Impressive Testimony of Sir Victor Horsley and Others.

An Evolution of Knowledge Rather Than a Mere Change of Opinion—Surgeons and Doctors Have Alike Found That Its Use Is Detrimental to Patients—Medical Profession as an Agent in Reform.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Addresses from two of the most eminent men in attendance at the British Medical Association were the leading features in yesterday's proceedings. Sir James Barr delivered his address in the section of medicine on "The Circulation Viewed From the Periphery," and Sir Victor Horsley in the surgery section spoke "On the Technique of Operations on the Central Nervous System." The sectional work of the day was of great interest, including papers from Prof. Chittenden on his proteid experiments; Dr. Barker's essay "Amino Acids and Metabolism"; Dr. Blackadder's contribution on "Rheumatism in Children"; papers on cancer research by Dr. E. F. Basiford, London; Prof. Gaylord, Buffalo; Dr. Clowes, Buffalo; Prof. Gayler, New York, while the state medicine section afforded a valuable discussion on water and milk supplies.

The senate of the Toronto University has determined to confer the degree of LL.D. honoris causa on thirteen members of the association.

MEDICAL VIEW CHANGES.

Value of Alcohol as a Drug Practically Nil.

Yesterday's work of the British Association had no more interesting feature than the Dominion Alliance luncheon in the gymnasium at 1 o'clock. The temperance question has, of course, long passed the fad stage, but yesterday's proceedings placed the authoritative stamp of medical science upon the movement. Sir Victor Horsley, F.R.S., surgeon of University College Hospital, London; Prof. G. Sims Woodhead, professor of pathology, Cambridge University, and Dr. Murdoch Cameron, professor of medicine at Glasgow University, to mention no others, were sufficient by their presence to indicate this.

Sir Victor was received with prolonged applause by the crowded audience. Canadians were probably aware of the attitude of his countrymen. The French-speaking practitioners had recently passed a strong resolution, and the profession as a whole had indicated a hostile rather than a friendly attitude towards the drug called alcohol. He was there to give them some views of the views of B. M. A. formed a majority. Years ago the association had urged the Government to take more active steps to advance temperance in the nation, and on the whole, the profession in England was hostile to alcohol. A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicine is a valuable agent in the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties for all ailments, being a demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchitis, throat and lung affections, for all which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities. In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, and general debility, the use of this medicine, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and aids the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It is in the lingering, chronic coughs, bronchitis and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. For and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. This medicine contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English. Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence to be sent in strictly private and securely confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 31 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

I was run down in flesh, lost strength, my appetite failed, my color was pallid. Weary and cast down, it seemed I couldn't catch up. Ferrozone started a new kind of life in my blood, built me up, vitalized and strengthened my nerves, and finally cured my heart and stomach pains." SYMBOLIZES OUR LOYALTY.

Brilliant Plate Presentation Ceremony On Board Battleship Dominion.

Quebec, Aug. 23.—Representatives were in attendance here from most cities in Canada at the presentation ceremony on board H. M. S. Dominion of the plate symbolic of the expression of the popular sentiment of the Canadian people, their loyalty to the Empire, and their appreciation of the compliment paid Canada by the Admiralty in naming one of the newest and most powerful battleships after this Dominion.

The battleship was gallily bedecked in red and white bunting, flags, etc. The two French cruisers now in this harbor also honored the occasion by flying the British ensign. His Excellency the Governor-General, Lady Grey, Lord Howick, Lieut. Governor Jettie, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Right Hon. Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, C. M. G., British ambassador at Washington; Mayor Garnier, the French admiral, members of the committees of Toronto, Montreal and Halifax, etc., were on board from 1 p. m. when they partook of luncheon, and when the hour for the presentation arrived, the vessel was crowded.

The Ontario flag which is chiefly responsible for the Canadian trophy, was represented by J. K. Osborne, Lieut.-Col. J. J. Davidson and W. B. McMurrich, K. C. The treasurer, D. R. Wilkie, and secretary, Capt. Des Voeux, were unable to get here, as was also Lieut.-Governor Clarke of Ontario.

Acting Mayor Johnson of Halifax presented a silver punch bowl from the citizens of Halifax.

The trophies presented by the Governor-General consist of a silver shield, a massive silver cup, and a silver vase. The total amount of each subscription had been limited to 25 cents.

His Excellency made a fitting speech in making the presentation, and called on J. Kerr Osborne to read the presentation speech, which the latter did.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said jokingly that he was a man of peace, strong on railways and waterways, etc., but not on battleships. He alluded eloquently to the entireties of his country which existed now between France and England and said that the presence of the French admiral was evident and living proof of this good understanding.

A grand concert by the sailors of the Dominion, assisted by the band of the French flag ship, was given.

SAN LUIS CAPTURED.

Cuban Insurgents, After Sharp Engagement, Get Important Base.

Havana, Aug. 23.—The insurgents in the Province of Pinar del Rio captured the first city there yesterday.

At 9 o'clock yesterday morning the forces led by Pino Guerra, who is an ex-congressman and an influential man, and who was thought to be many miles eastward, and sundry other insurgent bands attacked San Luis, which is situated on the railroad, about 10 miles west of Pinar del Rio.

A sharp and decisive engagement followed, during which a number of men were killed or wounded. The town was defended by less than one hundred rural guards, fifty of whom surrendered to the insurgents and are now held as prisoners.

The insurgent forces are now in possession of the railroad station and of the town, which is resuming its normal condition.

In the capture of San Luis, which has about 10,000 inhabitants, the insurgents have obtained an important base for their operations.

Luis Perez, the last Liberal governor of the Province of Pinar del Rio, has joined the insurgent forces in that province.

Practically all the inhabitants of the Town of Aguacate, who are the majority of the town, have joined the insurgents against the Government.

Reverse For the Rebels.

A telegram to the Government late last night stated that Major Laurent, with his detachment of rural guards, fought in its favor. "But the rebels were really due to the great man to whom we owe everything—Lord Lister." (Applause.)

Antiseptic surgery had rendered alcohol unnecessary. Hancock, a great chieftain, had not used alcohol for seven years.

Social Reformers.

Sir Victor concluded with a word on the social side of the question. "Personally I believe the medical profession to be the great social reformer of every nation. They are the real witnesses of social life," he said. One Friday night in England they had issued a form of petition asking the Government to have compulsory teaching of hygiene in schools.

On the Monday there were 5,000 replies from the doctors to which they had been sent, and 15,000 in a few days. The feeling was overwhelming strong, and produced a marked effect upon the Government. England was lagging behind the colonies in this respect, but he hoped she would gain fresh wind and cut a respectable figure in the race.

"If conditions are to be improved it will be by the authority and agency of the medical profession," he concluded.

Prof. Sims Woodhead, Cambridge, said that although not so potent, "perhaps as in surgery, there had been an equally strong change in medical views. Men who had held to alcohol as a sheet-anchor in febrile and other cases, now considered it exercised a bad effect on the resisting power of the patient."

Jail Sentence For Doctor.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—A sentence of seven days in jail was yesterday imposed by Magistrate Denison on Dr. Charles W. Wilson of Montreal, a member of the British Medical Association. He was arrested on the complaint of A. T. Severance of New York, who said that the night before the doctor in the hotel corridor put his arms around his daughter and kissed her. He saw the outrageous affair. Wilson told

SAILOR KILLS PRIEST'S NIECE.

Cuts Throat, Robs House and Flees While Victim's Uncle Is Away.

St. John, N. B., Aug. 23.—News was received yesterday of a terrible murder at New Ireland, a remote village of Albert County. The victim was Miss Mary McCaulay, about 45 years of age, niece and housekeeper to Rev. Father McCaulay, parish priest.

Father McCaulay had given a home to Thomas Collins, a sailor, who appeared in the village three days ago. On Sunday, while the priest was away, Collins borrowed a razor from a neighbor and cut her throat from ear to ear, threw her body in a wood shed, robbed the house of considerable money and fled.

Father McCaulay did not return until Tuesday. Collins is believed to be making his way to the States, and may be captured, but that is doubtful. There was no attempt at assault.

Bail For Mrs. Miller.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Mrs. William Miller, who was committed for trial by Magistrate Kingsford, on the charge of selling medicines to Mrs. Agnes Brindant, which caused her death, was yesterday admitted to bail. Mrs. Miller furnished $2,500, and Henry Bedell became security for a like amount.

Letter Carrier Trapped.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—Pierre Comeau, a Montreal letter carrier, suspected of stealing money from letters, was trapped yesterday by means of decoy letters.

Must Stand Trial.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—George Finlayson of Montreal must stand trial before a jury on a charge of assaulting Charlie Querrie of the Tecumseh during the civic holiday game. Querrie on the stand yesterday said the blow had knocked his teeth out. He did not know how many stitches were required to sew up his injured scalp, nor did he know who struck him. Thomas Carless, manager of the Montreal lacrosse team, furnished bail in $200.

Berlin Wins.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Berlin can go on with its plans for the expropriation on Sept. 6 of the Berlin Waterworks Electric Railway. Justice MacMahon, who heard argument of counsel on a technicality as to jurisdiction, yesterday announced his decision in favor of Berlin. The railway is to pay the costs of the application to the Town of Berlin.

The Insurance Enquiry.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—The Insurance Commission will resume at Toronto Sept. 6. A ten days' session will likely be held, followed by a similar sitting in Montreal, after which the closing sitting will be held in Ottawa. The report will be ready for the autumn session of the Commons.

The Working-Man.

To the hard-working man health means everything. In the light of what Bu-Ju is doing for hard workers, Bu-Ju means everything. Arthur Owen, of Simcoe, Ontario, says:

"I have been greatly benefited by Bu-Ju. When I began, my back was very lame—my heart working badly. My work was very trying—but the lameness decreased—on the second or third day I could work as hard as I wished."

LONDON'S PARKS.

$228,000 Expended Annually In Looking After the Big City's Parks and Gardens—Showy Effects.

The lungs of London are controlled in part by the County Council and in part by the Office of Works. In the last official year Spring Gardens was responsible for 103 open spaces, having a total extent of nearly 5,000 acres, and a permanent outdoor staff of 900 men. Upon this department the annual expenditure has reached about £128,000, and since the County Council was formed, fifteen years ago, it has spent rather more than a million sterling upon this public service. In addition to this there is the city's contribution of £100,000 a year towards the maintenance of Epping Forest, Burnham Beeches, and elsewhere. It will thus be seen that the maintenance of London's open spaces means an aggregate expense every year of at least a quarter of a million, while employment is given to nearly three thousand men.

Some of the showiest effects are produced at a trifling cost. Thus the London County Council spends £500 on bulbs, and for the sum obtains no fewer than 320,000 spring flowers. The bulbs are delivered by the contractors at the end of September, and the task of planting them is at once proceeded with. They represent 155 varieties, of which one-half comprise hyacinths, tulips, crocuses, and the seedlings and cuttings are carefully tended during the winter months, in readiness for bedding out in the spring.

The days when the geranium and the calceolaria represented the extent of the imagination of the public gardeners are over, and an enormous variety of plants is now raised, with the result that London's gardens may compare with any in Europe. For many a year the wonderful show seen along Park Lane and round the Serpentine has been raised to a large extent under the shadow of Kensington Palace. In the greenhouses, of which the chief was planned out by Sir Christopher Wren. But Lord Windsor is now spending £12,000 upon new frame grounds near the Magazine, where the coaching clubs meet in the season.

An interesting feature of the Kensington frame-ground is the hospital. In the early winter this is crowded with bananas, plantains, palm-trees, fan palms, and other sub-tropical plants, which, in the early summer, are brought out into the open and give distinction to certain corners of Hyde Park, or to the forecourt of the National Gallery.

Another important department consists of the conveniences for boating. Since the beginning of the century the London County Council have taken over this section from the contractors, and have made an additional profit of £500 a year, although they have reduced the hourly charge to the nimble skippers, and have put a couple of motor boats into commission, with a charge of a penny for each voyage. That much has been done to the undertaking in repainting and re-painting the row-boats will be understood when it is added that in Finsbury Park and Victoria Park alone more than £200 is spent upon this service during the winter.

The care of the waterfowl also occupies the attention of special keepers, and is paid for that duty. The breeding grounds have to be made ready, the due proportion of widgeon and cormorants, swans, and crested grebe, is maintained by a system of exchange and purchase, and the ducklings receive special attention during first weeks of the result being that the lake life of the parks is brought up to a pitch of perfection.

Many scores of attendants devote themselves to the task of preparing the cricket pitches, which naturally require a good deal of attention after the hard work of the football season. This is another story; suffice it to say that Spring Gardens provides more than 300 reserved pitches, upon which 14,000 matches are played during the summer.

Still another branch of activity comprises the arrangements for the bands of music, which cost the London Council upwards of £10,000 every season. The first duty of the musical director as the spring comes round is to listen to the bands who offer themselves to emulate the work of the Council's own bands. The selected ones must submit their repertoires, to his experienced judgment, and the program for each of the 1,200 performers has to pass the scrutiny of the authorities before it is printed.

WOODEN CHECKS.

Tallies Were Used in England Until the Year 1834.

Wooden checks are the sort of thing one would expect to find used in China or Tibet, but, as a matter of fact, they were used in England from the earliest times down to as late as 1834.

Tallies, as they were called, were made out of a curved piece of hazel, notches being cut along the edges to stand for a certain sum of money. The tally was then sawed half through below the lowest notch and the notched part split into two pieces, on both of which the notches appeared.

These pieces served as check and counterfoil, the latter being always the larger piece with the unnotched end as a kind of handle. The smaller piece was then taken by the payee, the larger sent to the person on whom the check was drawn, generally a collector of customs or other revenues, public or private. He would honor the check on finding that the two pieces fitted and had the amount credited to him by the drawer on returning them together to him. Thus were the great danger and expense of transporting large sums of coin avoided.

Forgery of a tally was obviously impossible unless a new counterfoil could be substituted, and if stolen in the ordinary way it would be of little use to the thief, for, unlike our checks, there was nothing to show on whom it was drawn.

There are still a good many tallies in existence, but the majority were burned in the great fire which destroyed the old houses of parliament. The remainder are chiefly to be found in the public record office and no doubt also in the muniment rooms of great landowners.

THE DIVINE NAME.

Ineffable Word That Is Never Used by Many Israelites.

An eminent rabbi has given his view of the ancient Jewish rendering of the name of the Deity. He says that the term "Jehovah," the ineffable tetragrammaton, is never pronounced by many Israelites. They use the word "Adonai," which signifies "the Lord." The translators of the Bible followed this custom, rendering the word "Jehovah" as "Lord." In ancient times the Pharisees replaced the tetragrammaton by Shem. They used "Shemo," which is also Biblical, as the sacred name, and this name is yet retained to some extent among the Jews. But it would appear from passages in the Psalms that Adonai, or Lord, for Jehovah was more ancient even than the times of the Pharisees. It thus occurs eight times in Psalm lxxxix. It also appears in the book of Exodus, where "Jehovah" had been used in the original Hebrew. This substitution would seem to be older than any other, and it is yet common among all Jews.

The rabbi says he has found that the ancient translations testify in favor of "Adonai." Looking at the English translation of the Old Testament, it will be found that the name Jehovah appears in the books of Genesis, Exodus, Judges, the Psalms and Isaiah. It is not in the New Testament.

Drowning Season Lessons.

The drowning season is now in full swing. In every paper one picks up, can be found pitiful stories of accidents to pleasure-seekers. Boys go out in sailing boats; they have not the slightest knowledge of the art of sailing. Many of them cannot swim. Of course, in case of an accident few of them manage to come home alive. There is one lesson to be learned,—don't go sailing until you can sail a boat. Even if you can sail a boat, it is reckless unless you can swim. Very often, of course, an athlete who can swim perfectly well is taken with cramps and loses his life, as easily as if he had no knowledge of the art of swimming whatever.

A sad accident happened recently when young Twombly of a very well-known Boston family, lost his life in New York, says The Montreal Standard, in illustration of the question discussed. His elders had done their full duty to him; he was both an athlete and a good swimmer. But even good swimmers should not presume upon their knowledge. It is said that he had a cramp. Death from cramps very often means death from heart disease, or death from going into deadly peril in over-confidence.

There are several great truths to be remembered at this season of the year and here are some of them: Learn to swim, teach your children to swim, above all, teach them caution, ing chances with any of the nature. Be bold, boys, bold.
