday of the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Windrem. The funeral took place to Greenwood Cemetery yesterday afternoon.

ANDREW DAY.
The death occurred in St. Joseph's hospital, Chatham, Ont., on Tuesday evening, August 16th, of Andrew Day, a well known barber of that city. Death followed a severe illness of about two weeks duration with typhoid fever.

The late Mr. Day was 53 years and one month old. He was born near Brantford, and was at one time employed in the barber shop of Henry Buterworth of Brantford, leaving for Chatham twenty-four years ago, where he had since conducted a very successful business on the market square.

In 1882 he married Margaret Josephine McQuillan, daughter of the late Richard McQuillan, who leaves him. Besides his widow he leaves one daughter, Gertrude, at home, and one son, Arthur, who has been overseas with the Canadian Engineers for nearly three years, and who is now in England recovering from wounds. Three brothers, Silvanus, of Brantford, Charles of Booktown, Austin, of Indian Head, and one sister, Mrs. Alex. Lundy of Brantford, also survive.

The funeral took place Friday morning from the family residence 320 King street, Chatham, to St. Joseph's church. Services were conducted by Rev. Father Prosper, O.F.M., following which the remains were laid at rest in St. Anthony's cemetery.

The rains of recent days, together with good weather, has had a very beneficial effect on the crops in all districts. Harvest will be general next week, the reports indicate. The scarcity of labor is emphasized in a number of reports as well as slight frost damage.

Five-Year-Old Edna Fletcher Succumbed to Painful Injuries

Edna, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fletcher, 7 Huron street, died in the hospital this morning, succumbing to injuries received when she was badly burned while playing near a bon-fire yesterday afternoon.

The fire in question was in the rear of an Erie avenue store, where some old papers were being burned and the little tot ventured too near. With the result that the flames caught her clothing. By the time her screams attracted helpers, the child had been terribly burned about the body. Dr. Robinson was summoned, and the little girl was conveyed to the hospital. Her injuries, however, proved fatal. Mr. Fletcher, who is an employee of the Massey-Harris factory, and Mrs. Fletcher, have the sympathy of their many friends in their sad bereavement.

PRESENT POINT NOT FINAL STAGE

Composition of Imperial War Cabinet Yet to Undergo Changes
By Courier Leased Wire
London, Aug. 20.—(Canadian Press despatch from Reuters' Limited).—It is quite certain that the point now arrived at in the new arrangements just made public for the representation of the Dominions on the Imperial War Council is not a final stage in the unity of the empire, says the Daily Telegraph. Concluding the paper says: "It is simply a point to which the governments concerned have felt their way, keeping their feet on firm ground, testing every vista in advance. The provision for direct communication between the prime ministers of the Dominions and our own abolishes the necessity of such communications taking place through the medium of the colonial office, and we think it is desirable, having regard to some communications which have already been made, to point out that this involves no disparagement of the actions of that department, and certainly no criticism of its work."

The Right Hon. Walter Long, the present colonial secretary. The matter is rather one of dominion prestige, for it has been pointed out that in London, ought not to be in any less intimate relations with them when they are at home. There is no diminution of the responsibilities of the secretary of state and functions hitherto performed by the governor-general and colonial office are not affected. The Morning Post says that a misapprehension has arisen in some quarters about the official announcement that the prime ministers of the dominions have the right to communicate direct with the prime minister of the United Kingdom. While the overseas premier have been here The Post points out, Mr. Lloyd George has presided at their regular meetings, whereas important decisions have been taken on matters relating to the war. The policy of direct communication continues this arrangement on a permanent footing so as this is possible after the dominions' statesmen have left the country.

DATES UNSETTLED.
By Courier Leased Wire
Toronto, Aug. 20.—There is little likelihood that the proposed games between the athletes of St. Catharines and Ottawa N.L.A. champions will be played on the dates suggested. The C.L.A. championship is a long way from being settled. The Athletics to be considered and if it is decided in their favor they will be on even terms with the Athletics. The Maitland have been strengthened and by winning all their remaining games can tie the leaders. President Currie of the C.L.A. said this morning that the Athletics were decidedly premature in arranging games with Ottawa. It is the opinion here that the Leaside Indians are a better team than the Fitzgibbon Falls combination.

TRUE SITUATION IS HIDDEN FROM GERMAN PEOPLE

Teuton Press Belittles the Number of Americans in France

By Courier Leased Wire
Amsterdam, Aug. 20.—Professional soldiers like Generals von Blume and von Liebert, unlike so many other German war writers, do not seek to belittle the significance of the appearance of the American army on the west front.

General von Blume, who is on the retired list, writes an article on the subject, which appears in the Rheinische Westfälische Zeitung. He frankly admits that we have to recognize that the Americans, all in all, have done very smart work, and it would be a very serious thing if the German army command had to face an American fighting army of millions.

This prospect the German public must not on account be permitted to ponder over, and almost immediately after the article appeared a semi-official statement was issued to the effect that the "exaggerated reports" going about regarding the size of the American army in Europe merit no credence, and only exist in the Yankee imagination and Entente propaganda.

The statement said further that "the tonnage question, which is already acute, will become more serious for the Entente when America has to ship her crops to Europe."

General von Liebert, who was a former German commandant at Lodz and who is now military critic of The Tagliche Rundschau of Berlin tells the public that the American army has actually become a big factor, and the disembarkations in France are proceeding regularly.

General von Liebert laments the "moral perversion" which brought the Americans to the front and says: "The French and British owe their recent successes to their transatlantic ally, without whom their offensive would have been doomed to disappointment."

Along the western bank of the Oise and south of Noyon the French have taken Pimpre and reached Droseloucourt, to the north-west of the river toward Soissons. General Mangin has captured more high ground and has taken Morsan, and has brought his total of prisoners to 2,200. In this operation the French not only menace the security of Noyon, but relieve the pressure against Soissons. From the heights around Morsan, they can bombard the German battery positions north of Soissons which have been harassed by the occupants of that city. If Marshal Foch can succeed in pinching off Noyon and advancing northward, he virtually will compel the retreat of the French toward Arras and will hasten if not force, a German retreat to the north of the Oise and the Oise which might have been expected from the appointment of General von Boehn, who conducted the retreat from the Marne, to the supreme command in that area. Berlin says that Monday allied thrusts west of Chaumes and north of Roye failed, while the French were repulsed in a vigorous battle from the Oise and the Aisne. London reports the checking of German efforts between Hurleyville and Libons, west of Chaumes.

In the operations around Merville the British have taken more prisoners in addition to the 675 captured in the successful storming of the Outtersteun ridge. The British forward movements in the Lys salient are not very threatening to the strong German positions on the hills north and northwest of Armentieres, but if they can be continued westward the high ground from Mont Kemmel eastward will be outflanked.
