

STORAGE RATE
REDUCEDC.P.R. Grants Request of Grain Growers' Association to Reduce Rates at Terminal Elevators

Winnipeg, Aug. 24th.—The announcement was made yesterday by F. W. Peters, assistant freight traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific, that a change would be made this fall in the charges made by the company in connection with the storage of wheat in the elevators at Fort William.

The request for the change was made by the Grain Growers' association and after full consideration the officials of the company have decided that the request of the association should be granted.

Up to the present time shippers who desired grain stored in the elevators at Fort William were required to pay three-quarters of a cent per bushel for the first term, and three-quarters of a cent per bushel for the second term of thirty days or for any portion of this term. It was to the last clause of the agreement that exception was taken by members of the Grain Growers' association. Under this clause a shipper who had grain in store for a single day after the first term had expired was called on to pay the second charge of three-quarters of a cent per bushel. It was felt that there was some injustice in this charge, and the request was made by the Grain Growers' association that, instead of calling on the shipper to pay three-quarters of a cent per bushel as storage charges for a period of thirty days or any portion thereof, the company should levy a per diem charge for the second term.

The company have recognized the justice of this request and in future shippers of grain will be called on to pay three-quarters of a cent per bushel as storage charges for the first period, but after the expiration of that time they will pay one-thirtieth of a cent per bushel per day.

The proposed change meets with full approval of the Grain Growers' association, and will result in a considerable saving to many of the independent shippers and farmers of the west who ship their own grain.

Similar changes in the storage rates will be made by the four big companies which operate terminal elevators at the lake ports.

Notification of the change in the rate for the storage of grain will be at once given to the warehouse commissioner, and all the wheat of the present season will be stored under the new schedule.

I will mail you free, to prove merit, samples of my Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and my book on either Dyspepsia, The Heart, or The Kidneys. Troubles of the stomach, heart or kidneys, are merely symptoms of a deeper ailment. Don't make the common error of treating the symptoms only. Symptom treatment is treating the results of your ailment, and not the cause. Weak stomach nerves—the inside nerves—means stomach weakness, always. And the heart and kidneys as well, have their controlling or inside nerves. Weaken these nerves, and you inevitably have weak vital organs. Here is where Dr. Shoop's restorative has made its fame. No other remedy even claims to treat the inside nerves. Also, for bloating, biliousness, bad breath or complexion, use Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Write me today for samples and free book. Dr. Shoop, Racine, Wis. The Restorative is sold by the Regina Pharmacy Stores.

CROPS ARE

Says Wm. White of C.P.R.
Who Has Made a Tour
Through Three Provinces

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—Last evening after an absence of three weeks, spent in a trip of inspection over the western lines William White, second vice president of the C.P.R., returned to Winnipeg.

One of the prime objects of the trip was to look into the accommodation afforded tourists at the company's hotels throughout the west, and in regard to this Mr. White said that it did not matter how efficient the train service was, or how grand the scenery might be, they were bound to complain unless their bodily comforts were properly looked after in the hotels along the route, and that all other efforts were wasted if the accommodations at the hotels was not all that it should be.

"I have visited all our hotels," said Mr. White, "with the idea of seeing what improvement could be made in the service, for during the past season our tourist traffic has been so heavy that at times we were unable to look after all the business given us. There will probably be considerable alteration and improvement made at one or two points."

While in the west Mr. White made it a point to look into the problem of coal supply for the coming winter, and stated his opinion that the situation had been greatly improved. Good progress had been made in getting out coal, both for commercial purposes and for the company, and their should be no cause for anxiety if the proper precautions were taken. One phase of the situation that would help very materially was the fact that a number of consumers had become convinced of the advisability of getting in supplies early in the season.

"I so arranged my trip," said Mr. White, "so that I could return by daylight through the spring wheat country. I was anxious to note the advance that had taken place since I had looked it over on the way out. I was afraid that the cold weather we encountered at Banff would do considerable damage, and while in some localities the weather had been too wet, and too heavy for proper growth, this is not true of the majority of districts. We have passed in comparative safety and can now depend on two or three weeks of fine weather. Two weeks will put the greater part of the crop out of harm's way, while all the grain will be fit for harvesting inside three weeks."

DIDN'T HURT
FORESTERS

The Insurance Commission Was Benefit to Order—Object to Get After Foster Says
Chief Ranger

Midland, Aug. 23.—At the session of the high court of the Independent Order of Foresters yesterday the Supreme Chief Ranger, Hon. E. G. Stevenson, successor to the late Dr. Oronhyatekha made some very pertinent comments on the finding of the insurance commission last year.

The supreme chief ranger on rising to address the court, received a great ovation. He referred with evident emotion to the lamented death of the late chief Oronhyatekha, which led him unwillingly to assume the duties of his present office. He paid a high tribute to Oronhyatekha whose estate, he said, when he died, did not amount to more than $5,000, although he had handled millions of the societies money.

During the year there had been a royal commission, and though he had some complaints to make regarding their findings, he was glad that there had been such a commission, and glad that it had devoted so much attention to this society. No matter what their motives or aims were, he was glad all the facts were brought out, for the order had been strengthened thereby. He complained that the commission in its report accused the order of initiating refreshments in expenditure only on account of the pressure of the insurance department, whereas he had placed in their hands telegrams and letters showing that he had urged the reforms upon the superintendent of insurance.

"The commission accused the executive of doing nothing practical in the way of economy, whereas a reduction of $114,000 in expenditure had been effected in nine months. It sent its actuaries and clerks to our head office, and spent months examining documents, mortgages, etc., and what did they find? They found that Hon. G. E. Foster had done some things, that, according to them, he should not have done, and apparently that is what they were looking for."

"In 1905, before there was any thought of a royal commission, the supreme court had taken steps to stop the land and timber transactions of the Union Trust company, and had decided to stop it, and yet the royal commission takes credit for forcing us to stop it. The royal commission finds fault with us because we retain control of the stock of the Union Trust. What would you think of us if we gave control of the stock to the purchasers before they had paid for it in full? I think the contention of the royal commission in this respect is the most asinine proposition I ever heard."

"There are other findings of the commission which can justly be found fault with, as much for what they do not say as what they do say, but notwithstanding this I am glad that they have done their work so thoroughly, for apart from the funds of the Union Trust Co. they were not able to put their finger on a single item of our assets with which they could find fault."

He touched upon the contention of the commission that the rates should be raised on old members, and asked the high court to appoint a representative to meet with other representatives from other high courts to consider this question.

capable opposition. May I be permitted to pass on that patriotic aspiration to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, or some of his lieutenants, for I do not expect to lead an opposition after the next general election. The country has had eleven years of Liberal rule and is tired of it. No government in Canada ever had so splendid an opportunity as that which is now in power, and no government has ever failed more signally in its duty. Even its most partisan supporters have become weary of voting to condone scandal, to deny investigation, to conceal the trial of the grafter.

A Patriotic Appeal.

Shall our advent to power mean no more than a mere party triumph? Are the experiences of the past ten years to be repeated in all their degrading details of broken pledges, opportunistic policy, indecent public appointments and robbery of the public assets. Those who know me best are aware how little I have desired a public career; and if I thought such an outcome possible, I would turn with unhesitating aversion from the task before me. Victory must mean for us more than party triumph. The power to control the destinies of this great country in a most interesting and important period of its history should be received with a solemn and abiding sense of responsibility. In the Commons of Canada today there are Conservatives, good men and true, who at my urgent request have entered and continued in public life at a sacrifice of their personal interest and inclinations. These men were impelled by the duty of public service, a duty too lightly regarded by the representative men of Canada. Let the people send to our aid at the next election a reinforcement of sixty men, the best that Canada can produce, pledged to stand for a progressive policy, to maintain the rights of the people, to uphold honest government and no other, to enforce decency in public life. In return you have my pledge that any administration that I am called upon to form shall be so constituted that it will not be unworthy of the great country which it is to serve.

FIGHT OVER FISHERIES

Attorney general Bowser of British Columbia has been appointed minister of fisheries. It is a new office and is likely to precipitate a fight in the courts between the provincial and the Dominion authorities on the question of the right to control the coast fisheries, which the Hon. Mr. Bowser has already expressed on the island, inspecting the outfit of companies operating under a Dominion license.

TWO MORE ESCAPE

Two more convicts have escaped from the guards at New Westminster penitentiary. They broke away from the gag quarrying prison stone, escaping in the prison launch, thereby cutting off all means of pursuit.

The prisoners were Tom Brewer, of Vernon, serving four years for theft; and Louis Kelly from Quesnelle, for robbery.

FIRST HARVESTERS

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—The first batch of harvesters arrived on Saturday, the train being in three sections, the last arriving late in the night. In all some thousand "huskies" mostly from Nova Scotia reached the city for work on farms of the west. Of this number some eleven hundred scattered for parts in the west, and today less than a thousand are in the city. Those who proceeded west travelled along the main line of the Canadian Pacific railway.

DOUGS ARRESTED

Kenora, Ont., Aug. 23.—The Doukhobor travellers, who have been sojourning in the neighborhood of Kenora for a few days started towards the east a few days ago. The party got as far as Margach, about twenty miles east, when they were all arrested for marching on the C.P.R. tracks. The whole number were returned to Kenora this evening in a freight car in which they are domiciled for the night, and they will appear in the morning before Judge Moore.

The leader of the band has unaccountably disappeared, and it is thought that with him went all the funds of the Doukhobors.

HOMESTEAD RETURNS

For the six months of the present calendar year ending June there were 14,154 homestead entries reported to the Department of the Interior, as compared with 24,098 for the first six months of last year, a decrease of 4,944. The decrease is largely accounted for by the unfavorable weather of March and April last and the poor transportation facilities in the west during the winter and early spring.

WAGES ARE ON THE RISE

Upward Tendency During Present
Quarter of Year—More Money, Less Hours

The Ottawa department of labor has prepared a valuable statistical table of changes in rates of wages and hours of labor reported throughout Canada as having gone into effect during the present quarter of the calendar year, including April, May and June. The upward tendency in wages has been more pronounced during the present spring season than during the corresponding period of any previous year, of which a statistical record has been kept in Canada with the single exception of 1903, when the number of increases was greater, although the number of employees affected was not so large as in the second quarter of this year.

The changes reported during April, May and June last were 117 in number. Of these 104 were in the nature of increases in wages and two were in the nature of decreases in hours. In the remaining eleven cases the changes involved both an increase in wages and a decrease in hours.

The increase granted to the maintenance of way employees of the C.P.R., C.N.R. and G.P.R. systems alone affected over 14,000 men. In textile establishments approximately nine thousand employees and in the building trades approximately seven thousand employees received increases. In the mining industry in British Columbia and Alberta increases were granted affecting over four thousand coal miners, while in the lumbering industry in Ontario and the eastern provinces over ten thousand river driver and mill men obtained advances.

An Orphan, without Home or Means.

Dr. A. E. HANNA, PERTH: I have a patient here, a young fellow in whom I am greatly interested. He has tuberculosis. He is a poor young fellow, an orphan, out of home, without any means. If I sent him up would you take him in and do the best you can for him? I know how difficult it is to accommodate all who require treatment, but this is a special case.
