DOMINION THEATRE

When Hart made his whirlwind trip across the continent recently, and faced crowds in nearly four hundred theatres, incessant inquiries were made by enthusiastic fans about Fritz, who is almost as well known as the great delineator of Western characters himself. With some professionals, this might have led to a rupture of hitherto amicable relations. Few actors like to see a rival edging into the spotlight. But Bill, on his return to the ranch, not only greeted his old horse cordially, but in appreciation of his past loyal and conscientious work, vowed that in his next picture he would allow Fritz a role that would really stand out.

His "next picture" is "The Narrow Trail," the first release on Artcraft program, and in it Fritz gives the star a close run for honors. In fact, the story is so written that most of the scenes are built around the Pinto, and he is right on the job at every climax.

A second furnace was blown in at the Canada Copper smelter on Friday last.

The Union Mine, Franklin camp, has discontinued ore shipments until spring.

The Herald is putting up a Victory Loan Bond, value $50.00 for competition among its Subscribers and Customers. Every person paying 50 cents to The Herald between now and the 31st of January, 1918 has an equal chance of getting this Victory Bond. The conditions are very simple.

There is a jar of beans in The Herald window, and with every payment of 50 cents to The Herald a ticket is given, entitling the person making this payment to make an estimate of the number of beans in the jar. The estimated number is written on the ticket, together with the name and address of the estimator, and the ticket deposited in a sealed box in The Herald office.

The person who estimates the correct number of beans, or the nearest correct number, gets the Victory Bond. In case of a tie another contest will decide.
