BROTHERHOOD SOCIAL NIGHT.

On Thursday night the first meeting of the social department of the Brotherhood of Audrew and Philip of James Street Eaptist Church was held in the schoolroom. A very enjoyable evening was spent, thanks to Mr. McGhee, of Spencer Case & Co., druggists, who gave a practical talk on the methods of mixing medicines which, he illustrated with some very interesting experiments. The meeting was a great success. Thursday, Dec. 12th, is to be a social evening. All young men are cordially invited.

On Monday evening, Mrs. Gordon Henderson and her Guild of workers gave a very pleasant social at the north end branch. A number of girls were present who greatly enjoyed the programme of piano and vocal solos and games and recitations were also given by members of the branch association. Refreshments were than served.

Last night the social committee of the association entertained the members of the classes and members of the Y. M. C. A. Several entertaining games were played. After refreshments, solos were given by Misse Williamson and recitations by Misses Carroll and McPherson, solos by members of the Y. M. C. A. added greatly to the evening's enjoyment. The ladies who had the evening in charge were Miss Duffield, who was abily assisted by Misses McPherson, Carroll. Hall. Potts and Butterworth.

The girls in the gymnasium classes have entered upon a contest for new members. The new term begins on Tueday, Jany, 7th.

Miss Horsburgh will give the bible reading on Sundry at 4.15.

Such is the Expectation for This Afternoon- Townships Will Have to Maintain Their Police.

The members of the County Council spent this morning in going over the own line road that was put in shape by ex-Councillor Ray, at a cost of $1,200 or thereabouts. It is quite likely that there will be a hot time this afternoon, when the members return from their trip and give their opinion on the mater. Some of the members are quite indignant over the alleged excessive charges, and intend asking Mr. Ray for a very close account of the money ex-pended on the road. Yesterday afternoon's session was an Yesterday afternoon's session was an important one, and the councillors got through a bunch of business.

The question of more police protection was again thrashed out, and the Council decided that each municipality should pay for the maintenance of the police for its own township. The Council had the Sheriff and Chief Twiss explain the workings of the police in the county, and after a lengthy debate it was thought that the constables should have their expenses paid. At present the constables have to make an arrest before they can get any money, and for that reason many of the constables who have other work to do, do not feel inclined to spend time for which they may clined to spend time for which they may not get any money.
